TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

REPORTABLE DISEASES

During the year 1960 two hundred thirty eight reports were received by the Board of Health for communicable diseases and other conditions that are reportable in accordance with the General Laws, as follows: Meningitis 2; Chicken pox 29; Dog bite 147; German measles 6; Measles 24; Mumps 16; Scarlet fever 10; Tuberculosis 4.

CLINICAL PROGRAMS

Five poliomyelitis inoculation clinics were held during the year under the sponsorship of the local physicians with the assistance and cooperation of the Board of Health. A total of 6356 townspeople were inoculated during the operation of these clinics many of them receiving their initial doses. A great percentage attending the July and August clinics received their fourth or more inoculations. Health Department employees, volunteer nurses and clerical workers aided at the clinics in their various capacities.

A Diabetes Detection Clinic was held April 4 thru 9 inclusive sponsored by the Junior Ladies' Library Association and the Corkin Brothers, who donated the building that houses the Health Center to the Town. A total of 1548 persons were processed at the clinic, 20 positive cases of diabetes were detected of which 18 were previously unknown. Health Department personnel, a volunteer nurse, volunteer clerical personnel, members of the Junior Ladies' Library Association and the members of the Board of Health worked at the clinic.

On the four Monday evenings in June a Glaucoma Detection Clinic was held under the sponsorship of the Lions Club of Randolph-Holbrook. Resident physicians from the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Hospital performed the tests assisted by the nursing staff of the Health Dept., with preliminary testing done by two local optometrists. The Lions Club, Board of Health members, Health Dept., personnel and volunteer workers assisted in clerical duties. 326 persons were tested, 5 cases of glaucoma were found, 4 of which were previously unknown, and 25 suspicious cases were detected.

During the months of October and November the Board of Health, with the assistance of the Tuberculosis Division, Mass. Dept. of Public Health, Norfolk County Tuberculosis and Health Association and the Junior Ladies Library Association members, held a Tuberculosis testing program in the Randolph public schools.

The results of the program are as follows: Grades 1 thru XI were tested; Enrollment 4105; Refused test 563; Absent for test 71; Tested 3571; Positive reactors 20; Negative 3546; Not read 5; Percent tested 87%; Percent positive 1/2 %; Number x-rayed (Reactors and their families) 93; Pulmonary Tuberculosis inactive found 2; Other chest conditions found 3. The success of this program was due in a large measure to the excellent cooperation we received from the School Department personnel and particularly the three school nurses.

In May an Industrial Tuberculosis X-Ray Program was held at Chase and Sons, 88 were x-rayed; 1 tuberculosis inactive and 1 tuberculosis questionably active were found. X-rays were taken by the Norfolk County Tuberculosis Hospital personnel.

Influenza vaccine inoculations were given to all town employees who desired them during November and December and 110 employees received the inoculations.

Approximately 300 children in Grade 1 received diphtheria-tetanus and poliomyelitis inoculations in a continuing program in the public schools.

Summaring the various clinics held during the year it should be of interest that because the Board of Health enjoys a good relationship with the local physicians, other persons and organizations dedicated to aiding their fellow man we were able to obtain their sponsorship for these undertakings. For this reason the expenses borne by the town were minimal yet the clinics as a total sum cost in the thousands of dollars. The townspeople were provided with clinics and services by their Board of Health that other communities were without and did so at a great savings financially. It is also of interest to note that in the tuberculosis testing in the schools the percentage found positive is 1 1/2% below that normally found in the average healthy community. We believe this due in great measure to the continuous program in effect for the past several years in the interest of preventing tuberculosis, in addition to other communicable diseases, by early detection, treatment, determination of the source, positive action taken in regard to the source and follow-up of all cases.

PREMATURE INFANT PROGRAM

The Board of Health received reports of 21 live premature births during the year. A total of $206.00 was paid for financial aid for two of these cases. The Health Dept. nurses care and parental instructions in these premature cases.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING PROGRAM

Three registered nurses, Miss Beatrice V. Scannell, Mrs. Janet B. Dimmick and Mrs. Mary P. Bonney, continue to do the public health and vising nurse work for the Town.

This year because of the accelerated health program the nurses spent a considerable number of man-hours above normal duty hours working in the clinics held in the Health Center and high school. At the Diabetic Detection Clinic they took the blood samples, at the Glaucoma Clinic they placed the anesthetic eye drops in the patient's eyes, at the Polio and Influenza Clinics they set-up for the clinic and assisted the physicians in administering the inoculations.

The well-child conference is held once monthly at the Ladies Library Building. The Ladies Library Association do the clerical and preliminary work before the nurses and the physicians takes over. At these clinics the children receive diphtheria-pertussis-tetanus immunizations and poliomyelitis inoculations in addition to general physician examinations.

As in the past, tuberculosis patients, contacts and suspects are followed closely and advised as to care and treatment necessary.

Home visits, including bedside nursing, are still a large part of the activity, and, as each visit is a teaching visit, we continue to stress preventive medicine as well as care.

Visits before and after the birth of a baby are made and instruction given. These visits include the care and well being of pre-school children as well as the infant. In all cases of prematurity, which are reported to the Board of Health, a home evaluation visit is made prior to the baby's arrival home in order to assure proper facilities and care for the infant.

More patients are taking advatage of treatment in the Health Center rather than home visits because of the convenience and privacy afforded thereat.

The nursing staff received the full cooperation of our physicians and act only on the instructions of the physician in the treatment and care of the patient.

The nurses continue to attend classes, conferences and seminars in order to keep current with the new techniques and modern trend of medical care and the prevention of disease.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

Nuisance complaints of a wide variety were investigated during the year. Malfunctioning sewage disposal systems, insect and rodent problems and illegal dumping were the major causes for complaints.

A great deal of time was spent investigating rubbish collection problems and related complaints.

The program to eliminate buildings that are unfit for human habitation, abandoned or unused buildings and the remains of buildings was continued with the cooperation of the Fire Chief. It is believed that the returns of this program are already being enjoyed by the townspeople in those areas where eradication of buildings was effected.

With the increase in building in the town it was necessary for the Health Agent to devote many man-hours to the running of percolation and soil tests prior to approval of building sites.

A new three year contract for the collection and disposal of garbage beginning April 1, 1961 was awarded to the present contractor the Ridge Hill Disposal Company by the Town Manager on the recommendation of the Board of Health. The awardee submitted the lowest bid of the four bids received.

ANIMAL AND SLAUGHTER

Mr. Cornelius J. Crowley, Animal and Slaughter Inspector reports for the year 1960 that there were 147 dogs quarantined; two cows had to be disposed of after discovering they were tuberculosis reactors. All barns in Randolph were inspected. At the present time there are 58 cows; 24 horses and 2 sheep. Three dogs heads were sent to Wasserman State Laboratory. Three cows were quarantined for tuberculosis. Brucellosis test was given and there were no reactors (this test was made in December 1960.) Four hundred and ten calls were investigated during the year from calls received from the Board of Health. Police Department and the Division of Livestock Disease Control of Massachusetts. There were no cases of encephalitis in the town.

PLUMBING INSPECTIONS

Mr. Thomas O'Riley, Plumbing Inspector, retired in July after twenty-five years as inspector and Mr. John O'Riley was appointed as Plumbing Inspector. One hundred thirty-eight licenses were issued, including 405 toilets, 239 sinks, 375 wash-bowls, 208 bath tubs, 9 shower baths, 128 wash trays, 34 urinals, 147 pressure boilers, 32 washing machines, 2 dishwashers, 7 auto-matic gas heaters, 1 refrigerator connection, 1 laundry tray, 14 floor drains, 10 slop sinks, 15 drinking fountains, 3 roof leaders. 1 auto-matic heater and 3 electric storage tanks. The sum of $1853.00 was collected and turned over to the Town Treasurer.

Mr. O'Riley wishes to advise the townspeople that the plumbing regulations are being brought up to date in conjunction with the Building By Laws Committee.

MILK INSPECTOR

The milk inspection program is performed by Henry Merrill, Milk Inspector.

Milk licenses issued were 41--$20.50; Oleo licenses 42--$21.00; Pasteurization licenses issued 1--$10.00; Vehicle licenses 22--$11.00. Total $62.50.

MOSQUITO CONTROL

The following work was performed by the Norfolk County Mosquito Control Project:

Aerial spraying 1705 acres; ground spraying 703 1/2 acres; pre-hatch dusting 12 acres; drainage 1770 feet; clearing of brush 830 feet; culverts cleaned 10; catch basins treated 891.

FOOD SANITATION

Visual inspection of food serving establishments and stores were made throughout the year. It is gratifying to see the constant improvement in facilities and practices and to receive the cooperation of the persons engaged in this type business.

In cooperation with the Mass. Dept. of Public Health arrangements are being made to hold courses in food sanitation for the owners and operators of food service establishments in the near future.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Robert A. Corey, chairman, and Joseph W. Curran, secretary of the Board of Health completed a course in June in the Administration of Boards of Health conducted by the Mass. Dept. of Public Health.

Another Glaucoma Clinic is scheduled for early this year under the sponsorship of the Lions Club of Randolph-Holbrook. This fine organization sponsored the previous Glaucoma Clinic and both they and this Board hope that it may become an annual activity.

Plans are also under way for another clinic of the Diabetes Detection type to be co-sponsored by the Junior Ladies Library Association and the Corkin Brothers.

REVENUE PRODUCED BY THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Sewage disposal permits and general licenses - $457.00; Hospital subsidies - $606.79; Plumbing licenses - $1853.00; Milk and Dairy Products - $62.50. Total revenue - $2916.50.

To the Citizens of Randolph,

In accordance with the provisions of Article III of the By-Laws for the government of the Trustees of the Turner Library, this eighty-fifth annual report is submitted to show the condition of the Trust - the library, the building and the funds - for the calendar year 1960 and to mention such other matters concerning the library as may be of general interest.

The year just past saw a continued increase in townspeople's use of the materials and services of the Turner Library. The highlights and details are well covered in the report of the Librarian, Mrs. Lucia S. Faulkner, and that report is appended as a part of this record. However, your attention is called particularly to the circulation figure of virtually 74,000. If we look back no farther than 1957, we find that the number of books and magazines borrowed by patrons for that year was only a little ovee 25,000. Thus, in just three short years, the circulation has tripled. This tremendous increase in business has not only reflected the real need for an up-to-date library service that exists in Randolph, but during the year has brought the Trustees face to face with important problems concerning the number of employees required on the library staff and concerning the adequacy of certain basic facilities of the library.

With respect to employees, it is clear that as the volume of library business increases (as reflected by circulation figures) so also do the miscellaneous requests for staff assistance and so does all the staff work associated with ordering books, preparing them for public use and keeping them clean and good repair. This has been increasingly apparent at Turner Library during the past several months. Only by the devoted efforts of the entire staff has it been possible to meet this increased work load. The Trustees find also that the Turner Library falls too far below professional standards with respect to the number of library employees provided. Not long ago, a professional library consultant advised that good library service calls for at least one full-time employee (not counting those engaged in building maintenance) for every two thousand of population. With Randolph's population currently estimated to be in the vicinity of 20,000 persons, the Trustees feel that the present library staff - totalling the equivalent of something between six and seven full-time employees - needs to be increased. Accordingly, the Trustees have recommended that the salary appropriation be increased sufficiently to permit the employment of at least one additional person as promptly as possible.

Amont the physical facilities required in order to give good grade of library service, two are fundamental: sufficient space and good lighting. With respect to the first of these, the Trustees believe that the second-floor area of approximately 3600 square feet which has served the townspeople for library purposes since the building was presented to the town in 1875, is woefully inadequate today. There often are not enough chairs to accommodate the students and adults using the library in the evening and appropriate space for additional seats is not available. At times the area around the "charge" desk is so crowded with people who are taking out or returning books that passage to and from the main stairway is blocked. The small closed-off area in the northwest corner of the library's main room (where the library's one small washroom is located) serves not only as a place where members of the staff eat their lunch or supper but also as the library's "workroom" - the place where most of the work associated with accessioning new books and repairing old ones is done. This extremely crowded and otherwise unsatisfactory arrangement calls for early correction.

In addition to the shortage of floor space indicated by these and other conditions, the Trustees, both directly and indirectly, have received complaints from townspeople who are unable to make personal use of the Library because of the long flight of stairs that must be climbed to reach the service area. We believe that these complaints are valid and deserving of recognition.

The Trustees have noted also that, as the town grows, and as more and more people become aware of the vital part the Library plays in their and their family's daily life, library business can be expected to increase considerably above that reflected by the 1960 circulation of 74,000 mentioned earlier.

In view of all these factors, the Trustees have voted to terminate by mid-1961 the arrangements by which the town's Welfare Department has occupied most of the south side of the first floor of the Library building. At the same time it was voted to make a request of the town, by means of a special article in the Town Warrant, for funds to renovate these quarters for library purposes. Tentative plans call for cutting a passageway from the front hallway of the building into what is now the office of the Welfare Department and using most of this area for serving the Library's adult patrons. A small room badly needed for the personal use of the Library's employees can be created at the rear. It appears likely that books for all who are of school age - both young adults and juveniles, as well as most of the reference material, would remain on the second floor. The request for funds for the provision of chairs, tables, shelving and other necessary furnishings of the new area are being deferred until 1962 when renovations will have been completed and when we will have a better knowledge of requirements for this area.

The Trustees also recognize that a start must be made to acquire good lighting at the Library. Under present lighting conditions, members of the staff as well as patrons of the Library are continually having difficulty in reading the titles of books on the shelves. Students and others at tables often must read in their own shadows. The fine print of reference material is difficult indeed to read under the present lighting and, after a few moments, according to both patrons and members of the staff, eyestrain is noticeable. Postponed from year to year in the past because of more pressing needs, it now appears that the cost of this work can and should be spread over several years beginning with 1961. Accordingly, the Trustees have included an amount for this purpose in the regular budge. It is proposed to use this money toward the provision of modern fluorescent lighting for the Reference Room - the room in the northeast corner of the second floor.

In addition to caring for several minor repairs on the Library building during 1960, the Trustees also arranged for construction of a new flight of stairs between the second floor and the first floor. These stairs, running inside the west wall of the building and terminating on the first floor beside the door facing the church on the south side, now serve as an important alternate exit in case of emergency and, later, will provide a means of reaching the small room on the first floor that will be set aside for employees' personal use. Also, the work of placing a new linoleum floor covering in the main room of the Library will be completed soon. In all other ways it appears to the Trustees that the building is in satisfactory repair at this time.

The Town appropriation of $25,195 for necessary salaries and for expenses of operating and maintaining the Library during the past year has spent completely - with the exception of 34 cents. The annual report of the Treasurer of the Library is appended as a part of this report and provides a detailed record of the Library's Trust Funds as well as the Library's income and expenditures for the year. For the coming year the Trustees are urging favorable consideration of an increase in operating funds for the Library in order to care for necessary salary increases, for an additional employee on the Library staff (as mentioned earlier), for additional book purchases and for essential repairs and changes in the building.

In this connection, perhaps townspeople should ask themselves first whether the Turner Library is deserving of their financial support. If one thinks of the valuable, unique and fundamentally essential service that a library can bring to a community and if one thinks of the Turner Library's current contribution to Randolph and all of its people in the way of increased hours of service, greater quantities of good books, the helpful, personal quality of its service and its forward-looking plans for the future, the Trustees feel that the only fair answer as to whether the Library is deserving of support is a definite "yes".

The only question then remaining is whether the appropriation as requested, is needed. On this point the Trustees believe that the facts set forth earlier in this report clearly indicate that with a greatly increased work load and with greatly increased needs for library service, the 85-year-old, second-floor quarters have been outgrown and in certain respects outmoded and that steps looking toward early occupancy of a portion of the first floor are not only desirable but necessary at this time.

It is a pleasure indeed for the Trustees once more to record their sincere appreciation of the splendid cooperation of the Library's entire staff. It has been a year of solid accomplishment and Mrs. Faulkner, Librarian, and each of her people deserve much credit for their personal contributions to the continuing success of the Library. The Trustees are grateful also for the very kind assistance of Town Officers and Department Administrators during 1960. We are confident that the year ahead will be another year of real progress toward our Library's service goals.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Turner Free Library

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

1960 has been another good year. There has been a continued strong upswing in circulation of 73,915 books reflected in an increase over the previous year of 13,120. This increase has broken down into one of 4,795 for adult books, 2,361 for young adult books and 5,964 for juvenile books. Naturally we hare heartened to see that daily the Library is realizing more and more of its potential.

In our accession of 2,351 books, we are but skimming the need (see paragraph 5). During 1960 further emphasis was put on strengthening reference material, to the end that both adults and students may find locally the material they need. For example, excellent material has been added on the Elizabethan Era, on the Middle Ages, on holidays, poets, names, geophysics, boilers, clans, furniture, the various sciences, engines, etc. In the "heavy artillery" come the Dictionary of American Biography (10 volumes and supplement); the latest edition of Granger's Index to Poetry; Moulton's 8-volume Library of Literary Criticism; the latest 20-volume World Book to supplement the older editions; and the Encyclopedia of Chemical Technology - a 15-volume (plus supplement) compendium of inexhaustible information on an incredible number of subjects. Certain it is that Randolph residents will enjoy drawing on these ranking reference books, as well as on the steady flow of new fiction and circulating non-fiction.

Perhaps relatively few of our residents realize that Turner Library is fortunate in being able to offer them 51 periodicals for circulation (including three newspapers). These cover the fields of news, sports, science, fashion, the home, the arts, sales, travel, education, aviation, literature and indexes. Recently was initiated the policy of getting current issues of adult magazines to our borrowers more quickly by circulating these formerly non-circulating issues, but on a 7-day basis. Our borrowers have been very articulate in their thanks for this change.

Personnelwise, we very much regretted to lose Mrs. Keough to a position nearer her home. She was a distinct addition to the staff and is much missed. Mrs. Mae Saunders, Mrs. Dorothy Poehlman, Miss Alice Raymond, Mrs. Gertrude Walsh and the Messers Ernest Baker, Lars Skoglund, George Sullivan, John Wallace and William Wilbur remain on our staff, the first two and myself being the only full-time workers.

The Library started its first inventory in the summer of 1960 and covered the entire fiction collection: adult, young adult and juvenile. Each book, excepting of course those in circulation, was examined for fitness and disposed of appropriately. Naturally this entailed an extremely large discard process. A magnificent job of speed-teamwork on the part of the staff, including the ges, made me very proud indeed. 1960 and 1961 will, of course, see the largest number of discards - quite to be expected of a first inventory.

In addition to the garantuan job of inventory, a Summer Reading Club - theme: "The Bookworm" - was held for the children in Grades 4 through 8. Appropriate posters, registration forms, bookmarks and announcements of the program in the schools and newspapers encouraged 104 youngsters to participate. At the end of the summer, at the party given to the 43 eligible to attend, 23 received certificates of award for completion of the 20-book program. In addition to book prizes also awarded, movies were shown and refreshments served.

1,748 Randolph residents registered at the Library in 1960; and together with those of the previous two years, a total of 4,820 people are using the Library, plus a small segment of borrowers whose cards are in use, but need renewing, cards being valid for a period of three years. This segment usually more than offsets the number of people who have moved out of town. We feel this is a fine representation. We know it is catching!

We are enthused over our recent acquisition of two lockable display cases. A whole new field of display possibilities now opens up to us and to our public, many of whom, if town patterns are consistent, will be offering collections for display very shortly. A metal file case, a new small adding machine and two new chairs are other additions which have further expedited the work.

Important - yes, all-important are the needs of the Library for 1961. First and foremost would be a more adequate staff - including the replacement of Mrs. Keough, proper lighting of the Library and first-floor occupancy. Further needs are a standard card catalogue file, an outdoors library sign and a bookmobile or the equivalent thereof.

Perhaps my report would not be complete without word of the joint effort - home style - put into the Library grounds - still so greatly in need of much work and care. Flowers were planted; evergreens trimmed, loam rolled and seeded, in all of which most of us had a hand. If the crabgrass defeated the clover, it certainly won't another year! And if some kind friend should deposit ANOTHER load of loam, great things would come to pass!

Respectfully submitted,

LUCIA S. FAULKNER
Librarian

REPORT OF BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

Signs welcoming industry to Randolph, sponsored by this Commission, the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis Clubs, will soon be erected on the four major entrances to our town.

Although we feel these are important, a more important sign, the attitude of the townspeople in general, and the town meeting members in particular (as shown at the recent special Town Meeting) indicates a genuine desire for industrial development within our town.

The development of an attractive industrial park between Pond Street and Route 128 will make other areas of the town more desirable to industrial development, with the added result of increased business activity.

Participating in this community effort to make Randolph an attractive town for this proposed industrial park were the Town Clerk, the Selectmen, Town Manager, Assessors, Sewer Commission, Water Commission and Industrial Commission. With this kind of effort and cooperation displayed by the above named group, and others, the future of Randolph as a good place to live and work is assured.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK KESPERT, Chairman
HAROLD VROOM, Clerk

REPORT OF THE DOG OFFICER

I assumed the duties of Dog Officer as of June 1, 1960. Since that date, there have been numerous complaints which have been investigated and disposed of. Many stray dogs have been picked up, and lost dogs have been returned to their owners.

We urge all dog owners, for the protection of their pets, to obtain the proper licenses.

Respectfully submitted,

ROGER L. NILES
Dog Officer

	$ 13,086.00 -	261.00

III. Plans are in progress for classes in First-Aid, Civil Defense Police Training, extension of the Communications Section, and the procurement of equipment for Operational readiness and Reserve Stock.

Liaison is maintained with higher echelon for the purpose of expediting establishment of our Civil Defense Headquarters, classrooms and storage space. Also for conversion and installation of a generator in the Town Hall for emergency lighting.

Until the need for a Civil Defense Organization in Randolph is recognized by all our people, we cannot satisfactorily meet an emergency of serious consequences.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF VETERANS SERVICES

The year 1960 was another busy year for this department, with two new Federal Laws on the books known as P.L. 86-211 and 86-633. Had hundreds of applications to process for veterans and their dependents for these new benefits.

Even though we were faced with the Fore River Strike from January to April and processed 139 cases for Veterans Benefits, 13 more than in 1959 we disbursed $49,424.00. With this heavier case load our disbursement was $2,785.10 less than 1959. We returned to the E. and D. Account $5,290.40 of which $3,576.83 was from appropriation of $53,000.00 at the March Town Meeting and $1,713.57 on assignment and lien cases recovered by this office.

The Town of Randolph will be reimbursed 50% of the $49.424.00, disbursed for Veterans Benefits, by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The total turned over to the Town Treasury will be $30,002.00.

As you will note in my report the past two years, this office has been able to save the tax payers thousands of dollars. The reason for this is because of new Federal Laws that we have taken advantage of in processing claims with the Federal Government and the ability of having these claims expedited, also in finding employment for veterans who had filed for Veterans Benefits under Chapter 115.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the splendid cooperation given us by Mr. I. William Trostel, Director of Public Welfare and his staff, the Town Manager, Town Officials and Veterans Organizations for making the year 1960 another successful one.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM S. COLE, Director
Veterans Services

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL PLANNING AND BUILDING COMMITTEE

Your Committee has ernestly and diligently striven to expand the educational facilities needed to adequately house our children. 1960 has been a most fruitful and eventful year in regard to progress made in our School Building System.

Of the original $788,000.00 appropriation for the Lyons School, a balance of $9,265.69 was carried over from 1959 to pay for additional equipment, flags, etc. With all bills paid, there remains $548.78 to be returned to the Town.

In July, 1959, the firm of Stoner Associates of Boston was chosen to draw plans and specifications for an 800 pupil Junior High School, to be constructed on a site on High Street, near Canton Street. The firm of Leonard Rugo, Inc. of Wellesley was awarded the contract as low bidder on April 11, 1960. Ground was broken and work commenced on May 1st. Of the total appropriation of $1,135,000.00, expenditures have totalled, as of the end of 1960, nearly $550,000.00. The building is 52% completed, and both the Architect and the Contractor have assured the Committee that the School will be ready for occupancy by the scheduled date, September 1961.

Stoner Associates also prepared and presented for bid, plans and specifications for the construction of two six classroom additions on the Tower Hill and the McNeil Elementary Schools. Both of these additions are scheduled to be completed by September, 1961.

This Committee has completed preliminary studies and received necessary State approval for a proposed 24 classroom Elementary School, to be erected on Reed Street, near High Street. Many Architects were interviewed in order that we might acquaint ourselves with different designs and applications while keeping a tight reign on prospective costs.

As of December 31, 1960, the Committee retained a balance of $1,694.22, in its working fund.

Because of an increasing awareness of future needs, this Committee has met many times with the School Committee to select sites suitable for future development and growth. We feel it is imperative to provide adequate sites now, rather than to be forced into costly land-taking in a few years.

This Committee looks towards 1961 with enthusiastic optimism to be a most eventful year.

REPORT OF BOARD OF WATER COMMISSIONERS

The seventy-fifth annual report of the Board of Water Commissioners is hereby submitted, covering activities of the Water Department for the year ending December 31, 1960.

Organization of the Board was as follows:

Frederick D. Driscoll	Chairman
Martin E. Young	Clerk
William J. Almond	Associate

During the calendar year 1960, one hundred and seventy eight (178) applications for new services were received. These have been installed and added to the system.

MAINTENANCE DEPARTMENT

Sixty (60) service leaks were repaired - of these twenty eight (28) were broken inside the cellar walls and thirty two (32) in the street. Sixteen (16) of these services were renewed from main to curb stop and six (6) were renewed throughout. Three (3) services were relocated and three (3) others were lowered to new grade, to maintain sufficient cover. Six (6) frozen services were thawed out by electricity and six (6) additional services were rodded out and cleaned. Eleven (11) service boxes, found broken, were replaced.

In conjunction with the new Clover-leaf at Route 128 and 28, 500 feet of 8" main and eight (8) services were abandoned on North Main Street. Two hydrants and two gates were reclaimed in this abandoned. An additional five (5) other services were also abandoned thoughout the system.

The Department had ten broken hydrants during the year. Most of cost has been collected through insurance. Two (2) faulty hydrants were removed and replaced. Three (3) hydrants were relocated. New operating stems were installed in five (5) hydrants, Three (3) broken gate valve stems were also installed.

In conjunction with Highway Division roadway and sidewalk program, all gate and service boxes on Mill Street, South Street, Orchard Street, So. Main Street, Highland Avenue and Center Street, as related to the work, were raised to new grades.

MAIN BREAKS

Lafayette Street - 6" main (cracked pipe); Deer Park - 6" main (broken by developer); Vesey Rd. - 6" main (broken by sewerage contractor); Liberty St. - 6" main (broken by sewerage contractor); Rand St. - 6" main (blown joint); Pleasant St. - 6" main (cracked pipe).

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

METER DEPARTMENT

In the meter department one hundred and eighteen (118) meters were removed during the year - of these, sixty eight (68) were not registering - one (1) frozen and burst - five (5) for noise complaints - five (5) to be junked - three (3) with broken bases and thirty (30) for other causes. Eighty eight (88) meters were reset. Two hundred and seventeen (217) new meters were set on previously unmetered services and twenty nine (29) new meters were reset as replacements. On January 1, 1961, the system had forty six hundred and twenty six (4626) metered and two hundred and sixty seven (267), unmetered Active services.

Under joint operation, approximately forty five hundred and sixty (4560) feet of 12" main was installed on Grove Street, together with the erection of two (2) one million gallon Standpipes - one in Holbrook and one in Randolph. Also in the contract was the installation of two (2) Booster Stations, one in Randolph and one at the Randolph-Holbrook line. These stations, when the head pressure is down at the main plant, will enable our present pumping equipment to pump up to 500 G.P.M. extra. The installation of the additional Standpipe storage has been sorely needed and will prove very valuable during the peak usage months.

CONSTRUCTION

REPLACEMENTS AND EXTENSIONS

Reed St. - 1200 feet, C.I. pipe; Emeline St. - 300 feet, C.I. pipe, 1 gate; Jeanne Rd. - 1600 feet, C.I. pipe, 3 hydrants, 10 gates; Flint Locke Ridge - 1300 feet, C.I. pipe, 3 hydrants, 4 gates; Scanlon Cir. - 180 feet, 1 1/4" copper; Althe Rd. - 1260 feet, C.I. pipe, 2 hydrants, 4 gates; Smith Rd. - 100 feet, C.I. pipe, 2 hydrants, 4 gates; Scally Cir. - 650 feet, C.I. pipe, 2 hydrants, 4 gates; Reynolds Ave. - 450 feet, C.I. pipe, 4600 feet 12" main, 1 hydrant, 6 gates; Jane St. - 300 feet, C.I. pipe, 1 hydrant, 1 gate; Hillsdale Rd. - 800 feet, C.I. pipe, 2 hydrants, 3 gates.

On December 31, 1960 the system had:

61.7 miles of main from 14" to 4".
514 hydrants.

INSPECTIONS

A total of 1065 inspections were made in the business districts with 207 violations.

The merchants and manufacturers of the Town have been very cooperative in rectifying the violations and it has not been necessary to prosecute.

An article for the appointment of two (2) additional men is requested in the 1961 budget. Vacations, sickness, injury and the ever increasing emergency calls for the ambulance create a serious shortage of available manpower to man the apparatus. Many occasions occur when only one man is left in the station, especially at night and on week ends.

The station, apparatus and equipment are at present in good condition. The remainder of the sixty year old boxes now in service will be replaced this year with a few added locations.

Thousands of feet of the old original #12 iron wire is gradually being replaced with #8 Copperweld.

The training officers held many training sessions with the members of the department. Officers and men of the department have, or are attending classes at Civilian Defense School (Topsfield) M.I.T. Divers Training School, State Instructors College and Boston Fire Academy.

In fire prevention, pictures are taken from basement to attic in buildings and schools which are most likely to be a fire problem. These slides are shown for study to every member of the department.

I again wish to express my deep appreciation to the members of my department for their continuing support. Their loyalty and devotion to duty has made it possible to keep our fire losses at an all time low.

Very truly yours,

PAUL D. ANDERSON,
Fire Chief

REPORT OF TREE WARDEN AND MOTH SUPERINTENDENT

The regular program of repairing storm damages, trimming, and removal of dead and dangerous trees was carried on during the year.

1. Hurricane damage - The amount of emergency work has increased at an alarming rate due to the hurricane.

2. Emergency work can only be prevented by a stepped up tree trimming and tree removal program. This would require additional manpower, which costs money; but lawsuits might cost the town the year's wages of two or three men. This is a warning which should be heeded. Public utilities have suffered a great deal of expense in repairing overhead wires and a tremendous loss in customer service due to these trees by the hurricane.

3. This town lost 90 trees on streets by hurricane.

4. Twenty or more trees should be planted on every street in this town. This town should plant over 3500 new trees.

5. Every tree in a residential area, be it public or private, is a prospective patient of ours if only for a diagnosis of its ills.

6. Safety of the town is very important. The economy of our country and our National Defense is entirely dependent upon the proper functioning of electric and telephone service without interruption. If large limbs or branches are in the way of the wires, or trees are in the way of wires, they should be removed for the safety of electric and the telephone company.

7. Moth Department - The Commonwealth of Massachusetts through its Insect Pest Control Department has notified this department that our liability for gypsy moth work for the coming year is $3,300.

8. Tree Planting - Tree planting has moved on, but not at the rate that is anticipated.

9. Spraying by Airplane - One spraying by airplane over woodlands and swamps of this town proved so successful for control of gypsy moths, mosquitos, and other insects that I recommend this program be extended in 1961.

10. I want to thank the Weymouth Light Department for the great work they did during the hurricane.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH J. HART
Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent

REPORT OF THE ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

From January to October, 1960, the Engineering Department was under the direction of Mr. Lawrence W. DeCelle, Acting Town Engineer, and Mr. William P. Balser, Assistant Town Engineer. In October, 1960, Mr. Robert A. Hancock, Town Manager, appointed Mr. John E. Levreault Acting Town Engineer, and Mr. Peter Boghossian Assistant Town Engineer.

During the year 1960, the engineering department furnished engineering services including design, layout, supervision and inspection of various projects for other Town Departments as follows:

BOARD OF SELECTMEN

Inspection of gravel pits, house numbering, approval of power company pole locations, and relocations, and surveys of the below listed street intersections for the purpose of stop sign placement:

Liberty and Allen Streets, Oak and Orchard Streets, Smith Road and Grove Street, Maitland Avenue and North Street, and High and Chestnut Streets.

TOWN TREASURER

ASSESSOR'S DEPARTMENT

Investigation and preparation of plans of Town owned property, indexing and filing Assessor's Plans.

WATER DEPARTMENT

PLANNING BOARD

Attended regular meetings, where possible, and rendered engineering services, including supervision and inspection of subdivision roadway construction, including sidewalks and underground utilities, to insure conformity with existing rules and regulations of the Planning Board.

Made studies of, and gave recommendations relative, to preliminary and definitive plans of proposed subdivisions.

Subdivision roadways completed during 1960 were as follows:

Scally Circle off Canton Street, a distance of 720 feet.
Flint Locke Ridge Road, off Canton Street, a distance of 1300 feet.
Hillsdale Road, off Centre Street, a distance of 700 feet.
Scanlon Circle, off North Street, a distance of 300 feet.
Jane Street extension, off North Main Street, a distance of 300 feet.

SCHOOL PLANNING AND BUILDING COMMITTEE

Attended regular meetings, where possible, made inspections and gave recommendations relative to suitability of proposed school sites. Surveyed and prepared topographic plans of suitable sites for use by architects in charge of design and construction.

SIDEWALK MAINTENANCE AND CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Engineering services including lines and grades, supervision and inspection of sidewalk maintenance and construction projects under continuing program of the Town Manager, detailed as follows:

Sidewalk Maintenance:

North Main Street - westerly sidewalk resurfaced with bituminous concrete for a distance of 700 feet, from the Ranvilla Restaurant to House No. 996, under one contract, and for a distance of 186 feet, from House No. 996 to House No. 984 under a second contract.

Warren Street - northerly sidewalk resurfaced with bituminous concrete for a distance of 520 feet from Depot Street easterly.

West Street - southerly sidewalk resurfaced with bituminous concrete for a distance of 1150 feet from North Main Street to Silver Street, with the exception of the walkway across the Fernandes parking area entrance.

South Main Street - easterly sidewalk and driveway entrances resurfaced with bituminous concrete for a distance of 2400 feet from Union Street to the southerly property line of the E. C. Young Company, with the exception of the driveway entrances in front of the Randolph Manufacturing Company, and 40 feet of walk and driveway entrance in front of House No. 74.

Sidewalk Construction:

Sidewalks constructed under the direction of the engineering department, including the installation of bituminous curbing, surfacing with two courses of bituminous concrete, and loaming and grassing of cut slopes, were as follows:

Orchard Street - easterly side for a distance of 1000 feet, from Vesey to Bartlett Road.

Liberty Street - northerly side for a distance of 350 feet, from North Street to the end of existing walk at time of construction.

Mill Street - southerly side for a distance of 700 feet, from the end of existing walk at time of construction to Milton Terrace.

Adams Street - southerly side for a distance of 250 feet, from Lafayette Street to the Tower Hill School.

South Street, Contract No. 1 - northerly side for a distance of 750 feet, from Castleton Avenue to House No. 290. This contract included a necessary concrete retaining wall.

South Street, Contract No. 2 - northerly side for a distance of 260 feet, continuing from the end of South Street Contract No. 1, at House No. 290 to the power pole opposite Cedar Circle. A moderate amount of ledge and boulders were excavated and cut slopes were loamed and seeded. Two stone retaining walls were removed and reset at back of new walk.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Engineering assistance given to the Highway Department included lines and grades for various road and drain projects as listed below: (Note: a detailed description of actual project work completed may be found in the Report of the Highway Department.)

Road and Maintenance Work:

Centre Street, Highland Avenue, Fitch Terrace and Adams Street.

Drainage Program:

REPORT OF THE SEWER COMMISSIONERS

The Sewer Commissioners are proud to report that TRUNK #1 is completed and TRUNK #2 is completed to Webster St. Lateral work has been started and provisions for the following major tie-ins have been made:

LYONS SCHOOL

TEMPLE BETH-AM

TANK TRUCK DISCHARGING.

To accomplish this the Sewer Commissioners held 54 meetings at their office. There were 27 meetings with the engineering consultants at their offices in Boston. The Sewer Commissioners also had numerous meetings with the Board of Selectmen, Town Manager, Town Counsel and other Department Heads. The Commissioners also made many field trips for inspection purposes.

The preliminary work has been completed to run LATERALS and construct a PUMPING STATION that will service the North Industrial Area, opposite Great Pond. This LATERAL line and PUMPING STATION will also make sewer service available to over 100 homes on the route to the North Industrial Area.

The continued support and cooperation of the Townspeople, Board of Selectmen and the Town Manager will help to extend the LATERAL LINES so more homes have the opportunity to receive sewer service.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF SEWER COMMISSIONERS

The time has come for the Townspeople to think and act upon the article which will be brought up at the Annual Town Meeting, relative to more adequate quarters for the Police Department.

Our present quarters are entirely too small to take care of the business we are confronted with. There are no facilities for the men, such as, locker space, office space, or a place to hold interviews of a private nature. There are no facilities for conferences and meetings with the men and no facilities to garage the cruisers and motorcycles.

I also wish to bring to your attention the fact that the Police Station is not manned between the hours of 12:00 midnight and 9:00 A.M. I am recommending that the station be covered on a twenty-four hour basis so that the citizens will receive the service they are entitled to. Because of the increase in our population and the many demands of the public, our present system is no longer satisfactory.

Charles E. Olsen was appointed Safety Officer this past year. He has made a study of the accidents in the Town of Randolph during the year 1960 and has submitted an interesting report of his findings.

In closing I again wish to thank the citizens of Randolph, the Board of Selectmen, Town Manager and all departments who have assisted us during the past year.

Sincerely,

PATRICK T. McDONNELL
Chief of Police

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WELFARE

In January, Harold W. Macauley, former supervisor in the Bureau of Accounts, State Department of Public Welfare, Boston, Mass. was appointed by Town Manager Robert A. Hancock, to the membership of the Randolph Board of Public Welfare, replacing Mrs. Loyal R. Safford who resigned. Mrs. Safford served faithfully as Secretary of the Board from its inception in 1955. We wish her much happiness in the years to come.

The members of the Welfare staff remain unchanged, one Junior Clerk, one Senior Clerk, two Social Workers, and one Director of Public Assistance.

Aid to Dependent Children	14
Aid to the Disabled	9
Medical Assistance for the Aged	19
General Relief	9
TOTAL	172

On November 23, 1960 the Massachusetts General Court enacted into law Chapter 781 entitled "An Act Relative to the Granting of Medical Assistance for the Aged," the effective date being October 1, 1960." The sections of this law are too numberous to mention in this report. Basically, this new category of public assistance - M.A.A. (Medical Assistance for the Aged) - is for any individual sixty-five years of age or over "whose income and resources are insufficient to meet the costs of necessary medical services." Children are liable for the support of parents and a needs test is conducted on each application.

For the first time in the history of Massachusetts Public Welfare, the Federal - State reimbursement formulae not only provides a seventy-five per cent return on assistance costs, but also the same percentage return on administrative costs in all of the categories of Public Welfare except General Relief.

Total expenditure was $256,874.57. Total reimbursement was $187,772.62 or a net cost to Randolph of $69,101.95. The Town Accountant's report gives a complete fiscal breakdown of the operations of this Department for 1960. It is interesting to observe from an old Town record that for the period April 1, 1835 to April 1, 1836, the cost "For the Support of the Poor" in and out of the Randolph Poor House totalled $1,248.59. One hundred and twenty-five years makes a big difference - in cost, social progress, and social consciousness.

Annual Report

of the

School Department

of the

Town of Randolph

For the Year Ending December 31

1960

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Randolph School Committee herewith submits its annual report to the Citizens of the Town of Randolph:

The School Committee meets regularly on the first and third Mondays of every month at 8:00 p.m. and the public has always been cordially invited to be present. Committee members are elected by the people, under the General Laws of the Commonwealth, for a period of three years, and they serve without renumberation.

All School Committees in Massachusetts are, in general, agents of the Commonwealth, and carry out the conduct of education in conformity with and as delegated to them by the State Legislatures under the General Laws. Specifically, the General Laws charge the Committee with the duties of policy formation, budget making, personnel appointments, approval of curricula and textbooks, planning of school services, and evaluation of the educational program.

During the past year, the growth and expansion of the school system has necessitated more time being devoted to the work of the committee, and as a result weekly meetings have been held, with many hours devoted to the expanded work of research activity, conferences with other committees, inspections of buildings and programs.

In the fulfillment of its obligations to the General Laws, the Committee has ever been keen to appraise the housing problems of the schools and to call attention to the need for school rooms and buildings. The Annual Reports from 1956 through 1959 detail the appeals made for providing relief from the pressure of crowded conditions, and for planning of new school buildings to accomodate the growing school population. It is therefore with justifiable pride that the Committee looks forward to September of 1961 for relief for the first time in many years from double sessions and truncated classes. With the opening of the new North Junior High School and the two additions at the Tower Hill School and the McNeil School, we shall be able to contain our educational program within desirable bounds for one year, a goal of achievement which is a tribute to the alerted concern of our townspeople, parents, building committee and town officials.

The Committee encourages the reading and study of the various reports herewith submitted by our school administrators and departments which enlighten the public on the growth of our student body and the consequent need for educational space requirements and budgetary increase.

The Committee suffered a great loss in March of the past year in the death of Mr. John Churchward. The meeting of the Committee held on Sunday, March, 1960, caused the following to be spread upon the Minutes:

"HEREWITH BE IT RESOLVED

That the Randolph School Committee in special session convened, do hereby cause to be spread on the minute pages their deep and profound regret at the death of their fellow Committeeman, Attorney John W. Churchward, who has given so generously of his time, scholarship, and valued counsel to the ideals of education, and to the advancement of the educational system of the Randolph Schools."

"The School Committee, and the School Department, in conjunction with the Town Government, and the Townspeople, extend to Mrs. John Churchward, John Jr., and Mary, their deepest sympathy in the loss of so fine a husband, so ideal a father, and so valued a public servant, and we offer to Almighty God our humble prayers for the repose of his soul."

"Requiescat in Pace."

Mr. John Griffin who had served on the committee for the year 1956, 1957, 1958, and 1959, was elected to serve the balance of Mr. Churchward's term which expires in March 1961.

Concern with the calibre of academic progress had occupied much of the committee's deliberations during the past year and the pertinent implementation of this achievement is detailed in the report of the Superintendent of Schools.

Such advancements in the educational program offered in the Randolph system as the phonics reading program in our elementary schools, the accelerated group program, and our installation of a language laboratory in our secondary program have already merited the attention of educators and the press, and will, indeed, redound to the greater benefit of our pupils.

As our expansion continues and our pupil demands increase, your committee urges our Townspeople to consider the possibilities involved in cooperation with neighboring communities in the establishment of a regional vocational school in the near future.

It is a fond hope that the present attitude of the Administration in Washington of Federal Aid to Education may shortly receive Congressional implementation which will enable the states and municipalities to feel some financial relief in the growing burden of construction and course programs.

The Committee expresses its deep appreciation to the Superintendent of Schools and his Staff of administrators, to the teachers, clerks, and custodial staff, and to all town personnel for their loyal cooperation and whole-hearted interest in the task of providing our town's educational system.

Your committee is most grateful for your support, and it feels that the school system of any community is but the pattern of the wishes of the citizens. We are persuaded that the citizens of Randolph want their schools to be among the best. With your help, your comments, and your constructive criticisms, they will be very best that we can provide for our children.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Members of the Randolph School Committee, and to all other Citizens of Randolph, it is my great pleasure to submit herewith my sixth annual report, and a summary of my five years as Superintendent of Schools in Randolph.

During this period, our progress has been ever upward and certainly our expansion has been almost phenomenal - from 3120 students in 1955 to our present enrollment of 4342.

Our staff has increased from 112 to 181. Appropriations have had to increase also, not only because of the increased school population, but because of the ever-shrinking value of the dollar, the increased costs of all materials, increased salaries, and the need to constantly improve the educational program. Despite all of the aforementioned factors, figures recently released by the Massachusetts Department of Education show that Randolph has the lowest per pupil cost of all the communities on the South Shore.

This low per-pupil cost does NOT indicate low quality of education, for we can point with pride to the fact that we have had dozens of visitors, not only from within the Commonwealth, but also from distant states who have come to see our outstanding reading-phonics program in action.

Recently, Dr. Thomas Bledsoe, Executive Direction of the National Council for Basic Studies, Dr. Charles Welcutt of Queens College, and Dr. Glen McCracken of the New Castle, Pennsylvania Reading Institute came to Randolph to witness reading demonstrations.

They were very much impressed and the following is an excerpt from a subsequent letter received from Dr. McCracken:

> "You people must be proud of that reading program. The Randolph children can read! And thanks to administrators who want something better, to reading supervisors capable of such leadership, and to teachers who are adventuresome enough to enter into such a project with wholehearted enthusiasm. I liked everything we saw at Randolph. What fun I shall have at future reading conferences, dangling before my audiences the choice bit of information that we saw a beginning teacher at Randolph who had taught nearly a thousand words to her First Grade class by January 16."

Within the past five years, after a year of self-evaluation carried on by the members of the High School staff, an evaluation of the entire secondary program was carried on by a visiting team of teachers and administrators, and subsequently a certificate of accreditation was received from the New England Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. This is the sole agency for the accreditation of high schools in New England. The report filed by the visiting evaluation committee with recommendations for the improvement of an already acceptable program of studies has served as a guide in the implementation of our secondary program.

The need for all high schools to meet the ever-increasing demands and competition for college entrance has been recognized at Randolph, and appropriate action has been taken to enable our college preparatory students to enter the college of their choice, provided that THEY ARE WILLING TO WORK. Proof of this is found in the fact that two of the 1960 graduating class applied for and were admitted to Harvard University, this despite the fact that less than 1300 of more than 5200 qualified applicants were admitted. Graduates of Randolph High School may attain admission to any college or university, but only by having worked most diligently for the entire four years of high school.

An accelerated group has been established in this year's freshman class and will be continued. Under the direction of the Randolph School Committee, a definite policy of homework assignments has been established which challenges the temper and ability of all high school students.

The marking system has also been improved, and prerequisites for continued study in a given area have been increased. All of this has been accomplished through the cooperation of the members of the Randolph School Committee, the administration and the faculty members. The objectives necessary for college admission may be attained by cooperation and diligent work of pupils, teachers, and, yes, parents.

The High School curriculum is being revised to fit the needs of all students, not just those in the college preparatory groups. The graduates of our business education department have always been well prepared and they are eagerly sought by the businesses and industries of the Greater Boston area.

However, in order to meet changing techniques in this area, course content is being revised, and it will be necessary to purchase new machines similar to those now found in industry so that our future graduates will be familiar with them.

The students now needing attention are those who will terminate their formal education with graduation from high school. These pupils must be provided with more meaningful and practical courses which will make them better informed and prepared to accept their responsibilities as well as privileges as citizens of the United States.

A definite beginning in this direction has been made with the budgeting for in 1961 of an additional teacher to teach commercial geography, economics, and commercial law. Another teacher will enable us to offer basic mathematics and review mathematics.

The installation of a languate laboratory, presently out to bid, will enable our language students to develop the proficiency and fluency which are called for by both Dr. Conant and our government officials. Another step in this direction will be the inauguration of a foreign language program in the lower grades next September.

The lack of sufficient classrooms was a major deterrent to both our elementary and secondary programs during the past year. All concerned, pupils, parents, teachers, administrators, and school committee members, abhor double, or rather abbreviated session, and we look forward eagerly to the completion of the North Junior High, and the two elementary additions in order that we may again operate all classes on a normal school day.

However, if we are to maintain this normal schedule, immediate steps must be taken to construct another elementary school, and a South Junior High.

I urge the townspeople, and particularly, the Town Meeting Members, to vote for these new projects when they are presented, and also for the taking of land for future school sites, keeping in mind the predicted school population of 7500-plus made in the report of Shurcliff and Merrill.

The Randolph Vocational High School completed five years of operation in June, 1961. This vocational program is producing qualified automotive mechanics who are so necessary in this machine age. The success of these young men, as well as the other pupils of Randolph, who attend vocational schools in neighboring communities, indicates the value and need for vocational education.

Soon our neighboring communities will not be able to accept our pupils because of their own increasing populations, and our own vocational school, with a capacity of thirty-two boys, is able to accept only eight boys each year.

As a reasonable solution to this rapidly approaching problem, I urge that Randolph investigate the possibility of becoming a partner in a regional vocational school for which preliminary ground work has been accomplished by the members of the Randolph School Committee, through a series of meetings with members of neighboring school committees.

All of this expansion, of course, is very costly, both in the initial construction and in the annual operation. The time has come when this town and indeed all towns and cities need greater State and Federal aid.

We strongly hope that with the new administration, Federal Aid will be forthcoming in sufficient amount to be felt. The National Defense Education Act passed two years ago was a step in the right direction but the amounts received have been trivial and too bound up in red tape.

I ask all to contact our Congressmen and Senators in order to urge them to vote for substantial Federal Aid in order to allow us to provide the essential educational advantages and yet provide the relief for the home owner who is already overburdened with taxes.

The administration of a school system the size of ours becomes increasingly more complex and demanding. Administrative office space and personnel which were sufficient for the operation 1900-pupil system ten years ago, is, of course, grossly inadequate for our present needs. More personnel have been provided during the past decade as the swelling population necessitated, and now the need for sufficient office space must be met.

Moreover, the increased high school population demands more classroom space. The contemplated move of the school system administration to the new Veterans of Foreign Wars building on Highland Avenue will help to solve both needs, and will also enable us to increase efficiency.

The attention of all is invited to the reports of other staff members of the Randolph Public Schools. The reading of them will serve to acquaint everyone with a more thorough knowledge of our work. However, lest a reading of this entire report should indicate a feeling of complete satisfaction and complacency, I wish to call your attention to the fact that every elementary and secondary teacher is a member of one of many study committees.

The purpose of these committees is to develop courses of study from grades one through twelve, in order that there may be a common understanding by all personnel of what we wish to accomplish in each subject in each grade.

In closing, I wish to thank all school committee members with who I have had the pleasure of working-from those who in 1955 elected me to be the Superintendent of the Randolph Public Schools, to those comprising the present committee.

The willingness of all of these people to give so unstintingly of their time, energy, and ability for no renumeration, has contributed enormously to the successful growth of the Randolph Schools. The fact that the present Committee has had fifty-seven meetings during the past year is ample indication of the spirit of self-sacrifice, cooperation, and public service, possessed by the Committee members.

The success of any venture is dependent to a large degree upon the personnel involved, and so I wish to commend and thank Asst. Superintendent William J. Lynch, principals, supervisors, teachers and clerks for their devotion to duty in providing for the youth of Randolph an educational program of which every citizen of Randolph may be proud.

I also wish to thank all those employed in the other departments of the town who have cooperated so well with us at every opportunity.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS L. WARREN,

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Herewith we submit our twenty-ninth report as Principal, first of Stetson High School, and now of Randolph High School. During that time we have seen many changes take place. We have seen the years when our total enrollment in the high school was slightly higher than the present numbers of our seventh grade; we have seen the time when the teaching force of the entire system was little more than the present staff of the high school building, grades seven to twelve. We have seen changes in administrative and teaching personnel over the years, while the numbers of students who have passed through our doors have been veritably countless. It has been a satisfying and challenging position in which to have a part. There have been many other changes taken place, which we do not have space to enumerate, but we hope it will be our privilege to help Randolph High School make these traditions to meet modern educational thinking, so that our school will stay up at the top, with the best.

For the first time, Randolph High School has started an accelerated program with one group of ninth graders, with a view toward the future growth of an advanced placement program in the school. One main philosophy behind this type of program is that as the very slow student needs a slower pace than the average student, so the very able student may be encouraged to proceed at a faster pace than the average. This is exactly what we are doing with this accelerated group. It is our aim that in the course of time our accelerated groups will receive training, while still in high school, in college-level courses offered by our school to qualified students. The establishment of accelerated groups, we feel, is the first step towards the avhievement of the second phase, namely the Advanced Placement program. The selection of pupils for this program is careful. We try to select pupils, not only with high ability but also with motivation, desire, persistence, and a disposition to do hard work as being at least important as a high I.Q. Among either factors, we want to know:

1. Is the student a volunteer?
2. Interested, willing and able to extend himself.
3. Do his parents approve?
4. Is his past record good enough?
5. Does he have the recommendation of his former teachers?

We feel that the success of this program depends now on the selection of the right students because the rewards can be so great.

It is our plan to offer to the superintendent of schools and the school board, our plans for curriculum enrichment which we hope we may put into operation as soon as housing facilities make is possible. While we are on double sessions and until relief is given us by the use of the new junior high school, we just do not have room for any such additions to the curriculum. We are now using every room in the building for grades nine through twelve on our present program and even with the use of the two rooms now occupied as administrative offices, the increase in enrollment next year will take care of these two rooms even with our present program arrangements. More space is desperately needed.

Examination of library records over the past year indicates a much greater use of library facilities by the pupils than ever before. There are many reasons for this, too many to enumerate here, but it does indicate that more and more of our students are reading. To us this should mean we should hold our budget for purchase of library books as high as possible.

We have again been successful in placing our graduates in colleges or in business, whatever the choice of the pupil has been. We assume this matter will be dealt with in detail by the Director of Guidance, so we will not go into the matter here. NWe wonder, though, why so much emphasis is placed on a college education. Certainly, some people should go to college professional people, doctors, teachers, lawyers, social workers, etc., but we know that all students will not go to college and even though headlines and commentaries are filled with the need of college students, no mention is made that we also need people who do not go to college. The service industries, for instance, are expanding more rapidly than the professions; who will maintain them? There are pupils who will not go to college but they will become legislators, painters, will write a hit tune or play. College educations do not bring accomplishments - men do. We think it is time for an objective analysis of what happens to the boy who doesn't go to college. Will hard work, stamina, persistence, pay off or will a boy be successful only because he has a college degree? If this is true, then perhaps we should take another look at our philosophy of education and thereby aim everyone at college whether or not he should or could go.

As a result of a cooperative study of the homework assignment program, the decision to increase the quality of homework expectations put into operation this year has been most timely. With the rather general demand by schools of higher learning and from prospective employers for greater output of energy by students and results from schools, we feel it is fair to pupils to expect them to better face up to what will be required of them in later life, that they develop attitudes of hark work, better work and good work habits. This we hope to accomplish by the general raising of homework assignments, both in quantity and quality.

At this time we would like to thank all those who helped to make this past year what it has been. Certainly no one person can operate a school the size of Randolph High School without the help and cooperation of all those who work for the best interests of the pupils. To those people we extend a heartfelt "thank you".

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE

"Education without guidance would be chaos." Dr. James B. Conant's bold statement stresses the ever-growing, vital importance of guidance services to our youth who face the hectic confusion of modern living with its rapidly changing standards and opportunities. The role of guidance counselor has come to be multi-faceted, indeed. During the past year, our guidance department has worked on such projects as job placement, college entrance, juvenile court cases, and has worked to provide sound advice for students distressed by difficulties in the realms of home, school, health, social, and emotional adjustment.

The availability of "help when help is needed" is, of course, prerequisite to any real accomplishment in this field. The addition of the three new counselors, although the junior high counselor was a replacement, has greatly expanded our ability to help more students more often. Our pupil-counselor ratio this year is 326 to 1, far superior to last year's ratio of some 538 to 1.

Miss Isabelle J. Bennett, Mr. James A. Sullivan, and Mr. Paul J. Royte come to Randolph with rich academic backgrounds and experience in psychology, guidance, and testing. Their efforts already have helped numerous students who, last year at this time, would still have been waiting for a place on an overcrowded interview schedule. With the imminent opening of the new junior high school, we must give thought to the expansion of guidance services to that most vital age level for a bit of prevention in the lower grades can pay tremendous dividends in the all-important high school attitudes and efforts.

The time has arrived for the extension of counseling help to our elementary school children, for their youth provides no protection whatever against painful problems of a most serious nature. I have worked with many parents of elementary youngsters, but it is impossible to offer adequate assistance to all who need it.

As one small crate dropped on Storrow Drive can hold up hundreds of cars, so can oneqntreated problem in a little girl's or boy's mind faster and eventually prevent the best efforts of teachers, counselors, and relatives in adolescent years. In many of our neighboring communities, elementary counselors work on pupil adjustment, referral of those needing professional assistance, delinquency prevention, identification of the gifted, assistance of the slow, and coordination of school-social agency work.

At Randolph High School, academic endeavor is growing in enthusiasm. Last year's graduates set a record for obtaining college acceptance and job placement. We expect this year's seniors to top that record. Last year, for the first time in our school's history, an outstanding junior was invited to do college work during the summer at Harvard University. As the result of a special agreement with Harvard, we were able to enter their pilot program for this advanced work. Thomas R. Gallagher was accepted with scholarship and represented his school honorably. A similar distinction was won by George Harry East, who received a grant from the National Science Foundation for the study of advanced science at Thayer Academy's Summer Institute where he, too, earned honor grades. At this writing, Ann R. Tucker, also of the Class of 1961, received the first college acceptance under the Early Acceptance Plan ever extended to a Randolph High School girl.

One of the most widely publicized national problems is the college admissions crush. It spells for us a higher obligation to our students, an ever-growing challenge to expand, to purity, to improve and enrich our preparation of those who put their trust in us for such preparation. Academic excellence in a high school is never fully achieved. It is a never-ending quest in which guidance stands as the communicating link between college and school. The administration deserves commendation for its furthering of departmental organization, encouragement of testing, and constant interest in the individual student. Our faculty have spent many hours with the department heads studying the latest and the best in college preparation. Finally, our graduates are providing invaluable assistance by replying to a follow-up study which will give us their candid views on the practical results of our preparation of them for their employment or college work.

The business department continues to prepare students with its traditional competence and completeness. We find that Randolph students are sought out by employers because of their years of happy experience with our graduates. Our students who earn good grades have never had difficulty finding placement in Boston's finest business houses. We have on file many employers' testimonials to the quality of our business preparation. These excellent school-business relations are due almost entirely to the years of capable effort by the Assistant Director of Guidance, Miss Winifred Brennan, who was recently honored by the student body as the Teacher of the Year.

Although our Vocational School does a fine job of training boys in auto mechanics, it is severely limited in size and therefore in availability to the majority of interested boys.

Our general course offers no woodworking, metal work, printing, electricity, or any other vocational courses to boys who are so inclined. Our obligation as citizens and as educators to these youngsters is just as high as it to any other business or college student. Yet we are able to offer them very little. Each year the Town spends a large amount of money to send tuition students to neighboring trade schools which, each year, are accepting fewer and fewer outsiders.

On behalf of hundreds of boys and girls now in our elementary schools, I urge strongly Randolph's continued support of and participation in the project to bring a state-sponsored, regional vocational school to this area, in which movement our administrators were early leaders. Few communities of our size can afford to offer every trade subject. Yet, together with our neighboring towns, we can offer a vastly superior, complete vocational program. It is difficult indeed to expect a boy to do his best in school when he must study subjects which are apart from his interests.

In accordance with President Eisenhower's urgent request, we have acted to enrich our offerings to the academically talented student. By encouraging the giften children in accelerated groups, teachers are free to spend more time with students who should have more detailed explanation and individual assistance. This is part of a national effort in high schools to halt the annual loss of 400,000 bright American youngsters who never finish school or make full use of their fine mental capacities.

The guidance counselor is a friend to every student - when he is up and when he is down. I would take this opportunity to laud Juvenile Officer Charles Olsen for his work in the prevention of delinquency. While guidance plays no part whatsoever in administering discipline of any kind, we are keenly interested in seeing that our boys and girls who fall into difficulty receive every possible opportunity to make amends and to start immediately to adjust to a new and happier outlook and procedure.

Randolph's young people are worthy of our best efforts and sacrifices - as parents, as taxpayers, as teachers. I am grateful to my colleagues of the School Committee, the administration, and the faculty for their support and assistance. Moreover, I am deeply grateful for the eager cooperation of the parents and for the warm friendliness and good efforts of our boys and girls.

T. FRANKLIN GRADY, JR.

REPORT OF THE READING SUPERVISORS

We have seen the reading program strengthened immeasurably over the last three to five years. The growth and advancement of the reading levels in grades one, two, and three, and consequently in the intermediate grades, has been due to a concentrated phonics program, in addition to the development of specific reading skills through a carefully supervised reading program.

The over-all improvement and advancement of the total reading program has been watched with keen interest by many outside the Randolph school system. This interest has accounted for the number of observers and inquirers from the communities of Easton, Braintree, Plymouth, as well as from school systems in Connecticut, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, and Michigan.

The accumulated data showing the improvement of reading in Randolph, and the low percentages of pupils coming below the national norms has served to enlighten parents, observers, and new teaching personnel as to the standards, and general performance of the Randolph schools.

An innovation in grades five and six, first on a limited basis, has been the use of the SRA reading laboratory, and later with additional material and further results, the multi-level reading improvement materials were to be used in all fifth and sixth grades in the town. The specific contributions of SRA have been the development of basic reading skills such as increased reading rate and comprehension, practice in habits of concentration, critical reading, appreciation of literature, effective study habits, an approach to new material using the SQ3R method, and vocabulary growth. The techniques employed in the use of this special material have proven most valuable in their carry-over to the other subject areas.

We have made widespread use of the Readers Digest Skill builders on the various grades levels, as well as the addition of text for the enrichment of the groups within a grade. We are aware of a need to place the emphasis now on certain areas of the reading program. The current year will see our efforts turned toward a revised spelling list, and better creative writing.

REPORT OF THE ART SUPERVISOR

Currently, the progressive art program at the elementary level in Randolph is being carried on through the combined effort and understanding between the art supervisors, principals, individual teachers and the school board.

Today's modern educational system depends wholly on a unified body of individuals working together harmoniously with one goal in mind: that of fostering the individual child's growth physically, mentally, and spiritually.

It is our main goal in carrying out the art program to aid in the development of each child by stimulating and nurturing his innate creative power to think and to have the ability to express artistically his emotions dealing with his environment and his experiences. We do not each the children how to color or how to draw. As already stated, it is our primary aim as arts supervisors to help them make the most of their God given powers, rather than destroy them.

The art lessons are planned and carried out on the level of the individual child's understanding and rate of knowledge.

Many classes are visited every week, while unfortunately others can be seen only on a two week basis. We are fortunate in Randolph to have a variety of materials and supplies affording us the opportunity to carry out our program successfully.

Some of the projects which may be viewed on bulletin boards in the elementary schools and in exhibits throughout the town deal with many phases of art education such as the field of drawing, painting, cut-paper, crafts such as papier-mache, clay modeling, and block-printing.

Miss Mary Walker joined the elementary school system as art supervisor in September 1960.

With continued support and interest on the part of the public, we will continue to strive to enrich our art program to its fullest measure.

JOAN A. BUTURLIA,
Elementary Art Supervisor

REPORTS OF SCHOOL NURSES

The object of our school health program is to guide the child's physical, mental, emotional, and social development. This is accomplished by effective teamwork on the part of all concerned with the school child's health and well being.

The health of the child is the primary responsibility of the parents. The school is responsible for the immediate care of the student during school hours. Prompt notification is given to the parent if pupil becomes ill or is injured while in school. For the prevention and control of communicable diseases, it is important that the parents keep children at home at the first signs if illness, because communicable diseases are most contagious during the early stages. Our teachers are continuously alert to symptoms of illness and other health problems occurring in their classrooms.

Upon entering school, children should have a physical examination by the family doctor or pediatrician, plus a dental check-up, so that any defects discovered may be remedies before the child starts his formal education. Pre-school vaccination is a state law, and no child may be admitted to school without presenting a vaccination certificate. It is very important that each child be immunized during infancy against Diphtheria, Tetanus, Whooping Cough and Poliomyelitis, plus booster shots just prior to entering school. Continuing this program for prevention of communicable disease, parents should have the booster shots administered at intervals throughout school life.

In September, 1960 Dr. Philbrook, of the Randolph Board of Health, made arrangements with the Massachusetts Department of Public Health for a tuberculin testing program to be held in all of our schools. Much planning and preparation was necessary to insure the effectiveness of these clinics. Approximately 87% of the school enrollment participated in this test and it was most gratifying to learn that not one pupil of those tested showed symptoms of Tuberculosis. We feel that this program was very worthwhile.

Vision tests are conducted annually, and although these tests are an important part of the school program, they cannot be relied upon to screen out all abnormal eye conditions.

Periodic audiometer tests are a reliable means of detecting a hearing loss. All students found to have a hearing defect are referred for further examination. It is important that the school be informed of the doctor's recommendations so that we can help the child make as good an adjustment as possible.

Recording of height and weight is a useful means of noting growth progress. This, plus physical examinations given at intervals during the pupil's school life, helps the school physician to determine the health status of the child.

A prime requirement of healthy growth and physical fitness is good nutriti on and regular eating habits. Many children eat a faulty or insufficient breakfast which causes morning fatigue thereby resulting in decreased efficiency in class room work. Our well conducted school lunch program provides a balanced diet, and also teaches the students the principles of good nutrition.

Modifications, based upon the physical condition of the handicapped child, are made whenever possible to enable the child to make a better adjustment to his environment. Students at home are given instructions by a home teacher.

With the cooperation of the school personnel, state and community agencies, parents' understanding and appreciation of their role, we will reach the goals of the school health program.

REPORT OF DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND ATHLETICS

Dr. James B. Conant has made two significant talks this year. The following excerpts from these two formal presentations are of extreme interest.

"I am also convinced that ideally a period of physical education should be required for all pupils in grades 1 through 12 every day, though the length of the period might well be shorter in the lower grades. From what I have heard, drastic revisions of the physical education course may be in order in many schools.

"The early adolescent period as I need not remind you is indeed a very special one physically, emotionally, and mentally.

"There are a few more points I should note about this program. First I gather that relatively few schools schedule physical education every day. From what I heard, drastic revisions of the physical education program may be in order in many schools before the idea of 5 periods a week can be achieved. The 6 period day will stand in the way of physical education every day.

"Having spoken at length about pedagogic matters, I should stress the importance of activities and facilities that promote the social as well as the academic development of children in grades 7 and 8. Dramatics, musical activities in the form of chorus and orchestras, intramural athletics, dances, these have their place in the transitional years of grades 7 and 8. A gymnasium and auditorium become necessities."

These excerpts of Dr. James B. Conant reflect the necessity of a drastic change, not only in the randolph Schools, but in 90% of all school systems. I am of the opinion that we need more personnel for the grade schools and instead of one period a week of 30 minutes duration, I prefer at least two periods a week and better still to have permanent Physical Education instructors in our larger grade schools. We are at the crossroad of deciding whether to have a beneficial physical education program for the children of our schools or stand still while the town grows.

Facilities are limited in Randolph and although the town has doubled in the last 10 years facilities have stayed about the same and we are sadly in need of expanding the program for the youth and adults of the town. Clearly then this is a subject which affects us all. The purpose of education is not just to make a living, still less to make an easy living, but to enable life to be lived more fully, the 3R's and knowledge of the world of yesterday and today must be taught, but children must be helped in their physical and spiritual development, too.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

The Music Department this past year has continued to expand in terms of increased participation in music activities.

The High School Band, numbering 53, continues to rehearse after school because of double session. The band appeared many times during the year giving concerts, performing at all football games and marching in various parades. Outstanding band members were selected to participate in S. E. M. S. B. A., the Southeastern District Festival, and All-State.

The Dance Band, composed of 16 high school band members and rehearsing 2 hours a week after school, played at school dances and other functions.

The Chorus, numbering 75 students, participated in several concerts. The outstanding singers were selected to perform in the S.E.M.S.B.A., Distrist, and State choruses. "Pinafore", the second in a series of Gilbert and Sullivan Operettas, was also performed by the group.

The Junior High program has shown the greatest increase in participation despite the fact that, because of double sessions, all musical activities are outside school time.

The Junior High program has increased to 90 members, the Girl's chorus increased to 175, and the Boy's chorus now stands at 48 members.

The culmination of the year's work was the Spring Concert and participation in the Southeastern Music Festival.

In addition to the regular Junior High program, Instrumental classes are held for the Special Class students who are now at the Junior High School.

There are elementary school bands at the Stetson, Devine, Lyons, Belcher, Tower Hill and McNeil Elementary Schools plus an instrumental program at the Pauline School. These groups combine for the Memorial Day parade to form one band of 185 musicians.

In addition to the regular elementary band program there are Select Elementary Glee Clubs in the Lyons, Devine and Stetson Schools which rehearse each week.

This year, due to the tremendous numbers involved, the All-Town Elementary Concert was replaced by separate concerts by each elementary school. Each grade level, grade 3 flutophones, the individual bands and glee clubs participated, demonstrating the results of their musical training.

Mrs. Marie Volpe resigned her position as Elementary Supervisor in April and was replaced by Mr. Carl Leone for the remainder of the school year.

In September, Miss Castella Root joined the Music Department to replace Mrs. Volpe as Elementary Supervisor.

We are making progress in the acquisition of new equipment for the Music program, however, additional equipment and personnel are still necessary to bring the Music Department up to desired standards.

"NO SCHOOL SIGNALS"

The "no school" policy followed by the Randolph School Department is in the interest of the welfare of all of the school children. The calling off of schools depends not only on weather conditions at the opening time of school, but also on the condition of sidewalks and streets. We recognize only too well the lack of sidewalks and sidewalk plowing in Randolph, yet these same conditions are also found in many surrounding communities.

When the school session is not cancelled, the ultimate decision as to whether or not the individual child will attend school is the parent's, for the parent best knows the ability of his child to go to and from school safely. On bad days, caution your child to be most careful in observing all safety rules.

Radio announcements of "No School" will be made from stations WBET (1460), WJDA (1300), WCOP (1150), WBZ (1030), and WHDH (850) at 6:45 a.m. and 11:00 a.m.

Keep tuned to these radio stations and you will be the first to know about "no school." We are deeply indebted to these stations, for their free services.

A recorded message regarding "No School" announcements may be heard by dialing WOodlawn 3-5420 on days when it seems probable that school may be cancelled.

Do NOT call the homes of the Superintendent, or Assistant Superintendent of Schools, for they are occupied in calling the radio stations. Do NOT call the Fire Department or the Police Department, for in so doing you may endanger the lives or welfare of others who might be trying to make an emergency call to these facilities.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REGISTRARS

The Board of Registrars submits its annual report for the year 1960. During the past year 1963 new voters were registered, the total number of registered voters now being 9455 which includes the following:

Precinct	#1	2269
"	#2	2325
"	#4	2392

The Registrars have street listed 11,111 people and have on file, cards with names, addresses and occupations of the same. Books were also printed with this information. Also listed were 1568 dogs, these being turned over to the dog officer.

Since the last Street Listing, the Town has many new streets with 197 new homes added. The boundaries of Precinct 1 and 3 were changed by the Board of Selectmen in accordance with Section 3 of Chapter 324 of the Acts of 1947. The Secretary of State was notified of these changes and maps showing the new boundaries of the precincts was posted in all four precincts of the town.

The Stetson School Fund

Look at the cover of this book! You will see the classic white Colonial building with its fluted columns and small cupola which stands at the head of Crawford Square, looking down on the busy town of Randolph. This is STETSON HALL, your Town Hall.

The Trustees of the Stetson School Fund are one of the Town's major links with the early history of the Town and indeed, the Nation, reaching as it does into the old Colonial pre-Revolutionary era. Amasa Stetson, whose farsightedness and interest in the education of youth caused him to establish the Fund, was born in this Town, a legal subject of King George III of England.

He gave to Randolph a building to be used as a school strictly for boys between 14 and 18 years of age, together with a fund of $10,000.00 for its upkeep. By today's standards, this is not a great deal of money, but in the days of Amasa Stetson, it was a fortune. This building was used as a school for many years, until the turn of the century.

The Trustees were to be elected by the townspeople by ballot, and have absolute control over the school and Fund, according to the terms of the trust. The Building that once housed the school now houses most of your Town offices. To the task of its upkeep, your Trustees therefore are dedicated. Since the preliminary partitioning and remodeling of the second floor into sorely needed additional offices in the 1956-58 period, we have continued an orderly program for finishing these offices, which this year included the two rooms and walk-in vault of the Assessors' Offices, Accountant's Office, Water Dept., Veterans' Services, Highway-Sewer-Forestry Depts.

One of our famous towering evergreens in front of the Hall would have been lost after a storm if not braced and straightened by Joseph J. Hart, Tree Warden, and watered around the clock by our faithful Custodian, Matthew Fahey. Our flagpole was given a badly needed scraping and painting. The handsome bronze plaques in the first floor entrance hall, commemorating our Veterans of World War I, and the names of the Trustees, School Committee, and Architect who served when the Hall was renovated in 1928, were given a much needed cleaning and plastic coating to preserve their finish. Other maintenance and repair projects of an extraordinary nature were also undertaken, such as plumbing, heating, etc., and the picture of the Honorable Stetson himself, dominating the upper Hall, was cleaned.

Next year we will continue the gradual process of renovating, redecorating and refurnishing this building which, it is easy to see, is of irreplaceable value, due to its size, structural soundness, and historical value to our Town.

REPORT OF THE TOWN COUNSEL

Space does not permit the enumeration of the nightly and daily attendance at the various Board, Committee, Department and Multiple Department meetings.

In addition to the aforementioned meetings for consultation, the Town has been engaged in litigation of Planning Board, bond matters, and other claims for and against the Town.

As a member of the Board of Directors of the City Solicitors and Town Counsel Association, I once again must praise said Association for the monthly cooperation we receive from the members in solving our mutual problems.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN

Citizens of Randolph:

After reflecting over the events and issues of the past year, it is felt that we are meeting the challenges and the problems that have confronted us. Your board is very optimistic about the future of Randolph, but it is a future that can only be realized by planning, deep thought, and the foresight to handle the problems before they are upon us. This also entails some sacrifice on the part of all of us from time to time in our demands. There is only a limited amount of funds available and to demand more than we can afford would place a heavy burden on our taxpayers. However, with all of us lending our efforts to solve the problems of the future we feel confident that Randolph will be a credit to us all.

This year your board held many hearings on liquor licenses, street layouts, new pole locations, gasoline storage, gravel removals, and various other types of hearings. In every instance before a permit was granted we weighed heavily the feelings and rights of all individuals involved. No permit was ever granted without fully protecting the citizens involved to the limit of our jurisdiction.

It became necessary this year to realign the precinct boundaries of precincts one and three to bring the number of voters in all precincts to a more even distribution. In addition to this the change has made it more convenient for a number of people, as it placed them nearer to the polls than formerly.

This year a greater hardship was created at election time due to the change of law. Ballots cannot be counted now until the polls are closed for the day. This entails many extra hours for our poll workers plus much extra cost due to the need of additional personnel to count votes. We do hope that the legislature will repeal this law in the near future to do away with this expensive inconvenience.

We have adopted the following policy in regards to moving of buildings to property in Randolph. Owner shall have approval of Board of Health and Building Inspector, and shall have a foundation already available on the property to which the building will be located on.

Your board is working in closer unison with other boards and committees to better protect and serve the best interests of the people of Randolph.

The liquor license fees were increased to make them more equitable with reasonable fees charged by neighboring communities. This action also produces additional revenues without working a hardship on the license holders.

During the year your board members attended many seminars on attracting industry and also seminars on matters pertaining to the operation of local government. These seminars enable the board to serve better the people of Randolph.

We improved overall safety factors in our town by providing additional protection. This was in the form of signs, lights, ammending traffic rules and regulations, and surveys to protect our children as well as our adults.

Your attention must be called to the increase in compulsory automobile insurance rates for our town. After having information forwarded to our board, as to the cause of the increase, we were surprised at the claim ratio that was made against the insurance companies by those living in Randolph and being involved in accidents not necessarily in the town. This ratio of claims was far above average. We ask you therefore, to use every means of precaution and safety in the coming year in hopes that we may once again enjoy a lower compulsory insurance rate.

With recent action taken at a special town meeting it appears that our desire for industry will no longer be a dream but a reality. The board is extremely grateful for the faith you, the people, through your town meeting representatives have placed in your town officials. We will do everything within our power to uphold this expression of confidence.

With deep appreciation we wish to acknowledge the people who have given their time, knowledge, and skills at no expense to the town. Their great contribution is helping to make a better Randolph. Thanks also must be extended to the Town Manager, all boards, and committees for their untiring efforts to serve you.

GEORGE F. CULLEN, Chairman
JOSEPH J. SEMENSI, Clerk

REPORT OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Citizens of Randolph:

You will recall that I have emphasized in the past the necessity of cooperation between Town Officials (also between Town Officials and Citizens) in order to effectively integrate and sustain a progressive program which benefits the people and therefore the Town.

This kind of "team effort" under your Selectmen-Town Manager form of Government (now in its seventh year) has prevailed during the year 1960. Because of it, 1960 has been a year of progress. At this writing, two of the largest and most active Industrial Development Firms in New England have expressed positive offers to your Town Officials for the establishment of an Industrial Park in Randolph. In order to provide the water and sewer facilities that will be needed for the Industrial Park, a Special Town Meeting has been set for January 30th. By the time you receive and read this report, I hope and believe that the Town will have completed the first steps toward making the Industrial Park a reality. If so, "teamwork" will have been responsible for this major accomplishment.

During 1960, the difficult sewer work went forward trunk #1 was completed, and trunk #2 nearly completed. Correspondence from the Federal authorities tells us that as we build the collection (laterals) system for trunk #2, we will receive partial payments of the $250,000.00 Grant on trunk #2. This collection system will be started soon, and when partial payments are received, they will be used to extend the system.

The new Standpipes were erected, and the Booster Pumping Stations were built to improve water supply to your homes, also to provide more adequate fire protection.

The new North Randolph Junior High School construction was about 50% built. Plans were completed and bids have been taken for the additions to the Tower Hill and McNeil Schools. It is expected that completion of these projects will eliminate double sessions by September, 1961.

Other progressive projects include many maintenance and improvement jobs at the several school buildings and grounds, the Health Center, the Library, the Fire Stations and the Town Hall; a new three-stall garage was built for the Tree and Moth Department, five sections of new sidewalks were constructed; four sections of existing sidewalk were reinforced; eleven sections of streets received improvement construction; sixteen streets were sealed; ten drainage projects were installed; and several Health Clinics were provided for protection, detection, or amelioration for our children and adults of such dread diseases as Polio, Tuberculosis, Asian Flu, Diabetes and Glaucoma. Details of these and other activities will be found in the other annual reports.

The Town Meeting Members have voted the money needed for the services and projects which provide for the education, health, safety, welfare and convenience of the people of Randolph. Our continuing population growth imposes budgetary increases in the School Department and in the other departments. The necessary new school buildings, sewer construction, and water system improvements have greatly increased our Bonded Indebtedness which requires substantially larger Bond and Interest annual payments. The result - higher taxes.

We shall continue to direct our energies and efforts toward efficient operation and savings wherever possible so as to minimize the tax burden and to obtain the greatest possible value for your tax dollar.

However, unless or until State and Federal programs are developed to provide greater financial assistance to Massachusetts communities through more aid for education and other high cost local problems, the only avenue through which Randolph can hope for "substantial tax relief" is that of Industry. I shall continue to work with other Town Officials and Citizens toward the realization of the "Industrial Park" for Randolph.

My sincere thanks are hereby exzended to all Department Heads, Boards, Committees, Employees and Citizens whose cooperation helped to make possible the accomplishments of 1960.

Very truly yours,

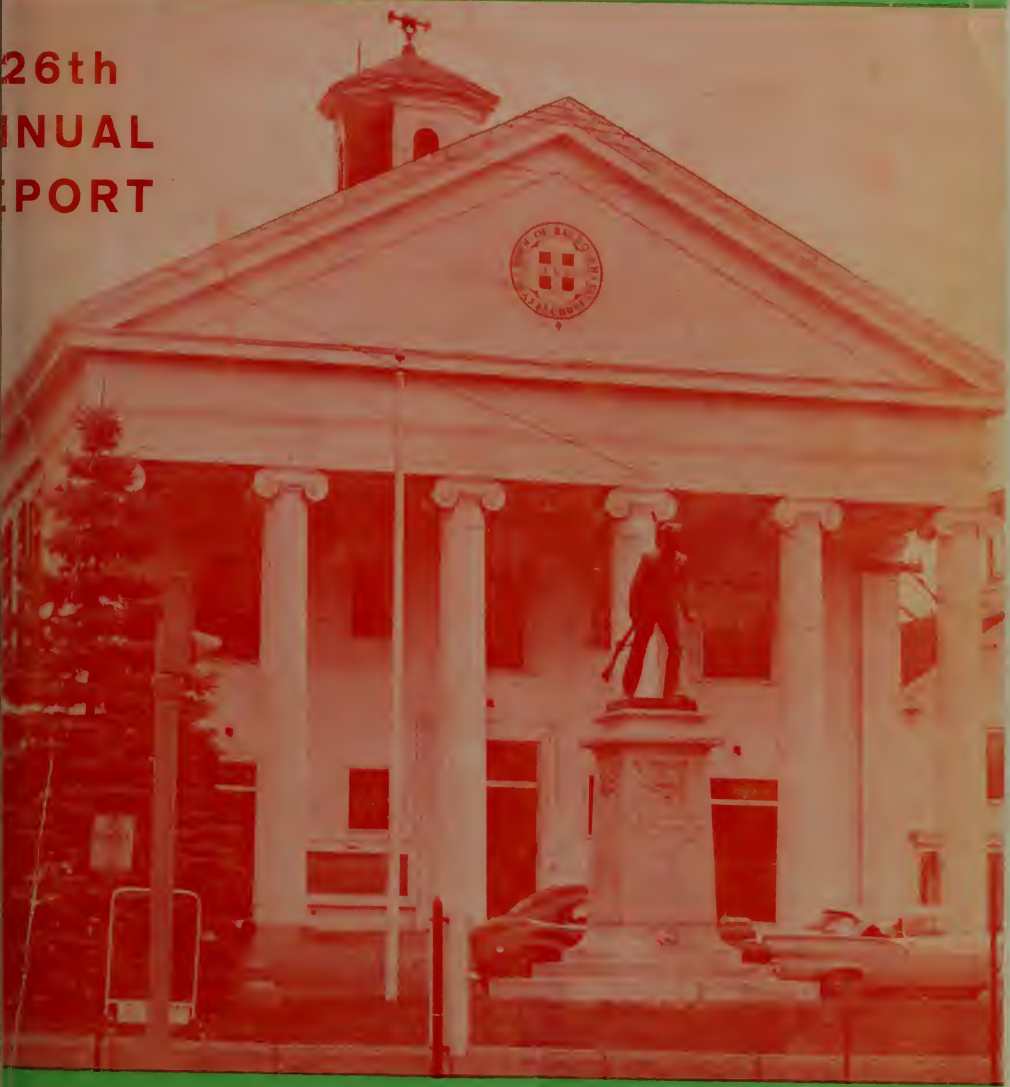

ROBERT A. HANCOCK

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING
March 20, 1961

Pursuant to a Warrant issued by the Board of Selectmen and dated the twentieth day of February A. D. 1961, duly posted by Patrick T. McDonnell, Constable, the citizens of Randolph assembled at the Randolph High School Auditorium, Memorial Parkway in Randolph, on the twentieth day of March, 1961. The meeting was called to order at 8:00 o'clock P. M., adjourned until 8:15 P. M. and then reconvened.

Moderator Lombardi administered the oath of office to newly elected town meeting members and led the meeting in prayer. Following the reading of the passage, Mr. Lombardi appointed Messrs. Bender, Diauto and Collins as tellers.

Town Clerk Clark read the return of service to the Town Meeting Warrant.

Mr. Roycroft moved adjournment at 11:00 P. M. until Tuesday, March 21st at 8:00 P.M. Motion was seconded and VOTED.

Mr. Foley moved that no article be reconsidered until all other articles have been acted upon. Motion was seconded and VOTED, by a voice vote.

Mr. Clark moved that all retiring moderators who have served the Town of Randolph be presented with the gavel they used, suitably engraved. Motion was seconded and VOTED, by a voice vote.

Moderator Lombardi moved that retiring Moderator Carr be given a rising vote of thanks for the service he rendered the Town during the past years. VOTED.

Following the rising vote of thanks to Mr. Carr, Moderator Lombardi outlined the manner in which the Town Meeting would be conducted.

1. All amendments to be limited to one and no amendments to an amendment would be entertained.
2. All amendments to be in writing and presented to the chair.
3. Any interested citizen will be recognized, but only after all Town Meeting members have spoken.

Moderator Lombardi recognized the Board of Selectmen who made the following motion: —

Article 1. To see if the Town will vote to authorize a committee comprised of thirteen members assisted by the Board of Selectmen, to draw up a new form of government for the Town of Randolph and report back to the people as soon as possible but prior to the next Annual Town Meeting in March, 1962. Said committee to be comprised of the following citizens: —

Henry Lowd	John Davey
Richard Schwartz	Ernest Ryan
Herbert Murray	Sidney Tucker
Robert Daley	Joseph McElroy
John Callahan	Joseph Simmons
Stanley Rice	George Bonney

vacancies to be filled by the Board of Selectmen, as petitioned for by the Board of Selectmen.

Mr. Davin moved an amendment that one member of the School Board be included in the Committee. Motion seconded and DEFEATED, unanimously.

Mr. Wehner moved an amendment that the Committee report back to a Town Meeting. Motion, as amended, seconded and VOTED, by a voice vote.

Mr. Luddington moved that a Committee be appointed (nine members) to study the procedure necessary to effect an orderly transition from the present Selectmen-Town Manager Form of government to the traditional form of government in force prior to the enactment of the Selectman-Town Manager Form of government and advise the town officials of the proper steps to be taken by them prior to the next Annual Town Election. Amended by, Mr. Hannon, and VOTED to report back not later than October 15, 1961.

Mr. Tagrain questioned Mr. Luddington as to the scope of his proposed committee and Mr. Luddington stated that it was his intent to have the town officials advised as to the procedure of the ballot including the language and that this committee will have no function regarding any act of the Selectmen's committee but only as to who is to be elected; that the committee is to have no authority and give no advise relative to the committee already appointed.

Mr. Tagrin moved that the article be tabled. Motion seconded and defeated by a hand vote: NO — 113, YES — 80.

Mr. Luddington's motion voted by a voice vote.

Mr. Hurley voted a rising vote of thanks to retiring Chief of Police McDonnell.

Mr. Every moved that a committee be formed to propose rules and regulations to which we the town meeting members would be expected to live up to regarding attendance; that this matter be studied and recommendations given at the next Annual Town Meeting. Motion was seconded and VOTED, by a voice vote.

Mr. Cormey moved that the Moderator appoint a committee of five qualified citizens to investigate the problem of housing Town departments. Motion was seconded and VOTED, by a voice vote.

Mr. Faherty gave the report of the Personnel Board.

Mr. Carlino gave the report of the Sewer Commission. Following discussion Mr. Luddington moved that the report of the Sewer Commission be accepted as progressive. Voted.

Mr. Tagrin gave the report of the Planning Board.

Meeting adjourned at 10:55 P. M

Article 6. VOTED by a unanimous voice vote.

Mr. Clark moved that the School Committee furnish the town through PL #874 money for two portable microphones to be manned by high school students so that all, as they rise to be heard may have the microphones to use in their seats. Motion seconded and voted by a unanimous voice vote.

Article 7. To see if the Town will vote to raise and appropriate the sum of $7000 for the purchase of water meters, as petitioned for by the Water Commissioners and the Town Manager.

Article 7. VOTED by a voice vote.

Article 8. To see if the Town will vote to instruct the Board of Water Commissioners to install approximately 7000 feet of 10" main together with necessary gates and fittings, on Canton Street—from North Main Street to Turner Drive. And to meet the cost of this installation, the Town borrow, under the provisions of the General Laws and Amendments thereto or under applicable provisions of any special law, the sum of $65,000 for the same or to take any other action relative to the same, as petitioned for by the Board of Water Commissioners.

Article 8. VOTED by a unanimous vote.

Before this article was voted, Mr. O'Neil moved an amendment that this be deferred so that construction in the street not be done until such time as a survey is completed and we know the avenue we are going to go over. DEFEATED by a voice vote.

Article 9. To see if the Town will vote to instruct the Board of Water Commissioners to install a 6" water main, with necessary gates and fittings, on Stoughton Street between existing dead ends, a distance of 375 feet and raise and appropriate money therefor, as petitioned for by the Board of Water Commissioners.

Article 9. VOTED by a unanimous vote.

Article 10. To see if the Town will vote to instruct the Board of Water Commissioners to install a water line direct from water main to existing sill cock on North wall of Turner Public Library building and raise and appropriate money therefor. This line to be of sufficient size and pressure to operate sprinkler when watering the War Memorial Park, thereby eliminating connecting a hose across sidewalk to hydrant which causes a pedestrian traffic hazard at present, as petitioned for by Robert A. Corey and others.

Article 10. VOTED by a voice vote.

Article 11. To see if the Town will vote to acquire by purchase or take by eminent domain, a necessary easement as shown on Plan #Z103 on file in Town of Randolph Engineering Department, for the laying of a water main in connection with the water supply system of the Town of Randolph, and that $1.00 or any other sum of money be raised and appropriated or transferred from available funds for this purpose, as petitioned for by the Board of Water Commissioners.

Article 11. VOTED by a unanimous vote.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWARD T. CLARK,

Town Clerk

Report of the Director of Veterans Services

Herewith you will find a summary of services and veteran's benefits as administered by this office under the General Laws of Massachusetts, namely Chapter 115 and 584.

The need of this type of service is growing each year. This department administers four categories of veteran's benefits, as set up by law with State Department Rules and Regulations. The State Department of Veterans' Services under the existing laws, reimburses the Town of Randolph 50% of all monies expended after a rigid investigation by State Department Field Agent of all cases. All veteran's benefits cases were approved in 1961 by the State Department and the Town of Randolph will receive 50% reimbursement of all monies expended.

DUTIES: As Veterans' Agent he takes applications for Veterans' Benefits, under Chapter 115 as amended for those veterans or dependents of veteran that qualify under said laws. Upon taking an application for Veterans' Benefits the following processing is involved: The actual application interview of applicant at office obtaining vital statistics such as: Discharge papers, birth certificates, death certificates, marriage certificates, wage reports, court records, divorce records, dependency statements and bank letters. This involves writing to remote as well as local towns for this data. The next step is a home investigation by this agent to the home of the veteran and/or applicant to verify the circumstances as accurately given on the application and to better understand the family and home life of recipients. There is no actual method of determining the length of time involved in each new application, each particular case being of a separate category. Upon completion of a satisfied decision by this agent a duplicate application attached to special Form VS21 with full particulars of the case is then submitted to the State Department of Veterans' Services with recommendation to allow or disallow veteran's benefits.

Prior to receiving authorization from the State Department an additional investigation is made by their office to satisfy their 50% participation in this case. When their investigator has stamped his approval on the case the Town of Randolph is then eligible to be reimbursed 50% of benefits authorized by the State Department. The totals of all benefits paid each month are entered on Monthly Return Forms, notarized by the Agent and verified by the Town Treasurer, and submitted to the State Department prior to the 10th of the month following the month benefits are paid. If the applicant is employable, although temporarily unemployed and eligible for Veterans' Benefits, this office is not satisfied with merely accepting the case and filing it until the applicant notifies the agent that he has returned to work. Every effort is made through local and adjacent employers to return the applicant to gainful employment.

1. As Director of Veterans' Services, it is the duty of the director to service the veteran and his dependents in all phases of Federal and State Laws that may pertain to his or her benefits. It would be practically impossible to estimate the time spent on each case, as there are not two cases alike, average time in developing each case would be two hours, each service case is active for two months, as it is processed through so many channels before a decision is rendered from the Veterans' Administration. Through the efforts of this office retroactive pay to the veteran and his dependents on disability and pension claims in 1961 amounted to $12,695.45. Case load for year on Veterans Benefits 124 and Veterans' Services 218.

2. As Agent for the care of veterans' graves it is my duty to see that all veterans' graves in different cemeteries in town where there is no next of kin, be given perpetual care and that proper markers be set on these graves. We have over two hundred such graves in Randolph.

3. The duties of the Secretary to the above mentioned agent, require her to type all applications, write for documentary proofs that each case requires, file duplicate copies, prepare monthly report to State Department of Veterans' Services by this department, interview veterans and dependents in the absence of the Department Head, prepare payroll for recipients of veteran's benefits, prepare monthly medical and hospital bills for payment by the Town Accountant and State Department of Veterans' Services for authorization. Having acquired a photostating machine, we do all of our own photostating, making copies of all important documents, thus saving many inconveniences caused by delay. We do photostating for all departments in the Town Hall.

Scope and Affect of Work: Each case for veterans benefits has to be rigidly investigated before requesting recommendation for authorization by the local agent to the State Department of Veterans' Services, if case does not qualify according to laws as set up by the Commonwealth, the town would not receive the 50% reimbursement, which would effect the tax rate of the town. All claims under Federal Laws have to be developed thoroughly before they are submitted to the Veterans' Administration for their decision, if not, veteran would receive an unfavorable decision, which would effect the economy of the town.

Supervision and Guidance Received: The local agent is responsible for all decisions made, which involve many thousands of dollars of town funds. My cases are reviewed by the State Department of Veterans' Services Field Investigator.

Mental Demands: To negotiate a transfer of mental patient from a State Institution to V. A. N. P. Hospital, and to have a veteran admitted to V. A. Hospital for medical or surgery. Contacting banks who are about to foreclose on veteran's home, arranging for smaller payments over a period of time, so that they will not lose home through foreclosure. Arranging for employment for the handicapped veteran. Above are daily problems of this department. These problems are worked out by knowing laws pertaining to facts of each case and connections through years of this type of work. Processing and developing claims for War Service Connected Disabilities, Education, Insurance, Dental, Out-Patient Treatment, Loans under G. I. Bill for real estate and business. Widow's and Dependent Parent's Pension, Part III Benefits for W. W. I, W. W. II and Korean Wars. To administer above laws and problems agent has to be trained and qualified to perform these duties. All these duties require the Agent to learn and retain facts and details of the different laws so that they may be administered properly.

Personal Work Contacts: Employers, Probation Officers, Clerk of Courts, Admitting Officers in all V. A. Hospitals and private hospitals, local doctors and dentists, heads of all departments at the Veterans' Administration and several State Department, Unemployment Compensation and Social Security Division, Local Banks. All these are daily contacts pertaining to processing claims for both veterans' benefits and veterans' services.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM S. COLE

Report of the Board of Public Welfare

Effective June 1, 1961 Mrs. Frank Furey tendered her resignation as Social Worker to take up full time duties as housewife and mother. The Public Welfare Board and staff members congratulate her and wish her every success. This position remained vacant until November 20, 1961 when Town Manager, Robert A. Hancock, upon the recommendation of the Public Welfare Board, appointed Miss Shirley G. Powell, Stoughton, Mass. as full time permanent Social Worker. Miss Powell comes to Randolph with the highest of recommendations and qualifications, having been employed as clerk and Social Worker in the Stoughton Public Welfare Department for the past fourteen years. Our staff consists of five members, each certified and approved by the Division of Civil Services: One Junior Clerk, one Senior Clerk, two Social Workers, and one Director of Public Assistance.

During 1960-61 Randolph Public Welfare was one of three separate Welfare Boards in this State involved in a litigation as to which town is financially responsible for a person who resided in Randolph for only one week during 1954 with residence elsewhere prior and subsequent to 1954. The State Department of Public Welfare, after two appeal hearings, claimed it was Randolph's responsibility. All of the facts were presented by Town Counsel, William J. Carr, to the Dedham Superior Court which ruled that said person does not nor did have residence in Randolph. This decision has thus saved the Randolph taxpayer thousands of dollars as the applicant was a patient in several hospitals and rest homes since 1954.

As of December 31st, the number of active cases in receipt of categorical assistance follows:

Old Age Assistance	107
Medical Assistance for the Aged	32
Aid to Dependent Children	14
Aid to the Disabled	11
TOTAL	174

Total expenditure for these people, including administrative cost of $24,804.00 was $269,565.53. Total reimbursement from the Federal and State governments, and from other cities and towns in Massachusetts, was $213,000.00 or a net cost to Randolph of $56,565.00. For additional fiscal data, reference should be made to the Town Accountant's report.

Of the 60 cases dismissed for want of Prosecution, the police were complainants on 15.

Of the 57 cases released 32 were juveniles and were turned over to parents.

We are pleased to report that the Police Station is now manned on a twenty-four hour basis. This enables us to give to the citizens the service they have every right to expect.

Your attention must be called again to the inadequate quarters of the Police Department. As stated in our report of 1960, our present quarters are entirely too small to take care of the business we are confronted with.

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking the heads of all Departments, the Board of Selectmen, Town Manager and the Citizens of Randolph, for the assistance rendered during the past year.

Sincerely,

CARL L. MACAULEY
Chief of Police

Both the Central and North Randolph Stations are in good condition.

There were no Major mechanical repairs to the apparatus this year. However, in my opinion, engine two of the North Randolph Station, purchased in 1951, should be replaced in 1963.

As the body and pump are in good condition, I recommend that only the chassis be replaced, thereby saving approximately half the cost of a new unit.

Two skin divers suits were purchased and six men trained. These suits proved their worth in a short time by recovering a body in deep water at the local quarry.

FIRE PREVENTION AND INSPECTION

There were a total of 1134 mercantile and industrial inspections made in the year 1961 with a total of 141 violations being found, the majority being of minor variety.

Compared to the year 1960, the records show an increase of 71 in the number of inspections made and a decrease of 66 violations, proving once again that the merchants and manufacturers of the Town have been most cooperative in adhering to the recommendations made by the men of the Department on the inspection tours.

	Inspections made	Violations
Central Station	610	103
Station #2	526	38
	1136	141

Our home fire prevention activites were centered around the children of elementary school age. The 1400 pupils in grades 1—6 were given home inspection sheets during Fire Prevention Week, and awards were made to the most proficient room in each of the elementary schools.

To supplement the weekly inspections of mercantile and public buildings, a slide projector was purchased for studying slides of the construction, hazards and general firefighting problems of these buildings.

The training officers held weekly sessions with their companies. This training included pump operations, ladder work, and use and care of gas masks.

All officers are members of the Massachusetts drillmasters Association and attend each drill session, held monthly within the State.

The Boston Fire Department again invited personnell of the Randolph Department to attend a special course of instruction given at their new training school at Moon Island. All officers and a few of the firefighters attended the session.

The last of the old fire alarm boxes have been replaced and a few will be added to new locations this year.

New lines have been extended through Althea and Smith Road and also from Webster street to Pond and Fuller Street. Much of the old wire is being replaced.

A survey, to determine our classification, will be made in 1962 by the New England Fire Rating Bureau.

My gratitude is again extended to the members of my department for their dedication, loyalty and support.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL D. ANDERSON, Fire Chief

REPORTABLE DISEASES

During the year 1961 three hundred and thirty-four communicable diseases and other reportable conditions were reported to the Board of Health by physicians, hospitals and other persons, as follows: Chicken Pox 48; Dog Bite 143; German Measles 15; Hepatitis Infectious 2; Measles 79; Meningitis Pneumoccal 1; Mumps 21; Scarlet Fever 17; Tuberculosis 6; Pony Bite 1; Roseola 1.

CLINICAL PROGRAMS

Another Poliomyelitis inoculation clinic was held on May 19 and 1519 residents responded. A large number of those inoculated were receiving fourth, fifth and sixth shots.

Two Glaucoma Detection clinics were held on April 3 and 10. Only `89 residents of Randolph and Holbrook responded, of these 16 positive or suspicious cases were discovered. These clinics were once again sponsored by the Lions Club in cooperation with the Board of Health, volunteer optometrists and resident physicians from Mass. Eye and Ear Hospital.

Influenza vaccine inoculations were given to all Town employees who desired them during October and November, 150 shots were given.

In one of the first programs of its kind in the Commonwealth, the Board of Health, with the cooperation and assistance of the Junior Ladies' Library Association, local physicians and the Carney Hospital Laboratory Service, held a Cervix Cancer Detection Clinic during September and October. 105 women were examined and only one positive or suspicious case was discovered. Financial assistance was given by Corkin brothers, who have generously aided in other activities designed to give the townspeople better health programs.

PREMATURE INFANT PROGRAM

29 live premature births were reported to the Board of Health during the year. We were called upon to render assistance in 8 cases for 230 total hospital days at a total cost of $2748.00.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING PROGRAM

Three registered nurses continue to perform the public health and visiting nurse functions for the Town as has been the case for the past three years.

Because of an increase in Tuberculosis patients for whom Randolph was responsible, much time was spent in investigations relating to relatives and contacts of the patients. Patients, relatives, contacts and suspects were examined periodically and followed closely regarding advice, care and treatment.

An increase in live premature births resulted in an increase in home visits for post-natal care. The nurses continue to make home visits before and after all births to render assistance and give instruction. Pre-school children are also examined during these visits, if there are such children in the home visited.

The Well-Child conference is held once monthly at the Ladies' Library Building. The Ladies Library Association take care of clerical duties and preliminary work before the nurses take over. At these clinics the children receive inoculations that are necessary in addition to a general physical examination.

The nurses assisted at all clinics held in the Health Center, including polio inoculations, glaucoma detection and influenza shots.

Home visits also were on the increase during the year and is still a large part of the nursing activity. Each home visit, no matter what the reason, is also used as a teaching visit with preventive medicine as the main subject. Office visits continue to increase. They are designed for those patients who are able to get around and would rather receive treatment at the Health Center than in their own residences.

The nurses continue to attend classes and seminars in order to keep current with new techniques, modern medical care and preventative medicine.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

Various complaints regarding nuisances were investigated

during the year, the majority of them having to do with overflowing cesspools.

The rubbish collection problem was solved during the month of May when the bonding company employed Marinucci Bros., Quincy, to complete the contract of the Woodlawn Trucking Co., who were in default. Collectors went on a five day week and service performed was outstanding.

The elimination of buildings that are considered unfit for human habitation remains high on the agenda. However, the legal aspects that enter into almost 100% of the cases impede the destruction of the buildings and delay the advance of the program.

The Agent spent many man-hours during the year investigating proposed building sites and checking and approving new local sewage disposal systems. Much time is spent on areas for proposed industrial or professional development where public sewerage will not be available.

Rodent complaints investigated during the year were not as large in number as the previous year, but it was generally found that poor sanitation practices attracted the rodents and when conditions were corrected the rodents were usually eradicated.

ANIMAL AND SLAUGHTER

Mr. Cornelius J. Crowley, Animal and Slaughter Inspector reports for the year 1962 that there were 143 dogs quarantined; 3 cows were quarantined for tuberculosis. All barns in Randolph were inspected and at the present time there are 52 cows; 22 horses and 2 sheep. Two dog heads and 1 rat were sent to the Wasserman State Laboratory. Brucellosis tests were given and there were no reactors.

Three hundred and seventy-five calls were investigated during the year from calls received from the Board of Health; Police Department; Dog Officer and the Division of Livestock Disease Control of Massachusetts. There were no cases of encephalitis in Randolph this year.

PLUMBING AND GAS INSPECTOR

Mr. John O'Riley, acting Plumbing Inspector was replaced June 30 by Robert G. Gaynor who was appointed Plumbing Inspector and Gas Inspector. He assumed his duties July 1st.

Two hundred and six permits were issued including: 400 toilets, 313 sinks, 397 wash bowls, 259 bath tubs, 21 shower baths, 96 wash trays, 23 urinals, 117 pressure boilers, 1 dish washer, 23 gas heaters, 3 refrigerators, 22 floor drains, 22 tankless, 62 washing machine connections, 16 roof leaders, 3 electric water heaters, 6 slop sinks and 14 drinking fountains. The sum of $2016.00 was collected and turned over to the Town Treasurer.

Rules and regulations concerning the installation of gas using equipment have been published in accordance with Chapter 737, Acts of 1960. Applications are available at the Office of the Board of Health and permits are also issued from that office. Fees have been established and are in force as approved by the Town Meeting Members and the Attorney General of the Commonwealth.

The Gas Inspector takes this opportunity to advise all townspeople that prior to the installation or relocation of any gas using equipment a permit must be issued and upon completion of installation or relocation inspection by the Gas Inspector must be made before using.

MILK INSPECTOR

Henry Merrill is Milk Inspector for the Town of Randolph. During the year, 1 Pasteurization license $10.00; Oleo licenses 36—$18.00; Store licenses 38—$19.00; Vehicle licenses 20—$10.00. Total $57.00.

MOSQUITO CONTROL

The following work was performed by the Norfolk County Mosquito Control Project:

Aerial Spraying 460 acres; ground spraying 1,988 1/2 acres; pre-hatch dusting 86 acres; drainage 4,424 feet; brush clearing 649 feet; culverts cleaned 23; catch basins treated 2,051.

FOOD SANITATION

Visual inspections of establishments engaged in food handling was conducted regularly during the year and improvements in those places where they are needed are being made.

Bacteria tests of multi-use utensils are being done at least twice a year and improvement in decreasing the bacterial count below the allowable amount has been noted with pleasure.

A three day course for owners and managers of Food Service Establishments was held during April and thirty persons were awarded certificates upon completion of the course. Guest speakers during the program were the Chief Sanitarian, Mass., Dept. of Public Health; District Sanitary Engineer, Northeastern District Health Office, MDPH and Chief Sanitarian, Southeastern District Health Office MDPH. Mr. John J. Dowd, RS., Randolph Health Agent, arranged for the course and acted as moderator.

SCHOOL HEALTH PROGRAM

331 first grade children in the public schools were brought up to date with polio and diphtheria-tetanus injections during the year.

The Health Dept. has assisted St. Mary School, which opened in September, in initiating a health program and will do the same at the Temple Beth Am kindergarten in the near future.

The lack of a dental program in the schools remains as a blot against the Town. It is hoped that some day soon something will be done about it before too much more damage is done from a dental health standpoint.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Randolph has been selected as a pilot community in the use of the new Enders Measles Vaccine. It was one of three communities in the State considered qualified to take part in this revolutionary medical program on the basis of its outstanding public health programs and services during the past six years, plus the fact that it has a certified Public Health Officer as a member of its Board of Health. It is expected that during the early part of 1962 final plans concerning the operation of this measles vaccine program will be published.

REVENUE PRODUCED BY THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Sewage disposal permits and general licenses — $283.47; Hospital Subsidies — $209.28; Plumbing Licenses — $2016.00; Milk and Dairy Products — $57.00. Total revenue — $2565.75.

Report of the Civil Defense Agency

The Federal Government is responsible for a Civil Defense Plan and a National Policy.

The State Government is responsible for Leadership and Supervision of supporting operations in Civil Defense.

The Town Government is responsible for the development of our Civil Defense Organization, and for its operation.

For the first time in twelve years Randolph has a Civil Defense Headquarters Building to house all its activities. Class rooms for instruction, storage space for emergency equipment, and suitable accommodations for its Communications Section, and a Control Center.

In November, two of our members successfully passed the difficult Massachusetts Civil Defense Radiological Instruction Course, and are now available for development of radiological operational capability for our Town. This fact insures Randolph eligibility to receive radiological equipment for detection of missile fall-out, and the development of qualified radiological operations.

Definite action on Fall-out Shelters is dependent upon studies nearing completion by the Federal Government. Although the over-all problem is the saving of lives, no two communities have the same factors to consider, such as terrain, transportation, density of population, target areas, schools and utilities.

The hazard of natural phenomena is one phase of civil defense that is ever present, and probably more pressing than the accident of War. In this situation Civil Defense must be prepared to respond immediately, and depend upon its own resources to return to normal conditions.

The development of Auxiliary Civil Defense Firemen, and Auxiliary Civil Defense Policemen must be included in the training schedule for an efficient Civil Defense Organization.

Civil Defense Plans for Randolph are approved by higher authority, and include all phases of emergency preparation. However, an efficient civil defense operation requires the participation of all our townspeople, and is no stronger than its weakest link — APATHY — to the needs of the other fellow.

RALPH E. MacLEOD

Report of the Board of Water Commissioners

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The seventy-sixth Annual Report of the Board of Water Commissioners is hereby submitted, covering activities of the Department for the year ending December 31, 1961. You are urged to analyze the entire report which gives complete data relative to maintenance, metering, pumping, purification, new construction, etc.

Organization of the Board:

Frederick D. Driscoll	Chairman
Martin E. Young	Clerk
William J. Almond	Associate

During the calendar year 1961, one hundred seventy-four applications for new services were received. These have been installed and added to the system.

DEPARTMENT MAINTENANCE

Fifty-eight service leaks were repaired—twenty-nine were broken inside the cellar walls and twenty-nine were in the street. Twenty-one of these were renewed from main to line and six were renewed throughout. Three services were relocated and five old services were shut off and abandoned. Thirteen services were rodded out and cleaned. With the extreme and extended cold weather of last January this Department had seventy frozen services due to the deep penetration of frost. Wherever possible these services have been lowered to obtain additional cover and were also insulated to prevent reoccurrence of this freezing in the future. Twenty-eight service boxes and four gate boxes found broken, were dug up and replaced.

In conjunction with the Highway Division's road surfacing and sidewalk construction, gates and service boxes were adjusted to new grades on North St., Mill St., So. Main St. and No. Main St. as related to the work. Also, due to drainage work and road widening on Chestnut St., two hydrants were relocated to new curb lines and five services were renewed and were also relocated to new curb line.

During the year the Department had eleven broken hydrants. Three of these were broken by snowplows, the balance by auto collisions of which four were hit and run and the rest were paid for through insurance. One hydrant was relocated, one was raised to new grade and two other hydrants found to have faulty operation were repaired.

METER DEPARTMENT

In the meter department one hundred sixty-three meters were removed; ninety eight found not registering; thirteen for noise complaints; twenty-four frozen and burst; seven for test; six for junk and fifteen for other various reasons. Eighty-three meters were reset. Two hundred and ninety new meters were set on previously unmetered services and nine large meters were also set on large demand lines. Forty-six new meters were also set as replacements. On January 1, 1962 the system had 4923 metered and 143 unmetered active services.

NEW MAIN CONSTRUCTION EXTENSIONS AND REPLACEMENTS

The 6600 feet of 12" main on Canton Street installed this year, proved very valuable in maintaining supply to the Deer Park section. After the completion of the installation there was no need of restriction of use of water as had been the case in previous years. This line, plus the booster stations and added storage (standpipes) have proven invaluable in maintaining service. The contemplated enlarging of the Pond Street Pumping Station, which will be under way early this Spring, will further alleviate past conditions in the system. It is hoped that this policy pursuant to strengthening the present system, will be further continued in the future.

Additional main installations were as follows: Castleton Avenue—350 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 2 gates, 1 hydrant; Lisa Road—448 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 2 gates, 1 hydrant; Stoughton Street—approximately 375 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 2 gates, 1 hydrant. (Eight services were connected to this new main); McNeil St.—354 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 1 gate; Hillsdale Road—approximately 600 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 1 hydrant; Jane St.—100 feet of 6" C. I. pipe; Oakwood Drive—475 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 2 gates, 1 hydrant; Reed St.—50 feet of 6" C. I. pipe; Abby St.—48 feet of 6" C. I. pipe; Lindberg Ave.—100 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 1 gate; Alice Road—700 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 2 gates, 1 hydrant; Fitch Terrace—280 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 1 gate; Canton Street—approximately 200 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 1 gate, 1 hydrant; Bruce Circle—500 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 2 gates, 1 hydrant; Rae Circle—450 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 1 gate, 1 hydrant; Niles Road—200 feet of 6" C. I. pipe; Hill Park Terrace—570 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 3 gates, 1 hydrant; Green Street—824 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 5 gates; Maple Glen—500 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 1 gate; Eagle Rock Road—1000 feet of 6" C. I. pipe, 2 gates, 1 hydrant; Off Allen Street—approximately 300 feet of 8" C. I. pipe, 1 gate.

Free services for: Randolph Mfg. Co.—22 feet of 8" main, 1 gate.

MAIN BREAKS

North Main Street—14" main—blown joint; Union Street—12" main—blown joint; Curran Terrace—6" main—cracked pipe; Standpipe—12" main—cracked pipe; Fernandez Shopping Center—6" main—broken by contractor; Hillsdale Road—6" main—cracked pipe; Mill Street—6" main—cracked pipe; Webster Street—6" main—broken by sewer construction; Webster Street—6" main—broken by sewer construction; Webster Street—6" main—broken by sewer construction; Amelian Road—6" main—broken by sewer construction; Linden at Amelian Road—6" main—broken by sewer construction; Norroway Ave.—6" main—broken by sewer construction; Eugenia St.—6" main—cracked pipe.

On December 31, 1961 the system had:

64.35 miles of main from 4" to 14".
525 hydrants.

Report of the Sewer Commissioners

The Sewer Commissioners are proud to report the completion of Trunk #2. The Pond Street Pumping Station, force main and lateral connections have been completed. This now closes a system from the proposed Industrial Park Area thru Randolph to the Cochato River MDC Connection.

To date, 2 schools, Temple Beth Am, 22 apartments and 19 private Dwellings are directly connected to public sewerage. Contracts have been awarded for additional private dwelling connections on Webster Street, Amelian Road and Pond Street.

In the process of completion for public sewerage are one industrial building, two additional apartment buildings and one nursing home. The engineering and layout is nearing completion and expected to be ready for award this spring on the initial phase of the Stetson Park Program.

Respectfully submitted,
BOARD OF SEWER COMMISSIONERS

Report of the Engineering Department

From January to October, 1961, the engineering department was under the direction of Mr. John E. Levreault, Town Engineer, and Mr. Peter Boghossian, Assistant Town Engineer. In October the Town regretfully accepted the resignation of Mr. Peter Boghossian whose work was diligently and carefully carried out. The position of Assistant Town Engineer was filled by Mr. Charles W. Lehto, Registered Land Surveyor.

During the year 1961, the engineering department furnished engineering services including design, layout, supervision and inspection of various projects for other Town Departments as follows:

BOARD OF SELECTMEN

Inspection and policing of gravel removal operations, house numbering, approval of power pole locations, approval of underground utilities layouts, and consulting engineering services in connection with the proposed North Randolph Industrial Park.

TOWN TREASURER

Engineering services involving inspection of tax title property.

ASSESSOR'S DEPARTMENT

Investigation of Town owned property and the preparation of plans.

WATER DEPARTMENT

Preliminary surveys and investigations for water pipe installations.

PLANNING BOARD

Attended regular meetings, where possible and rendered engineering services, including supervision and inspection of subdivision roadway construction, including sidewalks and underground utilities, to insure conformity with existing rules and regulations of the Randolph Planning Board.

Made studies of, and gave recommendations relative to preliminary and definitive plans of proposed subdivisions.

Subdivision roadways completed during 1961 were as follows:

Lisa Road off Lafayette Street, a distance of 600 feet.

Hillsdale Road (extension) off Centre Street, a distance of 1,000 feet.

Althea Road (extension) to Grove Street, a distance of 1,200 feet.

Smith Road (extension) to Grove Street, a distance of 1,200 feet.

Hill Park Terrace off Grove Street, a distance of 570 feet.

Niles Road (extension) off Smith Road, a distance of 250 feet.

Bruce Circle off Hill Park Terrace, a distance of 480 feet.

Rae Circle off Niles Road (extension) a distance of 500 feet.

SCHOOL PLANNING AND BUILDING COMMITTEE

Attended meetings as requested, made inspections and gave recommendations relative to suitability of proposed school sites. Surveyed and prepared both site and topographical plans of school sites for use by architects in charge of design and construction, and also for use by Town Counsel in land taking proceedings.

SIDEWALK MAINTENANCE AND CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Made preliminary surveys, prepared plans and specifications, and rendered engineering services including lines and grades, supervision and inspection of sidewalk maintenance and construction projects under continuing program of the Town Manager, detailed as follows:

Sidewalk Maintenance

North Main Street—easterly sidewalk reconstructed as necessary and resurfaced with bituminous concrete from the southerly side of No. 875 North Main Street (Scottie's Market) to the southerly curb line of Pond Street, under one contract, for a distance of 2,350 feet.

Bituminous Concrete Sidwalk Construction

Sidewalks constructed under the direction of the engineering department, including the installation of bituminous curbing, surfacing with two courses of bituminous concrete, and loaming and grassing of cut and/or filled slopes, were as follows:

Mill Street—southerly side from No. 75 Mill Street to No. 235 Mill Street, for a distance of 900 feet. Work included removal and disposal of a moderate amount of ledge, and the construction of three granite masonry retaining walls for a total distance of 250 feet. Prior to the construction of the sidewalk the existing pavement along the length of this contract was widened an average of 6 feet in width to provide a wider traveled way and a paved gutter.

South Main Street—easterly side, from the end of existing walk at the southerly side of the E. C. Young Co., to the northerly side of the existing driveway of Ho. #224 South Main Street, a distance of 340 feet.

Cement Concrete Sidewalk Construction

A cement concrete sidewalk was constructed on the Northerly side of Diauto Drive from the westerly sideline of North Main Street to the driveway on the easterly side of the Prudential Insurance Company, a distance of 292 feet. This work was performed in accordance with applicable specifications of the Mass. Dept. of Public Works, Division of Highways and Bridges. This work further included the construction of a stone masonry retaining wall and access steps along the side of the .Trinity Episcopal Church. The total length of the retaining wall was approximately 92 feet.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Engineering assistance given to the highway department included design, layout, lines and grades for various roadway and drainage projects detailed under the Report of the Highway Superintendant.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN E. LEVREAULT,
Town Engineer

Report of the Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen and Citizens of Randolph:

The Tree and Moth Department activites for the year 1961 have been generally along the order of other years. Fifty dead trees were removed during the year, and a great many pruned. These trees were replaced where possible with new ones. Ninety new trees were planted in the year of 1961. Tree planting has moved on, but not at the rate that I have anticipated. The continuous spread of Dutch Elm Disease has made it necessary to remove thirty dead Elm trees during the year. All areas where children pass to and from school, and all School yards and parks, where Poison Ivy is present have been sprayed and remedied, to the best of my ability.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts through its Insect Control Department has notified this department that our liability for Gypsy Moth control work for the coming year is $3,300.00 and have recommended that this Department ask for an appropriation of $3,300.00 to be expended solely for control against those insects specified in Section 11, as a public nuisance.

Respectfully Submitted,
JOSEPH J. HART
Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent

Report of the School Planning & Building Committee

Your committee is proud to report the progress made in our School Building System.

The two six classroom additions on the Tower Hill & McNeil Elementary Schools were occupied by student in September 1961. Of the total appropriation of $345,000.00, $304,370.00 has been expended as of December 31, 1961.

In October 1961, the new North Junior High School was occupied by students and is approximately 95% complete, including the site work yet to be accomplished. Of the total appropriation of $1,165,000.00, $1,075,000.00 has been expended as of December 31, 1961.

A total of $961,000.00 was appropriated for the construction of a 24 classroom elementary school to be constructed on Reed Street. The firm of Edward J. Tedesco Associates was selected as architect for the school. The firm of C.R. Burns & Son was awarded the building contract as low bidder.

As of December 31, 1961, the committee retained a balance of $471.72 in its working fund.

This committee looks forward toward 1962 with optimism on not requiring any appropriation for school construction.

Report of the Dog Officer

To the Board of Selectmen:

The position of Dog Officer for the Town of Randolph within the past year has become increasingly difficult for the following reasons.

There are now more dog owners in the town than at any time within the history of the town. As shown in this report, a decided increase in the dog licenses was shown in 1961. However, many of our citizens, whether intentionally or through indifference, neglect to abide by the law that all dogs three months of age or over must be licensed as of April 1st of the current year.

I would be remiss in my duties if advance warning was not given at this time to all dog owners, that in 1962 all owners of dogs failing to comply with the law will have, after warning, court action taken against them.

Many complaints have been received, investigated and disposed of. Lost dogs have been recovered and returned to their owners.

We again urge all dog owners, for the protection of their pets, to obtain the proper licenses.

I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to the Police Department, the Town Clerk, Board of Selectmen and Inspector of Animals for all the cooperation afforded me in the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

ROGER L. NILES
Dog Officer

Report of the Board of Selectmen

To the citizens of Randolph:

The year of 1961 proved to be a year of various changes with many complex problems to confront our townspeople.

The major change came about with the people voting out the Selectman-Manager form of government, thus reverting the government back to the form of government before the Town Manager, with many appointed personnel now having to seek office through election. To avoid much confusion and to give our government an orderly transformation, your Board selected a well-diversified and qualified group of citizens to draw up a new type of government. The Town Meeting agreed that this type of action was needed, so the committee was formed and did present to the Legislature a draft of government which the committee felt best fitted Randolph's needs. However, the Committee on Towns did not give the citizens of Randolph an opportunity to decide for themselves, but instead referred this legislation for further study. This action, along with the Senate eventually defeating the bill, added more confusion to an already complex problem. In denying our citizens a chance to vote on legislation drawn up by Randolph citizens, the Senate, in substance, informed us that they would decide what form of government Randolph would be subjected to live under, whether we liked it or not. How can a member of the Legislature or Senate, residing in any other community, know better than the people of Randolph what is needed to cure their ills of government?

This past year also found Town Manager Robert Hancock resigning and Mr. Felix Carlino replacing him in the capacity of Acting Town Manager.

To Mr. Hancock we wish to extend many thanks for the services he performed to make our town government a smooth performing operation for the use and betterment of all citizens. There were many hours Mr. Hancock gave to our Town far beyond the normal working day in order that our citizens would be able to live in a town that left nothing to chance. We refer specifically to winter nights during heavy snowstorms when his working day went from one day to another with little time for sleep. His only reward was the townspeoples remarks of a difficult job well done. These people probably never realized the sacrifice that its success entailed.

We must also commend Mr. Hancock for the effort he expended to bring industrial development to Randolph. In this area of accomplishment he left no stone unturned to bring about concrete results. Today we can actually see buildings under construction, and this, we hope, is only the beginning to further industrial growth in our town. Your Board has conducted numerous meetings with potential industrial developers on our industrial site located in North Randolph. As you may realize, negotiations of this type are quite complicated and involve many problems. However, we feel very optimistic about its prospects, and hope that by the time you are reading this report, a contract will be signed between the town and a developer. Although our problems are many, none are so complicated that they cannot be solved.

This past year we have witnessed the construction of attractive apartment houses. Although these are new in our town and we may look upon them as contrary to our traditional dwellings of the past, they do have much merit and should be a welcome addition to help lift our financial burden.

Throughout the year, your Board has received many requests from its citizens to correct situations that have created localized or neighborhood problems. It is very gratifying to report to you that we have rendered a great deal of assistance to these citizens whenever available funds permitted it with the cooperation of the various departments.

In early summer of this year, we were informed by local businessmen that the railroad was contemplating closing down the spur track into Randolph. Fully realizing this would be a severe blow to the many industries serviced by the railroad in Randolph and also to Randolph people employed by these same industries, we immediately set up a meeting. Many of the top officials of the New Haven Railroad attended this meeting along with local businessmen. Your Board pointed out to the Railroad officials their advantages as well as ours in continuing this service. Thanks to this meeting with splendid cooperation from businessmen and Railroad officials, we are still enjoying the services of the Railroad.

Your Board also sponsored what we considered very urgent and necessary legislation to protect our people from the hazardous conditions existing from open quarry holes and sandpits. We also sponsored a towing law to prevent people from leaving cars in the roadway during snowstorms. This practice had prevented the Highway Department from plowing out some streets and had further added to the expense of clearing our streets.

We have conducted many hearings of various types throughout the year and feel very strongly that we have protected the people of Randolph to our fullest capabilities. This past year we found it necessary to suspend a liquor license on the first offense for a period of thirty days. This we felt was most justified, for the holder of this license was selling liquor to minors. In order to help correct the statewide juvenile problems which almost always involve liquor being consumed by minors, we felt such action necessary. We have a clean community and we desire to keep it that way by protecting our youth.

We wish to submit to you the following statistics which may be of interest to you. From the period of March through December, out of a total of 177 votes as shown by our minutes, we voted 158 times unanimously. In this same period we had thirty-eight regular weekly meetings and fifty special meetings, including hearings. As the figures reveal, our year has been not only an eventful one but also it has been a very demanding one on your Board. We believe our records bear out the fact that we are continually striving to serve you, and that your Board does set aside any personal feelings or differences when it comes to vote on various issues confronting us.

The Town Clerk, at a special meeting this year, warned the Town Meeting Members of our high bonded indebtedness. We concur fully with the statement of the Town Clerk that everything must be done to avoid increasing this debt. This liability can almost entirely be charged to our rapid growth since World War II, which brought about the demands for increasing our school and water facilities plus the installation of sewers which were necessary to protect our water supply and upgrade our sanitary health conditions. It is hoped that in the near future, we will arrive at a leveling off period and thus be able to go for a considerable length of time without borrowing on a long-term basis. This has a great effect on our present tax rate and we must strive to reduce it to a minimum.

After Mr. Hancock's resignation was accepted, we were very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Carlino as Acting Manager. Mr. Carlino brought with him a wealth of experience in the construction field, along with efficient practices which have proven successful in private business. After only a short time in office, he has proven that he has the ability and know-how to get the job done, whether large or small.

Your Board wishes to thank the Town Manager, the employees and department heads who have aided us in any way. We also again this year wish to extend a special thanks to all the members of the various boards and committees who so generously gave freely of their time and skills to help make this a better Randolph.

(The Library is closed on Sunday and on all legal holidays.)

To the Citizens of Randolph:

In accordance with the provisions of Article III of the By-laws for the government of the Trustees of the Turner Library, this eighty-sixth annual report is submitted to show the condition of the Trust—the library, the building and the funds—for the calendar year 1961 and to mention such other matters concerning the Library as may be of general interest.

With respect to library service during the past year I wish to call your attention to the highlights recorded by the librarian, Mrs. Lucia S. Faulkner, in her most recent narrative to the Trustees which is appended as a portion of this annual report. I think you will agree that this reflects another busy and successful year at the Library. With 5279 persons now holding Library cards, the number of borrowers has reached a new "high". At the same time the number of books and periodicals borrowed from the Library climbed to 76,256 for 1962—another record figure.

In this report a year ago, your attention was called to the fact that Randolph's Library still occupies, and serves you in, the same three rooms used by the Library when it was first opened more than 85 years ago. Inasmuch as the Welfare Department has felt unable to move from quarters on the first floor, no relief for the Library's badly overcrowded and otherwise obsolete and inadequate facilities has been obtained to date. The Trustees, however, are steadfastly hopeful that this present year will bring a change in this situation and that a substantial service for adult library patrons can be offered in this first-floor area. Proper plans, of course, are being made to assure the earliest possible occupancy by the Library — funds permitting — of all available space needed and appropriate for serving Randolph's growing population.

A number of minor but necessary repairs to the Library Building have been completed during the year just past. However, more substantial repairs and maintenance, such as painting the exterior woodwork and pointing the masonry, must be undertaken. With the completion of this work, the Trustees believe the building will be in a generally satisfactory condition.

During 1961, the Trustees authorized and approved expenditures totalling $34,841.26. Of this total, $5,818.26 came from the Library's invested funds and from rents and miscellaneous income. Of the balance, $3,966.81 came from the State Grant and $25,056.19 was the net amount appropriated by the Town for the needs of the Library. A summary of the Library's finances for 1961 prepared for the Trustees by the Treasurer of the Library, Mr. John L. Porter, is appended as a part of this report.

In order to simplify the handling and accounting of the Library's several trust funds and to make it possible from time to time in administering these funds to take better advantage of favorable investment opportunities, the Trustees have voted unanimously to consolidate these invested funds. However, appropriate provision was made to preserve the identity and respective value of each of the three funds concerned — in order that any future need for these data can be met.

In the coming year, there will be a moderate increase in the Library's financial needs. Salaries of regular members of the Library Staff should be increased to bring them into favorable comparison with the salaries of other employees of the Town and of members of the staffs of other comparable, nearby libraries. The increased numbers of borrowers and the greater "circulation" mentioned earlier bring a greater need of books — not only new titles but also replacements of older titles. There also is a continuing need to fill certain "gaps" in the Library's book collection.

Altogether these facts clearly indicate the need of increased funds for the purchase of books. Then there is the matter of repairs, adjustments and maintenance of the building. Expenditures of these kinds have been particularly light in recent years but cannot be neglected on such a fine, old building. Windows must be reputtied and the sash and trim painted; the main hallway needs repainting; some obsolete and inadequate lighting fixtures must be replaced; and another room must have its floor levelled and recovered. After using all of the Library's expected income for 1962 and, counting on the same State Grant as in 1961, it appears that a moderate increase in the net amount of the Town's appropriation for the Library will be required.

The Trustees recognize the necessity of making access to the truth easy and rapid for all who seek it. For the overwhelming majority of people in this nation, the quickest and easiest access to the world's best thought is through the public library. Here in Randolph this means through the Turner Library. The Turner Library Staff and Trustees are ready, willing and eager to see that Randolph has a library service that truly meets the needs of its residents. The final answer, however, is in the hands of all of us who pay taxes to the Town; for it is we who directly or indirectly must provide the funds needed to carry on. The Trustees urge that each resident and taxpayer do his and her part to help meet our Library's relatively small financial need.

In closing this report, it always is a pleasure to acknowledge with gratitude the capable and loyal services of all members of the Staff of the Turner Library throughout the year just ended. The Trustees are grateful also for the cooperation, assistance and understanding of the Selectmen of the Town and of the Town's Department Heads and Committees.

LAURENCE F. SHURTLEFF, President
Trustees of the Turner Free Library

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

Turner Free Library is a venerable institution, but quite in keeping with the demands of the times it shows a wonderful capacity for growth and for out-and-out change. 1961 has been a GOOD YEAR—one of further growth and development, of some goals reached and of increased rapport with the community.

The adult public or tax-payers of the town and hence those most interested in being knowledgeable on the subject of returns on those taxes, had specific additional services in 1961. Experimentally we initiated a type of first-floor-service. The first floor not being available to us, save for the rather narrow foyer, we were sadly restricted for space; nevertheless, on clement days there was desk service for the issue and return of adult books, such service to be resumed when the weather again permits. Response from our public indicated in no uncertain terms the great convenience they will find regular first-floor-service to be, once space is available.

Recognizing the peculiar transportation problem of a much-spread-out-town, Turner Library installed a large, outdoor chest-with-slot for the return of books when the library was closed. Books were deposited together with the library cards in the chest, and credited thereafter. Unfortunately there are always those whose selfish abuse of property outdoors robs the general public of certain benefits. For this reason this service has had to be discontinued.

Adults were encouraged to join the Great Books Discussion Group, jointly sponsored by Randolph and Holbrook, and held in the Turner Library at 8:00 P.M. on alternate Tuesdays. Cheerfully meeting in the only room available to them — the Children's Room — this lively discussion group has further served to emphasize the need for more adequate space. Our public also saw in 1961 regular service in taking "book reserves" over the telephone. Last, but not least, three things came for adult borrowers which will add substantially to their comfort and to their gratification — i.e., a beautiful and very modern magazine unit, serving for both display and back-issue accomodation, and near at hand two very modern lounge chairs with table. The predominating color from the beautiful window above having been picked up, a harmonious meeting of the old and new was achieved. With a smile we found a definite "behavior pattern" emerging in the puffing ascent up the front stairs and a prompt settling down for browsing in the new lounge chairs. What more natural!

Adult registration in 1961 was the highest in three years, comprising 32-1/2% of the total registration of borrowers. Library cards are now being held by 5,279 people. As further service to our adult public, and as part of the observance of National Library Week, we arranged a book talk by Miss Edna G. Peck of the Boston Public Library. Also, for the first time, Randolph was added to the long list of cities and towns regularly "going all out" in this national and educational activity by having a Citizens' Committee, headed by Mr. Alfred B. Hills.

Still further, in line with adult public relations, was the contribution made by Mr. Warren Claff, your fellow trustee. So helpful was his address as participating panel guest, in the role of man of industry to over a hundred librarians of the Old Colony Library Club — professional club of the Old Colony Area — that it was printed in the October issue of the Bay State Librarian — official bulletin of the Massachusetts Library Association. Titled "The Library and the Community — a Two-Way Street," its success was such that Mr. Claff was invited to address an institute at Simmons College. A contribution was also made to this panel by George Sullivan, then a library page, who spoke from the college student's viewpoint.

A joint meeting of members of your board and of your librarian with the Randolph School Committee was productive of warm and mutual cooperation. Groundwork was laid for regular visits of the high school, junior high and elementary classes to visit their town library for orientation and instruction in the use of books and reference tools.

Although the great need for a first assistant on the Library's staff, was not met during the past year, the fine standard of part-time service is being maintained, though necessarily some of those mentioned a year ago have moved along. We are most fortunate in having the services of Miss Alice Raymond, Mrs. Gertrude Walsh, Mrs. Ruth Puffer, Mrs. Irene Kelley and Mr. Ernest Baker. John Wallace, Kenneth Ekman, Norman Fine and William Lenahan served as library pages, two of whom — to maintain tradition — are on the high school honor roll.

Physically the Library has undergone some changes both on the grounds and within. With gutters patched, adequate underground drains installed and the kind and quick attention of the Town in furnishing some loam and a surprise service on the side, a lawn of sorts emerged and a very pretty garden. Within the building, borrowers found the lower hall freshly painted and what we shall call a "high-dado-job" carried up to the second floor of the hall. The custodian and pages carry the honors on this efficent task. Over the entire main adult area new linoleum was laid by most cooperative workmen; and the work performed by the entire staff in relocating furniture and moving thousands of books with cheerfulness and efficiency elicits only superlatives like "magnificent." For one day only of this herculean job was the library closed — otherwise SERVICE WAS MAINTAINED.

For the second time the Milton Public Library — friend indeed to us in our need — sold us furniture for a token figure, thereby substantially increasing our studying and seating accommodations. Grateful as we were for these assists, the time had come for Turner Library to make its furnishings more commensurate with its growth and with the growth of the town. A large part of the State Grant-in-Aid, forwarded through the sincere desire of the Town Finance Committee to observe the real intent of the law, enabled us not only to purchase the magazine unit and table and lounge chairs earlier referred to, but a handsome and modern catalogue, suitable, I am sure, for the long tenure which our very old one enjoyed; and a double-faced shelving unit sorely needed for the Young Adult area. These long-awaited and much needed pieces for a nucleus of the equipment which Turner Library should have for efficient and modern functioning, and for the more adequate display and housing of its all-important "commodity" — books!

Children's Book Week was celebrated in 1961 with book displays and puzzles designed to test their book knowledge. Inadequate seating accommodations in the Children's Room were somewhat bettered, although new furniture will soon be needed.

Appreciation must never be one-sided. A report to your board and thence to the town would be incomplete without the sincerest appreciative mention of your forward-looking attitude and support during the past year.

With circulation of Adult books and Young Adult books having increased again appreciably in both fiction and non-fiction fields; with strong additions to the reference and fiction material in Adult, Young Adult and Juvenile Collections; with the green light from your board and the School Committee for a near-crash program of library instruction; and with greatly increased interest of the public in their library, is it any wonder we call 1961 a GOOD YEAR? The lights are still all green!

Respectfully submitted,

LUCIA S. FAULKNER, Librarian

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

School Department

OF THE

TOWN OF RANDOLPH

For the Year Ending December 31,

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Randolph School Committee herewith submits its annual report to the citizens of the town.

School Committee meetings are held regularly on the first and third Mondays of every month at 8:00 p.m. at the Office of the Superintendent of Schools and the public has always been cordially invited to attend.

Committee members are elected by the people under the General Laws of the Commonwealth for a period of three years and serve without remuneration. As agents of the Commonwealth, they are required to carry out the conduct of eduction in conformity with, and as delegated by the State Legislature under the General Laws in the areas of policy, budget matters, faculty and system appointments, textbook and curriculum approvals, evaluation, and planning of the entire educational program.

The past year will truly be recorded by historians as the most progressive by far in the area of education in Randolph's 168 years of existence. Three new school buildings with modern facilities were opened, providing 41 additional classrooms and construction was started on the Reed St. Elementary School which will provide an additional 24 rooms. Nowhere in the history of our town has so much been accomplished in so little time. Truly a tribute to all of the townspeople who made this possible, for without their assistance, keen interest and sincere desire to move forward an educational program second to none, this would not have been possible.

This past year produced more highly qualified, competent youngsters for college and business fields than in any time in our history. One need only take note of the many academic and scholastic high levels of achievement attained by the Randolph Students. Continued strong emphasis placed on up-grading the curriculum offered youngsters from primary through secondary levels already has proven to consistently produce the finest student body.

Most important of all, perhaps, is the code of ethics achieved by the students themselves. Strong school spirit, high morale and enthusiasm expressed by the youngsters indicate their continued desire to succeed to levels beyond expectations.

It might be well to point out that all decisions rendered by your School Committee are primarily made in the best interests of all the youngsters of our town. We would like to express our appreciation to the townspeople for their patience and confidence during the past year.

The Committee wish to express its appreciation to the Superintendent of Schools and his staff of administrators, to the teachers, clerks, cafeteria workers, and custodial staff, and to all town personnel for their loyal cooperation and deep devotion in the task of providing our town's educational system.

We are most grateful for your support and strongly feel the school system of any community reflects the efforts and wishes of the citizens.

We welcome your comments and constructive criticisms in guiding the destiny of the Randolph School System.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

The Randolph Public Schools went through a year of great trial, tribulation, and accomplishment in 1961. All personnel worked diligently, and frequently beyond the normal call of duty in order to achieve all that was accomplished.

October 25th saw all classes on full session for the first time in five years. This was possible with the completion of the North Junior High and six-room additions at the McNeil and Tower Hill Schools. The North Junior High, completed at a cost of $1,184,000.00 will accommodate 800 pupils. The total cost of the building and grounds was at least $240,000.00 less than similar sized schools recently completed in neighboring communities.

The opening of the new buildings brought with it the usual number of problems, such as heating plant failures, which seem to be a part of the regular pattern until all final adjustments can be made. These resulted in a great deal of inconvenience to parents, teachers and pupils and their patience and understanding were greatly appreciated. It is sincerely hoped that the contractors involved have finally solved all of the problems.

In order to avoid double sessions and split-grades, it was again necessary to transfer a number of pupils out of their regular school districts, resulting in a great deal of strong protesting by the parents of the children involved. We all sincerely regret the necessity for these transfers. They were done in as fair and equitable manner as was possible, and always with the educational objective the primary concern.

The opening of the new elementary school now being constructed on Reed Street should allow us to return to a reasonable degree of normalcy in the elementary grades. This new building is scheduled for completion on or about October 25, 1962.

The opening of this building will necessitate a complete realignment of the elementary school districts. From the opening of school in September, 1962, until the opening of the new elementary school, it is quite probable that it will be necessary for some groups to operate on an abbreviated or "double" session. This condition should not hold for more than two months.

The opening of four classrooms in St. Mary's new elementary school, with an enrollment of approximately 140 pupils alleviated somewhat our classroom needs in grades one and two. It should be kept in mind that some of these pupils would have attended parochial schools out of town, had St. Mary's not opened. It is believed that two more classrooms will be opened in September, 1962, which will again help us in the primary enrollment.

The North Junior High, built for a capacity of 800 pupils, opened with an enrollment of 777 pupils of grades 7 and 8.

The Senior High School, housing 975 pupils of grades 9-12 is capable of handling only a few more pupils, and it is impossible for us to improve our program of studies in the high school without more room. This can be accomplished by removing grade nine from the high school. In order to do this, a South

Junior High School should be constructed and ready for occupancy by the Fall of 1964.

A study of the lower grade enrollments printed elsewhere in this school report will readily indicate the rising tide which is in prospect for the junior and senior high school grades. Our present first and second grade enrollments are twice as large as they were six or seven years ago. Decreasing numbers in the upper grades do not mean that as groups move up through the grades they become smaller, rather they increase as a result of families moving into our community.

As proof of this we note that forty-one new students were enrolled in grades 1-6 the week following the Christmas vacation. As a consequence of all this, the need for the second junior high is readily apparent.

This was indicated in a survey presented by this administration in January 1956 and which was substantiated by the report of Shurcliff and Merrill in 1960. Our actual enrollment as of now actually is greater than that which was predicted by the two surveys.

The curriculum of our high school underwent great changes during 1961. Many of these changes are delineated in the report of Mr. Gilgan. As you are well aware, the final Program of Studies, was the end result of many meetings of the school administrators and the members of the Randolph School Committee. It is our purpose to evaluate the program continuously and to recommend any needed changes as they develop.

The program for those who hope to go on to college has been intensified and augmented so that those pupils who have the ability, desire, and determination certainly may do so. The recent installation of one of the most complete language laboratories in the country should be a tremendous asset to all who are interested in modern languages, for in a few short months we have been able to see its very positive effects.

Placement of our commercial and vocational graduates has been excellent and the very fine reports back from industry concerning their work are a tribute to them and the teaching which they have received in the Randolph Schools.

Vocational Training, particularly in the area of electronics, would seem to be the answer to the needs of many of our pupils.

I sincerely hope that the plans for a regional vocational school, including Randolph, will come to fruition in the near future. Men in industry tell me that there is a great need for trained technicians and this would be the way for us to prepare our youth for these positions.

Practically every newspaper or periodical one reads these days, contains an article concerning education in the public schools. One reads of "team-teaching," "team-learning," "machine-teaching," "ungraded-classroom," etc. We are aware of all of these and constantly evaluating them as are our fellow educators both in this area and throughout the country. Our policy is to carry on our educational program, be it on the elementary or secondary level, on a sound, practical basis, and always keeping in mind the ability of the taxpayers to support the schools. Our comparatively low per pupil cost is not indicative of the high quality of the educational opportunities which are being offered the youth of Randolph. As one indication of this, I call your attention to the report of our reading consultants.

Despite all our efforts to economize wherever it is educationally sound to do so, our annual budget request continues to rise. Reasons for this are obvious; i.e., increased population necessitating increased staff, buildings, and supplies.

Miss Rachel C. McMahon, one of the most dedicated and beloved teachers ever to be in the Randolph Public Schools retired this year after forty-five years of teaching in this community. She was always most cooperative and helpful to administrators, fellow teachers, parents and pupils, and we certainly wish for her many years of happiness in her well-deserved retirement.

One very definite need which should be provided for as soon as possible, is a permanent and adequate administrative headquarters for the entire school system. The need for more space in the high school this past year made it necessary that our offices be transferred. The officials of the Veterans of Foreign Wars made their hall available to us at a very moderate rent, and we are grateful to them. However, the building is not adequate in many respects for our needs, and I strongly urge that an office building be constructed on the school property just east of the high school building in the immediate future.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of the School Committee, all school personnel, and personnel of all other town departments for their great cooperation throughout the year.

I wish also to thank the many, many parents who have been so understanding of the many problems presented by our rapid growth.

Lastly, I wish to thank all of the citizens of the town for their whole-hearted support in supplying the funds necessary to enable us to carry out an educational program which will prepare our young people to take their proper places in this very complex and quickly changing world.

Superintendent of Schools

REPORT OF PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL

It will be our purpose in this report to give the highlights of events at the high school during the past year.

Of our 1961 graduates, 46% are now attending schools of higher learning, some on scholarships. Four year colleges which have accepted our 1961 graduates for admission include: M.I.T., Harvard, Tufts, Boston University, Boston College, Northeastern, University of Massachusetts, Clark, Wheelock, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Bates College, State Colleges at Bridgewater, Boston, Salem, Lowell, Fitchburg, North Adams, Massachusetts School of Art, Bentley, plus a number of schools of Nursing. Our graduates well represent us at many other types of specialized schools, such as, Wentworth, Art, Drafting, Burdett, as well as varying types of vocational schools.

The opening of the North Junior High School has again placed both Junior and Senior High on a full-time schedule. The resumption of a normal program will have advantageous results for pupils of both schools, but the high school is not yet out of the woods as far as housing is concerned. Fifteen new teachers were appointed during the year, some of whom were replacements, and others needed to take care of the constantly increasing enrollment. We are currently using every room in the building for our present program, and if the pupil normal increase continues, as it will, we will soon be in trouble again finding space to take care of this increase.

We were fortunate to have provided for us a language laboratory, which is now in full operation and is being used every period every day by two groups of language students. Each group uses the room for twenty-five minutes. The use of this type of equipment will become more and more necessary and important for students who will take the College Board Achievement Test in Language.

Added to our program of studies during the past year are Spanish, Russian, Advanced English Composition and Review Mathematics. It is our expectation to make our World History into a two-year course next year.

Since our new schedule and longer day has enabled us to schedule a six-period day, instead of the five-period day, we are now able to return our physical education program to the point where every pupil is now required to take gym two periods per week. This is in line with the request for emphasis on physical fitness.

Students of Randolph High School took part in the National Auxilium Latinum Examination in 1961 with the following results:

3 Achievement Certificates of Superlative Merit, thus bringing to our school a permanent trophy for excellence in Latin

28 Certificates of Honorable Merit

This meant that 44 of our students won national recognition in Latin out of 94 voluntary participants in the examination.

In Science, one of our pupils, Gene Cohen, won first place in Biology in our Science Fair, the Regional Science Fair at Bridgewater, and the State Fair at Boston. He was, therefore, one of the participants at the National Science Fair at Kansas City, Missouri. Another boy, George East, won first place in our Fair and in the State Fair. He went to Kansas City as an observer.

Our Year-book staff represented our school at the National Convention in New York, of the Columbia University Scholastic Press Association, and our Year-book, the Oracle, was selected on a national basis, as a winner of a first place certificate of excellence.

The Banner, the school newspaper, received three awards from the Boston Globe for outstanding articles written for the Banner by Carolyn Buba, Charlene Thompson and Joanne Roberson.

Mrs. Jean Noblin and Dorothy Mulcahy were guests at the Fortieth Annual Meeting of the Norfolk County Tuberculosis and Health Association, at which time a Certificate of Merit was presented to Dorothy for her article, "Christmas Seals; Fighter of Tuberculosis."

The Future Nurses Club distributed boxes at Thanksgiving time to patients at the Brockton Veterans Hospital, also Easter baskets to the children at the New England Home for Little Wanderers.

Margaret McPhee, a student, was elected as State President of the Future Homemakers of America, and subsequently was selected by the State organization to represent Massachusetts at the National Convention at Kansas City, Missouri.

Another student, Joseph Allen, was selected by Harvard University as the recipient of a grant for advanced summer study at Harvard.

Three of our staff, Mr. Lehtinen, Mr. Royte and Mr. Sullivan were selected for advanced training in their field with grants furnished under the National Defense Education Act. This was a six-week course during the summer.

Our 1961 baseball team won the Hockamock League Championship, while our Cross-Country Track Team won the State Championship.

The high school musical organizations, among other achievements, were able to send seven of our pupils to the All-State Concert at West Springfield.

The Randolph High School twirling team won the State Championship at Quincy. The cheerleaders placed second in the annual competition at Westwood.

Edward Dlott was chosen by the Student Council as Brotherhood representative of Randolph High School at a meeting at Northeastern University, sponsored by the Jewish War Veterans.

The annual induction of new members in the National Honor Society was held on April 26, 1961, at which the Honorable Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the President of the United States, was the main speaker. Later in the year, the honor students of the school were suitably recognized at a banquet sponsored by the Randolph School Committee.

From the point of view of school citizenship, the Student Council operates on a 10-point project each year. Included are such projects as Teacher Appreciation Day, Student Teacher for a Day, Citizen of the Month, Key Club Badge Awards, Four-year Citizenship Awards.

Our new Guidance Director, Mr. William Casey, was welcomed cordially by administration, faculty and students and has already established a friendly and cooperative rapport with all concerned.

We hope this brief report will give you a cross-section view of the various types of activities which go to make up the life of a comprehensive high school. We feel that the school year of 1960-1961 was a good one and we all at Randolph High School will attempt to make the next year even better.

HUBERT F. GILGAN

Principal

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE

It is herewith my pleasure to report to the Superintendent of Public Schools, to the Members of the School Committee and to the townspeople of Randolph on the activities of the Guidance Department of the Randolph Public Schools for the year 1961.

Department activities during the year just past were under the supervision of three individuals — Mr. Thomas F. Grady, Jr., Miss Winifred M. Brennan and the present Director. Mr. Grady severed his ties with the Randolph Schools in July, when he resigned to accept a similar post in the City of Malden. During his tenure, Mr. Grady made a number of worthwhile contributions to the Guidance movement in this community and is worthy of note for these accomplishments.

Miss Brennan, the Assistant Director, effectively filled the void which was thereupon created and during the months of September and October did a most effective job of coordinating the efforts of the High School Staff, Miss Isabelle J. Bennett and Mr. James A. Sullivan, with those of the Junior High School Personnel, Miss Anna K. Good and Mr. Paul J. Royte. In October, Mr. Royte also resigned to accept a post in Malden and in late December, his duties were assumed by Mr. Adelino J. Bernardo, a teacher of long experience and rich in the theory of guidance principles. Randolph is fortunate to have a Guidance Staff exhibiting a background which is high in both experience and professionalism.

It is difficult to comment in depth on the activities of a department with which one's association has been so brief. It is possible, however, to make a number of observations on certain staff policies and projects.

Guidance, today, is a specific science which demands much of those who work in the field. It is open to any number of interpretations, but its main function in a school system is to work for the benefit of the children involved.

Some approach this role with a philosophical tinge, while others are concerned only with definite actions. It is well, in fact, to have full knowledge of the first and imperative to concentrate on the latter in respect to this knowledge. It has been a pleasure, therefore, to note that the Guidance Staff has devoted itself to a course of organized activites, which demands diligence and a proper understanding of its role.

There are six major functions of guidance which demand constant attention and evaluation. Observations on the role of these six areas will follow in brief.

RECORDS

Records are maintained on all students, Grades 1-12. At the present time this is accomplished by a variety of means. Insertions of importance to student growth are entered on each individual, concerning academic progress, test scores and results of counseling sessions.

There appears to be a real need for better coordination, in this area. Forms which are more direct and of a more simple nature seem most necessary, and towards that end, a study is now under way, under the direction of Miss Good and Miss Brennan.

INFORMATION

Informational services are basically of two areas — occupational and educational. At both the Senior High School level and in the Junior High, these services are extensive and well-developed.

Occupational briefs and college catalogs are available to all students and Randolph is fortunate to be included in the Northeastern University series of Occupational Conferences and in the Public Relations tours of many of the leading schools and universities in the New England area.

PLACEMENT

A report published by Mr. Grady in the summer of 1961 showed placement for almost every member of the graduating class of that year. This report illustrated that only 4% of the class had not made definite plans, while 35% had gained permanent employment, 15% had entered the armed services and 46% had gone on to further schooling of one type or another.

Miss Brennan had already begun processing the employment plans of the Class of 1962, and the Staff, as a whole, has been greatly encouraged by the high number of early acceptances granted to those who seek to further their education.

FOLLOW-UP

Follow-up studies enjoy a unique role for they serve as a most valid instrument of constructive criticism in respect to a school's Program of Studies. Last year's study, conducted by Miss Bennett and Mr. Sullivan produced many fine comments in this respect and showed an excellent percentage of return — 94%.

Statistically, the Class of 1960 was distributed as follows: Employed: 50.8%; Schools and Colleges: 38%; Armed Forces: 6.5%; Homemakers: 2.6% and unemployed 2.1%.

Mr. Sullivan has already initiated a Follow-up Study on the Class of 1961 and the results are expected to contribute much to the evaluation of school policies and curriculum.

TESTING

Randolph employed a substantial and a varied testing program in 1961, which combined instruments of measurement of both an internal and external nature.

It would seem that there is no area of guidance which demands more attention or analysis, than does testing. Since its results serve as one of our main instruments in evaluating our students, it should therefore be designed to be a valid and reliable yardstick of student talent.

Miss Bennett has been assigned the onerous task of evaluating the Randolph Testing Program. To this date, she has already conducted a far-reaching survey of the practices of other communities and she is in the process of assimilating a complete and adequate testing library. In conjunction with the Director, she will meet with Department Heads for the purpose of coordinating faculty knowledge and understanding of the program.

COUNSELING

Counseling is the heart of any Guidance program for it is that service which deals most directly with the student. A strong Guidance program should guarantee each student on the Secondary level at least one counseling session each school year. This is being done in Randolph and in fact, students for the most part, participate in multiple counseling sessions.

One need which is evident is to make provision for counseling certain students of elementary school age, when the occasion so demands. Efforts towards fruition of this aim will be constant and tireless in the year ahead.

It is most necessary to win the acceptance of those whom the Guidance program affects. Since November, certain steps have been initiated towards furthering the cooperation of the faculty, the community and the student body.

Faculty rapport has been promoted by the following steps:

1. Frequent meetings with Department Heads and occasional meetings with the different school departments.
2. Dissemination and interpretation of significant test results, such as Class I. Q. scores and analysis of external tests, such as the National Merit Examination and The College Board Examinations, etc.
3. The establishment of a regular schedule of meetings with the Principals of the Secondary Schools in an effort to improve the coordination between the different levels of instruction.

Increased community acceptance would result from:

1. Parent conferences.
2. Newspaper releases.
3. Oral presentation to the townspeople.

The extension of student services would come from the implementation of the following procedures:

1. Continuing evaluations of department functions.
2. Scheduled staff meetings with emphasis on matters of student concern.
3. Increased counseling in areas of subject failure, course selection and future plans.
4. Establishment of a definite referral system for children with severe emotional or academic problems.

It is important to the worth of any system that projects and studies of various academic areas be constantly conducted by the Guidance Department. Such efforts do much to reassure the students and the faculty of the sincere intent of Guidance to serve as a facilitative agent to the school system and to the community.

There are a number of projects which have been initiated in the latter part of 1961 which will, at their completion, yield pertinent and important information to school authorities. These would be listed as follows:

1. An Evaluation of the Testing Program on the Secondary Level — Grades 7-12.
2. An Appraisal of the Records System — Grades 7-12.
3. An Appraisal of all Informational Services.
4. The Development of a Proper Orientation Program at all transitory grade levels.
5. The Establishment of a Coordinated and Workable Plan of Articulation among the three levels of instruction — Elementary, Junior High and Senior High.
6. Increased emphasis on the needs of students in the Special Classes.
7. The Definition of a program of Guidance for the Vocational School.
8. The continuous evaluation of the High School Program of Studies, conducted in the light of ever-changing standards of industry, education and business.

Finally, note should be given to the nature of the approach which the Guidance Department now employs. If a theme of operation were to be defined, it would have to be "Strength — not Speed".

It is facile for a new Director to change the structure of department operations to fit the whims of one's own fancy, but it is more important to adjudge fully the program as it stands, to define its imbued strengths and to eliminate judiciously any weaknesses which might exist.

It is felt that the proper establishment of a Guidance Program for Randolph can best be defined, by searching for the needs of the student in relation to his community. It is for this reason, that increased emphasis will be given to staff participation and to cooperation with all factors relating in any way to the program.

It must be remembered that Guidance must play an important role in the development and placement of the youth of this community. It is all too true that the hue and cry of those seeking college placement is a loud and ringing one. Thus, counseling in this area must be precise so as to have our students prepared for this constant and increasing competition.

Yet, in truth, this demand on our staff must never exceed in scope the need for counseling those who are our terminal students — those who will end their formal schooling when they leave high school. These young people are in fact, the most immediate representatives of the Randolph School System and as such, must be prepared to extend worthy contributions to the community.

Thus, it is with this thought in mind, that the Guidance Department faces the challenge and temper of 1962. Its activities will be geared not to serve the few, but to honor the needs of all students, regardless of their course of study or their goal in life.

In conclusion, this Department extends sincere gratitude to the School Committee, the Superintendent and his Staff, and to the Administrators and Faculty for their full cooperation and enthusiasm in support of this program. It is the hope of the Staff to continue to extend its full efforts towards the fulfillment of each student's capabilities and future ambitions.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM J. CASEY

REPORT OF READING SUPERVISORS

The school year 1960-1961 saw Randolph in the fourth year of the phonics program, where phonics is being taught as a separate subject. It is interesting to note the growth in achievement between the year 1958 when phonics was first introduced and 1961 as an established program. The 1958 test results show that of 401 pupils in grade one, 23% were reading below the national norm of 1.9 with a town median of 2.1. In 1961 the results show that of 517 pupils in grade one, 9% were reading below 1.9 with a town median or Randolph norm of 2.7; almost one full year above the national norms.

In grade two in 1957 without the benefits of a strong phonetic program 32% of 374 pupils fell below the national norm of 2.7, with a Randolph norm of 2.9; just two months above the national norm. In 1961, 11% of 487 pupils fell below the national norm of 2.7 with a Randolph norm of 3.7; one full year above the national norm.

This comparison of achievement over the past four or five years is typical of achievement in grades 3 through 6, as well.

While phonics has greatly influenced our reading scores, it has also rocketed our spelling scores. In grade one the Randolph norm was 3.7; almost two full years above the national norm. In grade two the Randolph norm was 4.2; two and one half years above the national norm.

We do feel the phonics program has played an important part in our growth in reading and spelling. Our success, however, must be attributed to a combination of determining factors. The first, and most important, our teachers who accept a child's individuality, are capable, enthusiastic and understanding. Secondly, phonics is taught as a subject, in that children are specifically trained in the auditory and visual association of the letters. This training is very functional from the very beginning of its introduction. Children feel success in forming their letters, printing three letter words and making simple sentences. Thus, it teaches one of the basic essentials of learning; the ability to listen.

Gradually children begin to apply phonetic analysis in their reading. Toward the end of the school year when visitors come to visit our first grades, we suggest they bring along the morning newspapers and print any headline or caption on the chalk board. We have had visitors from private institutions, and as far west as California.

Our method of teaching reading has not changed. The teaching of phonics is only one part of one of the many steps in the teaching of reading. It is purely a tool used for word attack, and must be considered a "means to an end". A child must be able to attack and pronounce the word correctly, in order to comprehend. The fact still remains the calling of words correctly does not necessarily mean a child understands. Through the development of the comprehension skills the child is led to make associations and to evaluate what he reads. Each child must be able to assimilate and reflect in order to have meaningful understanding.

Finally the success of any program must be credited, in part, to adequate materials. Our school administrators have provided the reading department with a budget that enables us to purchase the very best and the most recently approved materials for the various levels. We are most fortunate in receiving the amount and range of reading levels of material provided for each grade.

In our current reading program S.R.A. reading materials have been responsible for an improvement, according to standardized tests and teacher evaluation, in the area of the study skills. We credit this improvement to the use of the S.R.A. laboratories and text, as supplement to the basic readers specifically in grades five and six, and ultimately in grade four.

Through a pre-test each child begins work in S.R.A. on a particular level, and progresses in the material at a rate in keeping with his ability. The child is made aware of his own strengths and weaknesses, and therefore through self-evaluation there is growth in the ability to apply the many reading skills to the content area.

Some new materials have been added to the basic readings to develop the content areas. The trend today is to develop in reading a better understanding of subject matter; as for example in the interpretation of science and arithmetic, using the reading skills. The further development of the content areas in reading will find the child involved in work concerned with the content analysis of newspapers, editorials, graphs, illustrations relating to economic, political, and social conditions in the world today.

Lastly, we have endeavored to awaken in the intermediate grade child an appreciation of literature, in particular the classics that have been written on a level of understanding without loss of the original content. This is being done both on a group basis, or as indivualized reading from the library.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSES

The school health program is a vital part of the whole educational process by which each child is guided and helped to develop to his fullest capacity. Evaluation of the individual pupil's health status is accomplished through the use of varied techniques and procedures including health histories, medical examinations, immunizations, weighing, measuring, vision and hearing tests.

Every precaution is taken to provide a safe environment for the school children. When accidents do occur, our schools have a planned program for the care of such emergencies taking place during school hours. First aid is administered to the child, and the parent is immediately notified, if necessary.

The physically handicapped are placed in as normal a situation as is possible. In such cases, teachers are informed of the existing conditions, limitations, and recommendations so that program adjustments can be made. Pupils with physical handicaps which prevent school attendance are eligible for home tutoring.

A doctor's certificate is required to excuse a student from physical education. Reevaluation of all excused cases is made during the school year.

Exclusion of sick children becomes effective only when the parents realize the importance of keeping the child who is ill at home and in bed, if indicated. It is important not only for the protection of the other children but also to assure as far as possible a quick, uncomplicated recovery for the ill child.

The value of our screening program is lost without the follow-through of parent notification, referral for treatment and plans for correction. Cooperation from parents is absolutely necessary in order to carry out our program efficiently and to maintain each child's maximum health status. With the parents' help we can bring about a better interpersonal relationship between the home and the school.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC 1961

The High School Band and Chorus continue to rehearse after school despite the fact that we are no longer on double sessions. The band appeared many times during the year giving concerts, performing at all football games and marching in various parades.

Outstanding Band members were selected to participate in S.E.M.S.B.A., Southeastern District Festival, and ALL-STATE. This year 6 band members, the largest number ever selected from Randolph, were chosen through state-wide competition to play in the ALL-STATE organization. No other town had this many representatives, and one city had one more.

The Dance Band, composed of 16 high school members, hold rehearsals after school. During the year they performed at school dances and other functions.

The chorus participated in several concerts. Outstanding singers were selected to perform in S.E.M.S.B.A., District, and All-State Festivals. The major choral program of the year was the presentation of "The Pirates of Penzance", the third in a series of Gilbert and Sullivan Operettas.

The Junior High band, boys' chorus and girls' chorus, performed several times during the year. This year, a Junior dance band was formed and made its debut at the annual Junior High Spring Concert.

The elementary instrumental program, consisting of 6 elementary bands has increased tremendously. Last year the elementary enrollment numbered 175; this year this number has increased to 280.

Each elementary school presented a concert in the Spring, consisting of a demonstration of the musical training at each grade level, plus selections by the elementary bands and glee clubs.

In June the positions of elementary vocal supervisors were abolished, as the administration felt that the classroom teachers had sufficient training to carry on the elementary music program without the assistance of specialists.

At the start of the 1961-1962 school year, music was put back into the Junior High School day, because of the termination of double sessions. Two music teachers were hired for the Junior High School, Mr. Lauri Hallfors and Mr. John Oliver. Each Junior High division has music 2 periods per week. In addition to the band, boys' and girls' chorus, and instrumental groups meet during an activity period.

We are in a period of transition. We need High School courses in theory, composition, and appreciation in the course of study. In the past two years ten graduates have entered the field of music, and a large number of students who are currently at the High School have expressed their desire to go into music in the future.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT M. LACEY,

Director of Music

REPORT OF DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Walk — Run — Exercise and Play. These are requirements for a healthy body for the individual, the community, the state, and for the sustenance of the nation.

Randolph's physical education program, from the first grade through the twelfth, encompasses many of the requirements necessary for a good program. The elementary program of the first three grade deals with rhythms — including a great deal of dancing which familiarizes the youngsters with the dances of their own and other countries. Various games are played which involve running, jumping and exercising, thus conforming with the physical education program introducing physical fitness.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grade programs are stepped up vigorously. Dancing is incorporated for rhythm and poise. Skills are advanced in games. Apparatus work on the parallel bars, springboard, Swedish box and matwork are introduced. This bars, springboard, Swedish box and matwork are introduced. This program is an advanced stage of the first three grades in the method of growth and instruction.

The Junior High School is at long last on single session and since the school is well supplied with equipment, a splendid program is conducted. Many new innovations are introduced to the girls and boys, but again they are follow-ups of the first six grades. The girls are taught dancing in advanced stages, stressing rhythm and adding poise and posture. Apparatus work is taught and emphasis is placed on various athleic games, explaing rules and knowledge of the game. The boys are introduced to a fine physical fitness program dealing with apparatus work, rope climbing, chinning bar, ring work, tumbling, calisthenics, and introduced to the sports according to season. It is indeed a pleasure to have an additional fine gymnasium in the town.

The high school program is the last stage of the physical fitness program, and stress is laid on advancing the students to their fullest capacities. The girls are advanced in the dance routine. They are encouraged in sports to the extent that many of them may participate in the athletic program of the school. Stress is also placed on a program to toughen up the girls physically. The girl's athletic program consists of softball, basketball, and field hockey is taught on an intermural basis.

The boys' program is set up primarily for two reasons: (1) for the physical well-being of the boy, and (2) for the encouragement to engage in sports during their high school time, and for their leisure time after graduation. Knowledge and participation in all sports are stressed. Apparatus work of all sorts is taught. Calisthenics is given in a strenuous manner to develop the youngsters.

Testing is given to all the youngsters in the system for the purpose of determing the weaknesses and strength of the students. Steps are taken to correct any faults.

I appreciate the fine cooperation from the physical education staff—Mrs. Elizabeth Marr, Mr. Walter Roche in the elementary schools, Mrs. Connie Leavitt and Mr. Eugene Savard in the Junior High, and Mrs. Nancy Arns in the High School for their untiring work for the development of a better program for the children of the Randolph School System.

With the sanction of the Superintendent of School and the School Committee, I am hoping that more personnel will be added to the staff to eliminate the A and B week in the elementary grades, and also introduce new ideas for the betterment of the health of the child.

JOSEPH ZAPUSTAS,
Dir. of Physical Education and Athletics

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF SPECIAL EDUCATION

Randolph Public Schools in 1955 offered for the first time the advantages of Special Classes to children qualifying under Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 71, Section 46.

From the modest beginning of two heterogeneous groups of pupils in the small, two room building on Pauline Street, the program has grown proportionally with the growth of the school population to the extent that it is now possible to group the pupils homogeneously by age and social growth. The addition of Mrs. Priscilla Watson in 1960 and Mr. Thomas McLaughlin in 1961 to the Special Education staff has made it possible to increase the number of classes to five.

A program and curriculum study in which all Special Education personnel are participating is presently in progress. Plans are being made for an extension of vocational training and pupil job placement.

An instrumental program in music, the first of its kind in public schools in the state, is now in its third year. Its continued success is due to the high interest level and excellence of the course of study prepared by the Music Department and tailored specifically for individual pupils participating.

The key word in Special Education is "individual". The small classes, limited by law to no more than eighteen, make it possible for each child to be given the benefits of individual attention in all areas and at all levels of instruction.

The recent passage of Chapter 750 by the Massachusetts Legislature has increased the responsibilities of the Division of Special Education to include children with emotional problems. Plans are presently being formulated to comply with the mandatory aspects of this legislation to the end that the best interests of the pupils concerned might be served.

We express our appreciation and thanks to the School Committee, administration, principals, supervisors, Youth Officer, parents and interested friends who have assisted us in our endeavor to provide a course of study aimed to the fullest social growth and academic achievement of our pupils, consistent with their varying levels of capacity.

ROBERT D. SAYRS,
Director of Special Education

REPORT OF SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

School Lunch serves good health. You and your family are what you eat. Without the right foods in the right amounts, it is impossible to be physically fit. The Type A Lunch served in the Randolph School Cafeterias supplies one-third of the daily food needs. This is in compliance with the regulations set down in the National School Lunch Act of the Federal Government. The Governor recently declared School Lunch Week in order to emphasize its importance in the overall program.

The School Lunch Program does not operate for a profit. It is supported by Federal and State reimbursements and the twenty-five cents that your child pays for the lunch. This covers the cost of food, salaries and maintenance. During the last year our program received $32,927.00 from the Federal and State Governments.

The Federal Government also distributes food such as: chicken, beef, turkey, flour, butter, canned fruits and vegetables, etc. The total market value of these commodities received in the last year amounted to $12,431.00. For these foods we paid $503.00. The menus are planned to take advantage of these commodities, in order to effect a low operating cost.

At the present time there are four cafeterias operating in the Randolph Schools, namely: Randolph High, North Junior High, Devine and Lyons Schools. In the past year, we served 176,800 Type A meals. There were 668,740 half pints of milk served. This year we expect to serve nearly one million bottles of milk.

Another cafeteria will open in the Fall in the new school on Reed Street. The Town of Randolph pays the initial cost of equipping the cafeterias. The program is then self-supporting.

The cafeteria workers are appointed under Civil Service Regulations. It is necessary to pass the Civil Service tests for the various positions in order to be permanently appointed.

The Randolph School Lunch program has shown an increase of 11% participation during this last year. We are endeavoring to give your child a nutritious, well-balanced meal at a low cost.

I wish to express my appreciation to the School Committee,

Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent and the School Lunch Workers for their kindness and cooperation during the past year.

MARIE C. MINNICK,
Director of School Cafeterias

"NO SCHOOL" ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. The general policy is not to cancel the school session except under extreme weather conditions. It is always the privilege of any parent to keep a child at home if the parent feels that it is necessary.

2. The following stations usually carry our "No School" announcements:

   Boston: W.B.Z., W.H.D.H., W.E.Z.E., W.C.O.P.

   Quincy: W.J.D.A.

   Brockton: W.B.E.T.

   In most instances, it might be better to listen to the Brockton or Quincy stations, for it is not always possible to reach every Boston station, as they handle hundreds of calls on stormy mornings.

3. When the session is cancelled, a recorded message will be available on WO 3-0602: however, this is but one telephone line, and it is limited greatly in the number of calls which it can handle. You should rely on the radio stations.

4. You should not call school officials, for they are busy making calls to radio stations, the bus company, principals. Rely on the radio stations for your information.

5. Do not call the Fire, Police or Street Departments, for by so doing you hamper their work.

THOMAS L. WARREN

Report of the Trustees The Stetson School Fund

Another year has rolled by, and Stetson Hall, your Town Hall, still stands in her Colonial splendor, surveying the changing scene in Randolph. If you visit the Town Halls in nearby towns, it is almost impossible to find one with the serene architecture and well-kept appearance of ours.

Most outstanding among the improvements that your Trustees have accomplished this year is the installation of a fire detection system. In April, Fire Chief Paul D. Anderson strongly recommended an adequate alarm system, to protect this building, its occupants and its records in a modern and up-to-date manner. Complete coverage of the building has been effected, from attic to cellar, including 2 manual fire boxes, warning horns, and a connection with the Fire Department by an outside box.

Continuing our program of remodelling and redecorating the second floor, we created a new office for the Town Accountant, and completed the Offices of Selectmen, Town Manager and Secretary, School Custodian, and Engineers; in addition to the spacious corridors. The first-time visitor to the Hall will be favorably impressed with its pleasant two-tone pastel green color scheme.

So we continue our dedication to this large (110 foot long) building, and we are sure that Colonel Royal Turner, Aaron Prescott and Levi Paine, the first Trustees, would be most happy if they could see how this historic building has been cared for since 1843.

Respectfully submitted,

ROGER L. NILES, Chairman
MARJORIE E. CONLEY, Clerk
JOHN J. HURLEY
Board of Trustees

Report of the Town Manager

COST OF GOVERNMENT — TAXES

Randolph had a population in 1950, according to the Federal census, of 9,982; in 1960 the Federal census figures were 18,922; as of this writing, we are nearing 20,000. This dramatic growth in such a short period of time has resulted in a host of problems for the community. Dealing with these problems has cost, and will continue to cost, substantial sums of money. Let's examine a few examples of this.

1. The need for schools
   In 1950, the total pupil enrollment in our system was just under 2,000. At the present time, it is approximately 4,523. This has required the construction of several school buildings, namely, the High School, the addition to the Devine, the Elizabeth G. Lyons, the North Randolph Junior High, additions to the Tower Hill and McNeil buildings and the Reed Street Elementary. Not only did many buildings have to be built and furnished but these buildings had to be staffed with teachers.
2. Water System
   The water supply and distribution system which had been adequate prior to 1950 was no longer sufficient for the needs of our community. Necessary improvements included the building of two standpipes, the building of two booster pumping stations, and remodeling and enlarging of the main pumping station to provide doubled filtering and pumping capacities, and the installation of new water mains to up-date the distribution system.
3. The Sewer System
   Efforts had been made as long ago as the mid-thirties to start building the then needed sewer system under the auspices of the P.W.A. However, the plans of that day never became a reality. In the mid-fifties and with the already much expanded and expanding population growth, it became imperative to get the construction of the sewer system underway. During the past four years, the most difficult and expensive portion of the system has been built, namely, Trunk #1, Trunk #2, the main to the Industrial Park and its attendant pumping station.

4. The increased population required additional manpower in many of the departments, such as Fire, Police, Highway, School Custodians, Town Hall, etc.
5. Roads, Sidewalks, Drainage
   There was a vital need to improve many of the streets and roads, to build new sidewalks and resurface old ones, and a multitude of drainage problems required solution.
6. Rubbish and Garbage Collection
   The increased population required additional garbage and rubbish, dump expense, and many other public health programs were developed by the Board of Health for the protection of our citizenry and the children.

As of January 1, 1950, the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the Town was only $53,000; On January 1, 1962, this outstanding bonded indebtedness had increased to $7,077.000.00. This bonded indebtedness, of course, was the result of necessary capital outlay expenditures for new schools, improvements to the water system, installation of the sewer system and others as briefly outlined above. To meet the principal payments and interest on this bonded indebtedness in terms of taxes means that approximately $17.00 on your tax rate is required.

Another vital factor which has substantially affected the cost of Government during this period of time has been the increase in the cost of living which has risen 18% from 1947 to 1962. In order to remain competitive, that is to get and keep good teachers and other Town employees, salaries have increased markedly during the past ten or eleven years.

Briefly, to summarize, the necessary huge capital outlay expenditures, the increased cost of living, the desire for more and better services which contribute to the education, health, safety, welfare and convenience of the citizens of the community has required progressively larger annual expenditures, the result being progressively higher tax rates. Since most of the above-mentioned capital outlay expenditures occurred during the years after the Selectmen-Manager Plan was adopted, the voters apparently blamed the Selectmen-Manager Plan for the increase in tax rate and voted the Plan out in March of 1961. The Selectmen-Manager Plan was in no way responsible for the increase in the tax rate; the Town Manager does not even have a vote in the raising of money for any purpose whatever. The approval for the raising of all money for the operation of the Town Government is the prerogative of the Town Meeting Members. The real causes for the increased cost of government, and therefore the higher tax rates, are as outlined above.

PROJECTS—1961

The last full calendar year for the Plan was also the best year from a standpoint of efficient operation made possible by the highly coordinated and cooperative effort of your Town Officials. The following projects were dealt with during 1961.

NEW SCHOOLS

The North Randolph Junior High School was completed to the point where the classes were able to be started in October.

Additions to the Tower Hill and McNeil Schools were completed.

Plans were completed, money was provided, and bids were taken and construction of the new elementary school at Reed Street.

SEWER

Trunk #2 installation was completed and a portion ($128,900.00) of the Federal Grant of $250,000.00 was received by the Town.

The project to extend the sewer from the northerly end of Webster Street to Pond Street (in the vicinity of the water pumping station), including the Pumping Station, was completed.

The contract to make available about 100 house connections was awarded and the work will be done in the Spring of 1962.

WATER

Money was voted at a Special Town Meeting for improvements to Pumping Station, the amount $170,000.00.

The plans were completed and bids were taken on the purchase of two new pumps, as of year's end.

Canton Street Watermain	The new 10" main was installed from North Main Street to Deer Park.
Boston School for the Deaf	A section of water main was installed on North Main to the Boston School for the Deaf.
Castleton Avenue	A section of water main was installed.
Stoughton Street	A section of water main was installed.
Allen Street	An 8" main was installed from Allen Street to the Trim Alloys site.

The purchase of water meters was completed.

THE FUTURE

Substantial tax relief can come about through two possible mediums:

1. Federal and/or State relief programs.
2. Industrial development.

As of this writing, both the Federal and State Governments have indicated that they are aware of the great burden which has to be borne by the local real estate owner, but no substantial programs have been enacted into law to relieve you, the taxpayer.

You are well acquainted with our efforts of the past years to attract new industry to Randolph. During 1961, Trim Alloys, Inc. started construction of a half-million dollar building here, and United Consumers, Inc. also started construction of a new half-million dollar building. Randolph Manufacturing built a substantial addition for their operations, and Chase and Sons made plans for an addition at their site. The Selectmen and I have made continuing efforts to get our Industrial Park at North Randolph underway. At year's end, this seems a strong probability in the near future. Unless or until either the State or Federal Government provide legislation for relief of your tax burden, industry is your only hope. Therefore, I am certain you will assist the Selectmen and the Business and Industrial Commission in every way possible to continue the influx of industry which has already been started. You have my best wishes for success in this endeavor. I firmly believe in Randolph's industrial potential because

1. There are now excellent truck routes to the area (route 24, route 128 and the South-east Expressway).
2. There is a rail line into the community.
3. Both skilled and unskilled labor are easily and abundantly available at this area.
4. Excellent research facilities are in close proximity.
5. The completion of the South-East Expressway and Callahan Tunnel provide quick, easy access to Logan Airport.

The above advantages are the major factors which interest industry in newly locating or re-locating and are the basis for my unreserved optimism for the growth of industry here in Randolph.

I believe the Selectmen-Manager form of Government to be the best form of Government to assist the growth of industry which has been started in Randolph and to provide the most efficient administration for the services which contribute to the education, health, safety and convenience of the citizens of the Town. This belief is based on first-hand information of its performance here and in other communities. Although this form has been in existence in this country only fifty-four years, at present there are about 1800 municipalities having a total population of approximately 45,000,000 people, who are benefiting from the performance provided through this plan. Such a growth would not be possible unless this form of government had produced highly desirable results. On a basis of the results obtained both here at Randolph and throughout the country, I believe that you, the citizens of Randolph, will want to consider re-adoption of the Selectmen-Manager form of Government.

IN APPRECIATION

My sincere thanks are hereby extended to all Department Heads, Boards, Committees, Employees and Citizens whose cooperation helped to make possible the accomplishments of 1961.

Respectfully submitted,

TOWN MANAGER

Report of the Personnel Board

The appointment of Mr. Hyman Finn brought the Personnel Board to its required complement.

The board adopted the policy of regular meetings on the third Thursday of each month, it was further agreed to publicize meetings in advance, through notices posted in Town Hall and through other media. In the event the needs of town employees or town departments warrant additional Thursday meetings will be held.

During the year the board maintained record of cost of living increases and other pertinent data which would materially affect the wage schedule of town employees.

Survey on various personnel matters were participated in during the year with various communities such as Wakefield, Westwood and Concord among others.

Hearings were conducted for town employees on matters such as job upgradings, promotions, overtime pay, vacations and holiday pay, job evaluations and personal grievances.

The board also cooperated, insofar as possible, with the committee appointed to survey possible forms of government for the Town. It became apparent during this period that a thorough, objective study of the scope of duties and responsibilities of the Personnel Board as well as a study of the job content of jobs under the jurisdiction of the Personnel Board, wage schedules and fringe benefits was needed. Since the Personnel Board was a creature of the Town Manager Act the members determined:

1. There was a real need for a board in the Town of Randolph regardless of the form of government.
2. Due to the pressures of their regular jobs the board was unable to effect such a thorough review.

Accordingly, meetings were set up with the Board of Selectmen, Town Manager and Finance Committee among others discussing this.

As a prelude to any recommendation the Board held a public meeting to which all town employees, department heads and other interested parties were invited. The purpose of a survey, the method by which information would be gathered etc. were explained to representatives of the town employees. Having received approval from employees, and town officials the Board presented an article at a Special Town Meeting for a survey which would recommend a personnel by-law, obtain job descriptions and recommend a wage and fringe benefit schedule. The Special Town Meeting granted approval for this study to be completed prior to the annual town meeting in May.

After considering reputable firms in the field and consulting with the Boards in towns which had recently had such surveys (Sharon, Weymouth, Wakefield) the Board selected Charles M. Evans and Associates.

Another meeting was held for town department heads and town employees, the procedure to be followed by Evans Associates was carefully outlined to the few present and job description forms were passed out.

The survey began in February and is proceeding according to schedule and it is anticipated that it will be completed in time for the consideration of the annual town meeting in May.

Respectfully submitted,

GERALD FAHERTY, Chairman
MARJORIE CONLEY, Secretary
HYMAN FINN

Report of the Town Counsel

During the past year the Town was involved in litigation bond matters and other claims for and against the Town. In addition to litigation, there is a constant demand for opinions for practically each and every Board, Commission and Department in the Town. Space does not permit the enumeration of the nightly and daily attendance at the various Board, Committee Department and Multiple Department meetings. Monthly meetings of the Town Counsel Association at which municipal problems are discussed, continue to give your Town Counsel a better insight into Town legal problems and affairs.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. CARR
Town Counsel

Report of the Board of Registrars

The Board of Registrars submits its annual report for the year 1961. During the past year 170 new voters were registered, the total number of registered voters now being 9275 which includes the following:

Precinct #1	2248
Precinct #2	2327
Precinct #3	2348
Precinct #4	2352

The Registrars have street listed 12,021 people and have on file, cards with names, addresses and occupations of the same. Alphabetical lists of these people are also on file. Persons listed books were also printed with this information. Also listed were 1697 dogs, these being turned over to the dog officer.

Since the last street listing, the Town has many new streets with 120 new homes added which include eight 11 apartment houses; one 4 apartment house and one 2 apartment house.

Respectfully submitted,

ETHEL McDONALD, Chairman
ELIZABETH CUNNINGHAM
KATHERINE M. SMITH

REPORT OF THE TOWN CLERK

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

March 12, 1962

Meeting was called to order by Moderator Lombardi at 8:00 o'clock P. M. Since there was not a quorum present, meeting was adjourned until 8:15 P. M. and again until 8:35 P. M., at which time it was called to order with 127 Town Meeting Members present.

Town Clerk Edward T. Clark read the return of service. Moderator Lombardi appointed the following to act as tellers: Messrs. Richard Keating, Robert Schneider, and B. Mulhern.

ARTICLE 1. To see if the Town will raise and appropriate the sum of $26,000.00 (or transfer from available funds) to alleviate the drainage conditions on Lewis Drive and Davis Road, as petitioned for by Warren Campbell and others.

ARTICLE 1. Recommended by the Finance Committee. The following amendment was proposed; "and that betterments be assessed for such improvements in accordance with Chapter #80 of the Massachusetts General Laws". Moderator asked Town Counsel to rule on the amendment and Town Counsel advised he would accept it for the purposes of discussion. Article 1, as amended, ruled DEFEATED, by a voice vote.

Vote followed on Article 1, as printed, and it was declared VOTED, by a unanimous voice vote.

ARTICLE 2. To see if the Town will vote to raise and appropriate $3,000.00 for cost of rubbish contract for one month, as petitioned for by the Board of Selectmen.

ARTICLE 2. Chairman Bloch of the Finance Committee offered an amendment that the amount voted be $2,500.00. Article 2, as amended, VOTED by a unanimous voice vote.

ARTICLE 3. To see if the Town will vote to amend the zoning by-laws by adding thereto Section 8. Section 8, "In a subdivision of land as defined in General Laws, Chapter 41A, there shall be constructed only a building or structure designed or intended to be used as a single family dwelling unit". The construction of all other types of buildings is prohibited, as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 3. Chairman Tagrin of the Planning Board gave the background on the Article and stated that the Planning Board recommended Articles 3 through 14. Moderator advised that he had discussed the situation with the Planning Board Chairman and Town Counsel and that no amendments would be allowed since he did not feel the inhabitants had been warned. Mr. Bonney moved that action on these Articles be postponed until properly analyzed by the Town Meeting members, and that such action be taken no later than the first Monday in April. Mr. Michaelson questioned the legality of the warrant since the words "zoning by-laws" did not appear. Moderator ruled that they could be allowed since the inhabitants had been properly warned. Vote on Mr. Bonney's motion followed and was declared DEFEATED by a voice vote. The vote was doubted and a hand vote followed: YES - 45, NO - 78. Motion declared DEFEATED by a hand vote.

Motion was made that the recommendation of the Planning Board on Article 3, as printed in the warrant, be accepted. (Mr. Schneider asked to have the Building Inspector give to the Town Meeting Members information gathered from various town departments). A hand vote followed: NO - 46, YES - 62. Motion declared defeated by Moderator. Chairman Tagrin doubted the quorum. 133 were counted by the tellers and a quorum was declared. Mr. Cullen requested a standing vote, which was as follows: FOR - 67, AGAINST - 51. Motion declared DEFEATED by a standing vote.

ARTICLE 4. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 2, B, by striking therefrom "Dated 1938" and substituting "Dated 1962", as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 4. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of Planning Board VOTED, by hand vote, FOR - 90, AGAINST - 3.

ARTICLE 5. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 2, B (2) and (3) by striking said Section and substituting the following: "(2) - Business and Industrial Districts shall include all land generally designated as such on the most current zoning map of the Town", as petitioned by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 5. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of Planning Board VOTED, by hand vote, FOR - 83, AGAINST - 24.

ARTICLE 6. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 3, A (1) by striking the first three words of the second paragraph, "Private dwelling house;" and substituting the following: "A private one or two family dwelling house", as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 6. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of Planning Board VOTED, by hand vote, FOR - 82, AGAINST - 19.

ARTICLE 7. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 3A (1) by adding thereto Section (b) "Limitation on coverage - in a residential district, no private dwellinghouse shall cover more than thirty (30) percent of the lot area", as petitioned for by the Planning Board .

ARTICLE 7. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of Planning Board VOTED, by hand vote, FOR - 103, AGAINST - 2.

ARTICLE 8. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 3A (1) by adding thereto Section C - "Limitation on Height - In a residential district, no private dwelling shall exceed thirty (30) feet in height above its first floor elevation", as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 8. Withdrawn. VOTED, NO ACTION, by unanimous voice vote.

ARTICLE 9. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 3B by striking the first paragraph, "No building nor structure shall be erected which is designed or intended to be used for manufacturing, mechanical or other industrial use in a Business District or zone except as hereinafter provided" and substitute the following: "No building nor structure shall be erected which is designed or intended to be used as a single family dwelling unit or for manufacturing, mechanical or other industrial use in a business district or zone, except as hereinafter provided", as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 9. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of the Planning Board VOTED, by unanimous voice vote.

ARTICLE 10. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 3B (1) (a) by striking the same and substituting the following: "Any use permitted in a Residential District or zone except as a single family dwelling unit and," as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 10. Ruling of the chair not to allow amendments was appealed by Mr. Courtney to the body. The chair was overruled and an amendment was allowed: "but to include multiple dwelling and two-family dwelling units", (Copy of this amendment was given to the Town Clerk). Planning Board recommendation, as amended, was then VOTED, by a hand vote, as follows: FOR - 107, AGAINST - 1.

ARTICLE 11. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 3C striking out the first paragraph, "No building nor structure shall be erected which is designed or intended to be used for any injurious, noxious or offensive trade or industry in an industrial district or zone", and substitute the following: "No building or structure shall be erected which is designed or intended to be used as a single family dwelling unit or for injurious, noxious or offensive trade or industry in an Industrial district zone", as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 11. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of the Planning Board VOTED, by unanimous voice vote.

ARTICLE 12. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 5B (2) by striking from the first sentence thereof, "And Industrial", as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 12. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of the Planning Board VOTED, by unanimous voice vote.

ARTICLE 13. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 5B (1) by adding thereto (3). "(3). In Industrial Districts no building shall be erected within fifty (50) feet of the side line of any street", as petitioned by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 13. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of the Planning Board VOTED, by unanimous voice vote.

ARTICLE 14. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 5C (1) by striking in the first sentence, "6 feet" and substituting "10 feet", as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 14. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of the Planning Board VOTED, by unanimous voice vote.

ARTICLE 15. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 5D (1) by striking from the first sentence "3 feet" and substituting "10 feet", as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 15. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of the Planning Board VOTED, by unanimous voice vote.

ARTICLE 16. To see if the Town will vote to amend Section 5F, by striking the first four words thereof, "On lots in Residential",... and substituting therefor, "In all....", as petitioned for by the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 16. Recommended by the Planning Board. Recommendation of the Planning Board VOTED, by unanimous voice vote.

Meeting was adjourned at 11:29 P. M.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

May 7, 1962

Pursuant to a Warrant issued by the Board of Selectmen and dated the fifth day of April, A. D., 1962, duly posted by Carl L. Macauley, Constable, the citizens of Randolph assembled at the Randolph High School Auditorium, Memorial Parkway in Randolph, on the seventh day of May, 1962. The meeting was called to order at 8:00 o'clock P. M., voted adjourned until 8:15 and again until 8:30 P. M. at which time it reconvened. Moderator Lombardi called the meeting to order and appointed Messrs. Bender, Herbert White and George White to act as Tellers.

The Moderator administered the oath of office to newly elected town meeting members and led the meeting in prayer. A minute of silence was observed in honor of Clara Kennedy, a former town official now deceased.

Town Clerk Edward T. Clark read the Town Meeting Warrant and return of service.

Mr. Charles Foley moved that all articles to be reconsidered at this Town Meeting be considered after Article 81. Motion was seconded and VOTED, by voice vote.

Mr. Roycroft moved adjournment at 11:00 o'clock P. M., for reconvenement on Tuesday evening, May 8, at 8:00 P. M. Motion was seconded and VOTED, by a voice vote.

Moderator Lombardi stated that only one amendment would be voted upon at a time, and that anyone who wished to speak would be recognized by the chair, subject to the wishes of the body.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF VETERANS' SERVICES

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
Randolph
Massachusetts

Herewith you will find a summary of services rendered to the veteran and his dependents under the General Laws of the Commonwealth.

Our case load for veterans benefits has increased considerable over 1961. Veterans and their dependents who have moved into Randolph from other cities and towns have acquired a settlement in Randolph, and if in need will apply to this office for benefits, which no doubt will increase our case load for 1963.

Last October we covered all our recipients over 65 years of age under the Massachusetts 65 Insurance for hospital and nursing home care. This type of insurance was needed as our elderly people require this care more as they become older. The State Department pays 50% of all premiums. Under this plan our hospital and nursing home care expenses should be kept at a minimum, this was good business for the town.

We find with all the new amendments to the laws that are administered, our paper work and investigations of each case requires considerably more effort and time so the town will receive the 50% reimbursement on each case from the Commonwealth. We believe by 1964 this department will require additional personnel to protect these reimbursements.

In addition to above, our services to the veteran have become very involved, requiring more time spent on each case to bring them to a successful climax. We are reviewing claims on W.W. II and Korean Veterans and new applications for the W.W. I Veteran who has arrived at the age of 65 and has retired, also pensions for widows of all wars.

All these claims are processed and developed in this office and then forwarded to the Veterans Administration for consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM S. COLE
Director of Veterans' Services

REPORT OF BOARD OF PUBLIC WELFARE, 1962

The five separate programs of Public Assistance in the Town of Randolph are administered by the Board of Public Welfare, through the State Division of Civil Service, in accordance with the General Laws of Massachusetts as follows:

PROGRAM	1962 EXPENDITURES	CASELOADS
Old Age Assistance	$110,092.41	103
Medical Assistance for the Aged	64,813.77	32
Aid to Dependent Children	32,184.55	14
Disability Assistance	13,423.94	11
General Relief	5,979.59	9
TOTAL	$226,494.26	169 Average per month

The program of Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) from the Federal Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on down to the local communities, has undergone the most intensified scrutinization since its inception in 1931. Corrective legislation and departmental policy have been made since the Newburgh, New York, incident, and more will be made in the years to come. Locally this Board is happy to report that our staff investigations of the recipients receiving this type of aid show excellent, sound, social work, with alleged national abuses and irregularities practically non-existent.

The local Welfare Department staff consists of two Social Workers, 1 senior clerk, 1 junior clerk, and 1 Director of Public Welfare.

Mr. Harold W. Macauley, who was appointed under the Town Manager Act, resigned April 16, 1962, effective concurrent with the expiration of said Act as voted by the Town Meeting. Mr. Henry L. Lowd, formerly a member of the Finance Committee, was appointed July 9, 1962, to hold office until the next annual Town Election, to the position made vacant by Mr. Macauley's resignation.

At the annual Town Meeting of May 8, 1962, the townspeople voted 102 to 46 the recommendation of the Finance Committee to accept Article 44 dealing with the construction of a building to house both the Welfare Department and the Veterans' Services Department on town owned land directly to the rear of the Congregational Church parking area on Turner Lane, and authorized a total of $63,000.00 of which 75% of the cost of the Welfare office floor space is reimbursable by the State and Federal Governments.

As voted, the Town Moderator, Mr. Joseph Lombardi, appointed a Building Committee consisting of Roland H. Marden, Chairman; Francis J. Leahy, Secretary; and John H. Beagan. At a Building Committee meeting on May 28, 1962, it was unanimously voted to hire the Walter M. Gaffney Associates of Hyannis, Mass., as Architects.

On September 24, 1962, the Building Committee voted to grant the General Contract to the lowest bidder, Arthur K. Wells, Jr., Inc., of Newton, Mass., said amount of bid being $52,992.00. Highest bid (of which there were five) was $71,497.00.

On December 6, 1962, fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Turner Free Library and all of the Welfare offices which were located on the first floor of the south side of the library. Water, smoke, and heat ruined all office equipment, furnishings, and supplies. Because no flames occurred in the Welfare offices, most of the case histories and fiscal records were saved. During the period from December 6 through December 9, the Welfare Department functioned from the office of the Board of Selectmen on the second floor of the Town Hall. From December 10, 1962, to the end of the year, the Welfare Board accepted the invitation of the Reverend Walter K. Lyon, Rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, Randolph, to temporarily house staff members and new equipment of the Welfare Department until the completion of the new office building sometime in the spring of 1963.

To Rector Lyon, and his parishioners, to our Board of Selectmen, and to all the Departments, who, throughout the year and immediately following the fire rendered invaluable aid, comfort and cooperation, we express our sincere gratitude and appreciation.

Total number of miles covered by Police Cars	108,336
Total number of miles covered by Police Motorcycles	31,004

*Some arrests and summonses were served for Out of Town Police.
Of the 19 cases dismissed for want of prosecution, the Police were complainants on five.
Of the 70 cases released, 17 were juveniles and turned over to parents.

In the very near future plans should be made relative to building a new Police Station. Our present one is entirely too small to accommodate the personnel and the business transacted by the Department.

We are pleased to report a decrease in juvenile delinquency and a great deal of the credit must go to our Juvenile and Safety Officer, Charles E. Olsen, who is doing outstanding work in the department.

In closing, I wish to thank the Board of Selectmen, Town Officials, members of the department and the citizens of Randolph for their cooperation during the past year.

Sincerely,

CARL L. MACAULEY
Chief of Police

National fire losses increased again in 1962, and although Randolph has been below the average per capita loss in recent years, we were no exception to the increase in 1962. The number of building fires decreased, but the property loss increased, due mainly to; the Diauto Block, for which the arsonist is now serving his sentence; the Turner Library, where evidence of possible arson has been revealed; and other large loss fires of suspicious origin. In addition to arson there was no outstanding cause for building fires other than carelessness.

The insurance survey by the New England Rating Bureau was delayed because of the absence of a filter plant at the pumping station. Since water capacity rates so highly with the Rating Bureau, it was felt that, with adequate pumping facilities available, a delay would be necessary until the filter plant would insure sufficient volume of water to gain a satisfactory grade in this category. The survey will be requested when the plant is completed and the present volume has been increased.

The transmission of the Aerial Ladder was the only major repair to the apparatus, but because the work coincided with the town mechanic's vacation, the town had to bear the cost of outside mechanics. As mentioned in the 1961 report, the chassis of Engine 2 (1951) should be replaced this year, and if done, will put our equipment in good condition.

FIRE PREVENTION

The training schedule was broadened somewhat with the temporary installation of an oil pit, and further studies were made into the control and extinguishment of flammable liquid fires. Oil and gasoline fires allowed firefighters experience with the use of different extinguishing agents on Class B fires. To supplement the projector, purchased in 1961, and add to the slides now on hand, a camera will be added in 1963 for training and arson investigation.

Again, our home fire prevention program was centered around the children in grades 1 through 6 with the Junior Fire Marshall plan in October. This type of home safety, through those of school age, will be stepped up during 1963 with more visual aid training. The cooperation we have had from parents has given us the confidence to continue this type of work.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

FIRE INSPECTION

There were a total of 973 mercantile and industrial inspections made in the year 1962, with a total of 118 violations being found. Only a few of these were of major variety, requiring reinspections to be made to insure that violations were corrected.

On the whole, we have found that all the building owners and occupants have been most cooperative in complying with our recommendations.

A department can function efficiently only when there is teamwork and a friendly spirit among its members. I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the capable officers and firefighters under my command, for their continued loyalty and cooperation, in our efforts to provide, at all times, the best possible protection for the lives and property of the townspeople of Randolph.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL D. ANDERSON
Fire Chief

REPORTABLE DISEASES

During the year 1962 five hundred forty communicable diseases and other reportable conditions were reported to the Board of Health by physicians, hospitals and other persons as follows: Chicken Pox, 5; Dog Bite, 112; German Measles, 5; Hepatitis Infections, 2; Measles, 345; Mumps, 60; Salmonellosis, 1; Salmonella Carrier, 1; Scarlet Fever, 4; Tuberculosis, all forms, 5.

CLINICAL PROGRAMS

Doses of Sabin oral polio vaccine Type I and Type III were given during the months of May and June, in clinics held in the schools, the Health Center and the High School for all children and adults desiring to take advantage of the program. Approximately 10,000 children of all ages and 4,500 adults attended the various clinics. In addition to the liquid vaccine, Randolph was given 2,500 doses of the oral vaccine in capsule form by Pfizir Co. to determine the acceptability of the capsule as compared to the liquid. The capsules were given to selected children in all age groups with certain of them having blood tests taken before and after the doses to determine degree of immunity prior to and subsequent to the dose. It is worth noting that Randolph was one of only a few communities in the Commonwealth that was able to hold the oral vaccine programs for all children and adults.

Only one Glaucoma detection clinic was held in 1962, the evening of April 30, due to a lack of interest. The clinic was one again sponsored by the Lions Club in cooperation with the Board of Health, volunteer optometrists and resident physicians from Mass. Eye and Ear Hospital. 64 Randolph residents and 1 Holbrook resident were examined and 5 suspicious cases were discovered.

Influenza vaccine inoculations were given during October to all Town employees who desired them, 124 persons responded.

Three hundred forty-two first grade children in the school system received booster doses of diptheria-tetanus vaccine during the year.

Negotiations were successfully completed with the South Shore Mental Health Center for the admission of the children of Randolph in their programs. This will enable the town, through the Board of Health and School Department, to refer emotionally disturbed children to the center for evaluation and treatment starting January 1, 1963.

PREMATURE INFANT PROGRAM

Twenty-four live premature births were reported to the Board of Health during the year. We did not have to render financial assistance in any case.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING

Three registered nurses continue to do the health work for the Town as has been the case in the past four years.

Their duties are follow-up of patients and contacts with Tuberculosis or any reportable communicable disease, to see that the maximum of care and prevention are carried out.

All premature births reported to this department result in a home appraisal visit before the baby is discharged and a visit following the discharge of the infant for instructions and care of both mother and child. These visits also include a disease history, shots completed and general health record of the pre-school child.

The Well-Child Conference is held once a month with excellent attendance. This clinic is held at the Ladies Library Building every month on the first Thursday and the members of the Welfare Committee of the Ladies Library do the weighing and clerical work prior to the Doctor's examination. The nurses assist the the physician at the clinics and any follow-up recommendations are completed.

Clinics again are an important part of the nurses' work and this year we conducted clinics for Polio myelitis using live virus vaccine. The attendance at all these clinics was excellent. Glaucoma and Asian Flu clinics were also part of the program.

Home visits and bed-side care are still a major part of the nursing program using each visit to teach and instruct the families on the importance of a healthful environment and assisting if necessary in obtaining care when needed especially in various conditions other than general illness.

Parochial school coverage is a part of the nurses' schedule. Assistance to physicians in preparing for and carrying out any program is willingly given.

Office visits are continued for patients desiring to come to the office rather than having a home visit made.

Classes in various fields of medical care, new drugs and preventive medicine are attended so that the latest and most modern methods may be used in our varied program.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

The Board of Health members and agent were part of a committee, which was requested by them, to join with the towns of Avon, Canton, Holbrook and Stoughton in a study of garbage and rubbish disposal problems presently existing and for future planning. The committees of the five towns by mutual agreement employed the services of Camp, Dresser & McKee as consultant engineers for the study. Several meetings were held and on December 3 the results of the study were received by the five committees at a meeting held in the GAR Hall. Widespread publicity has been given to those results and other meetings were planned to consider the best course of action in either joint endeavors or by separate communities. We would like to point out that this type of study is the first of its kind and was arranged for by this Board of Health through months of contact work. This method of study has since been adopted by other communities acting jointly and is commonly referred to as the "Randolph Plan".

With the gradual development of the public sewerage system residents are again given notice that the connection to the sewer when it is accessible is mandatory. The Board has had to order individual home-owners this year that such is the case and it is considered that the best interests of the public are being served thereby. Arguments by some that they did not realize they would have to connect to the public sewer, or could connect when they felt like it, are not considered valid. The public sewerage system is an invaluable part of good public health practices, is installed to protect the health of the people it serves, and it is believed that it is in keeping with the original intention of the townspeople, as well as the law, that connection to the public sewerage system be mandatory.

The usual complaints regarding overflowing cesspools, illegal dumping, animal-keeping, etc., were received and investigated. In contrast to past years legitimate rubbish and garbage complaints were almost nonexistent.

PLUMBING INSPECTOR

Mr. Robert Gaynor, Plumbing Inspector, reports for the year 1962 that both plumbing and gas inspections have greatly increased.

Three hundred seventy-six permits were issued for plumbing including: 494 toilets, 339 sinks, 546 wash bowls, 300 bath tubs, 44 shower baths, 83 wash trays, 20 slop sinks, 28 urinals, 36 floor drains, 18 stall drains, 1 refrigerator connection, 102 pressure boilers, 70 washing machine connections, 66 gas water heaters, 37 roof leaders, 38 electric water heaters, 5 dish washers, 9 drinking fountains, 27 tankless, 1 sump pump drain, 79 sewer connections, and 1 cistern boiler.

GAS INSPECTOR

Mr. Robert Gaynor, Gas Inspector, reports that two hundred fifty-eight gas permits were issued for 165 gas ranges, 43 dryers, 101 water heaters, 126 central heating, 35 hot water tanks, 20 ovens, 1 ironer, 4 pilots, 1 floor furnace, 11 space heaters, 4 incinerators, 40 kitchen range burners, and 1 refrigerator.

The sum of $3,480.00 was collected for both the plumbing and gas and turned over to the Town Treasurer.

ANIMAL AND SLAUGHTER

Mr. Cornelius J. Crowley, Animal and Slaughter Inspector reports for the year 1962 that there were 123 dogs quarantined; 1 cow was quarantined for tuberculosis. All barns in Randolph were inspected and at the present time there are 59 cows, 26 horses and 3 sheep.

One dog head was sent to the Wasserman State Laboratory. Brucellosis tests were given and there were no reactors.

Three hundred and fifty-one calls were investigated during the year from calls received from the Board of Health; Police Department; Dog Officer and the Division of Livestock Disease Control of Massachusetts. There were no cases of encephalitis in horses in Randolph this year.

MILK INSPECTOR

Henry Merrill, Milk Inspector, reports that the following licenses for the year 1962: 1 Pasteurization license $10.00; Store licenses 37 - $18.50; Vehicle licenses 18 - $9.00; Oleo licenses 32 - $16.00; Manufacture Frozen Desserts 2 - $10.00. Total - $63.00

MOSQUITO CONTROL

The following work was performed by the Norfolk County Mosquito Control Project:

Aerial Spraying 875 acres, ground spraying 1,271 acres, pre-hatch dusting 10-1/2 acres, drainage 5,960 feet, brush clearing 625 feet, culverts cleaned 14 catch basins, catch basins treated 2, 142 catch basins.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

FOOD SANITATION

Visual inspections of establishments engaged in food handling were conducted regularly during the year and improvements in those places where they are needed are being made.

Bacteria tests of multi-use utensils are being done at least twice a year and improvement in decreasing the bacterial count below the allowable amount has been noted with pleasure.

REVENUE PRODUCED BY THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Sewage disposal permits and general licenses - $242.50; Hospital Subsidies - $565.72; Plumbing and Gas Licenses - $3,480.00; Milk and Dairy Products - $63.00. Total revenue - $4,288.22.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

At the Annual Meeting the Town voted to have a ten man Commission appointed by the Selectmen. The following men were appointed by the Selectmen:

Frank Brodil	Harold J. Gurney
Robert J. Clairmont	Joseph Marotta
Robert L. Daley	Henry J. Rota
Michael J. Diauto	Robert L. Schneider
James V. Donovan	Herbert A. White

The Committee organized and elected Robert L. Schneider Chairman. The Committee regretfully accepted the resignation of Mr. Brodil and welcomed George Kiley, Jr., to his place.

During the course of the past year the Committee sponsored a program held at Lyons School entitled "A New Look at Randolph". Local industries exhibited their products. Mr. Michael Pacella outlined his plans for development of the land adjacent to Pond Street.

A series of maps have been compiled bringing up to date the zoning map of the Town. Through the cooperation of Mr. Samuel Polio and students in his class at Randolph High School, sewer data and water system data were added to Master maps. These master maps have been reproduced in reduced size and are available for distribution. They have proved an invaluable aid in discussing industrial development with developers and Town Department Heads.

During the past year Trim Alloys, Inc., United Consumers, Inc., AAA Metal Products, Inc., have substantially completed construction of new plant facilities. A. E. Ogan, Inc., is constructing its plant presently. A new Shopping Plaza is to be started during the spring of 1963. Mr. Pacella has reported progress in his Industrial Park at North Randolph and has cleared land and roughed out roadways.

At the time this report is submitted, applicants for the position of Executive Director to the Commission are being interviewed.

Considerable time is spent by the members of the Commission during the working days in meeting with developers, utility company executives, real estate agents, and in procuring information for the industries in town.

The Commission feels that the calendar year 1963 sees Randolph in a position to move forward firmly in the competitive market of attracting new industry.

We wish to acknowledge the cooperation we have had from executives of the companies located in Randolph, Department Heads and other Town Officials, without which we would be unable to function efficiently.

The immediate aims of the Commission are to complete a "Fact Package" of the Town; procure the services of a competent Executive Director, if available, and give prompt service to the many inquiries regarding our Town.

Our long range aims continue to be to serve the Town in such a manner as to attract new business and industry to Randolph and to encourage the expansion of our present business and industry.

By careful analysis of our objectives and diligent planning of our expenditures, your Commission does not require additional funds to continue an expanded program this coming year.

Respectfully submitted by the Commission,

ROBERT L. SCHNEIDER

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE AGENCY

Board of Selectmen
Randolph
Massachusetts

During the past year the Randolph Civil Defense Agency has intensified activities to unify the organization and provide necessary training programs to increase overall efficiency.

The Civil Defense Auxiliary Police are being uniformed, and drilled in the essentials of police work to make them adjunct to the regular police force, and available for assignment for special details, as may be indicated by Chief Macauley. First-Aid instruction classes under direction of Harold Holbrook and Willis Michaelson were enthusiastically attended by members of the Civil Defense Auxiliary Police, with very satisfactory results.

George Foley, assistant director of the Communications section has resumed training in accordance with Sector 2-D, Two Meter Net drills for communication personnel.

A Medical Self-Help Training Program, under the direction of John Levreault is being organized for the instruction of the Randolph civic groups, church benevolent associations, Parent Teachers Associations, Veteran organizations, and all interested townspeople.

Area II MCDA Headquarters held a one day instructor workshop, at South Bridgewater, to qualify five members of our civil defense agency to teach this course. The Medical Self-Help Training Program is state-wide and has for its objective the training of one member of the family in medical self-help, so that our families will be able to take care of their own health needs in a National emergency. Captain and Mrs. George Benney, Harold Holbrook, Willis Michaelson and John Levreault have qualified as instructors in this program.

A Radiological Team for the detection of radioactive fall-out is in process of development and is being equipped with the necessary instruments, and provided with instruction in their use.

By using available government surplus property a Rescue Unit within our civil defense organization is being activated. This unit will be equipped for all emergencies as adjunct to the Fire, Police and Highway Departments to include Mobile lighting generators, and heavy equipment such as Loaders, Tractors, Trucks, Cranes, Bulldozers, Earth moving and Evacuating equipment, and the necessary tools and attachments required in rescue operations.

Our civil defense headquarters building is constantly in use by the civil defense Auxiliary Police, and the Communications section for class instruction. It is also available for the Red Cross, the Civil Air Patrol, and for use in the distribution of civil defense literature.

The Nation Fallout Shelter Survey for Randolph, conducted by the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, was completed this past fall. No shelter met the requirements of a safety factor of 4 with facilities for 50 persons. Another survey is contemplated to determine alterations that will meet the required need for an approved shelter for our townspeople.

Our Civil Defense is coordinated with our school administration for the purpose of cooperation in emergency, to safeguard our school population in schools, and their safe return to their homes, time permitting.

Your Director is a member of the National U. S. Civil Defense Council, National Headquarters, Washing ton, D. C.

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH E. MacLEOD
Brig. Gen., USAR
Director

REPORT OF THE SEWER COMMISSIONERS

The Sewer Commissioners are proud to report the successful completion of the 1962 Sewer Program.

The Stetson Park Area is completely sewered. The Pond Street lateral has been extended to across North Main Street.

To date over 9 miles of sewer line have been installed and operating. Of this amount 18,675 feet are trunk line, 24,589 feet are lateral lines, 2,922 feet are service connections and 486 feet are forcedmain, plus one Pumping Station.

As of this date in excess of 200 private dwellings are connected to the public system, and service is currently available to an additional 100 homes.

Eight apartment buildings constituting 196 individual units are currently connected or have service available to them. Two schools, St. Mary's Parochial School and the Elizabeth Lyons Public School, Temple Beth Am, Hollywell Nursing Home and Trim Alloys are connected to the system. Seven sewage disposal vehicles are currently using the system for dumping.

The Commissioners intend to continue the program of pollution control surrounding the water shed area. At the same time, we are contemplating, if possible financially, the extension of trunk lines heading to the center of Randolph and westerly to cross North Main Street.

Respectfully submitted,
BOARD OF SEWER COMMISSIONERS

REPORT OF THE ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

From January to December 1962, the Engineering Department was under the direction of John E. Levreault, Town Engineer, with Charles W. Lehto acting as assistant Town Engineer. In July of 1962 Roger M. Cevolani was appointed to the engineering staff, and in September of 1962 Marshall W. Perry joined the department as an administrative assistant.

During the year 1962 the Engineering Department furnished engineering services including design, layout, supervision and inspection of various projects for other Town Departments as follows:

BOARD OF SELECTMEN

Setting grades and lines for, and the inspection and policing of gravel removal operations. Approval and stakeout of power pole locations. Approval of underground utility layouts and consulting engineering services in connection with the proposed North Randolph Industrial Park as well as other industrial developments. Uniform house numbering under the new Town House Numbering By-Law was begun with many incorrectly numbered streets already having been completely revised.

TOWN TREASURER

Engineering services involving the inspection of tax title property for Town priority prior to proposed sales.

BOARD OF ASSESSORS

Investigation of Town owned property and the preparation of minor plans. Consulting services were rendered in connection with the bidding of the contract for the Assessors Tax Maps, and assistance to the representatives of the firm awarded the contract.

WATER DEPARTMENT

Investigations, preliminary surveys and stakeouts of certain water pipe locations. Preparation of water department plans for submission to State authorities.

PLANNING BOARD

Attended regular meetings, where possible, and rendered engineering services, including supervision and inspection of subdivision roadway construction, including sidewalks and underground utility installation, to insure substantial conformity with existing rules and regulations of the Randolph Planning Board. Studied and gave recommendations relative to preliminary and definitive plans of proposed subdivisions.

Subdivision roadways completed during 1962 were as follows:

Regina Road off North Street, for a distance of 400 feet.
Oakwood Drive, off Centre Street, for a distance of 800 feet.
Jeanne Road, off Chestnut Street, for a distance of 850 feet.
Robert Road, off Chestnut Street, for a distance of 710 feet.

SCHOOL PLANNING AND BUILDING COMMITTEE

Made investigations of, and gave recommendations relative to suitability of proposed school sites. Surveyed and prepared both site and topographical plans of school sites for use by architects in charge of design and construction. Prepared land taking plans for use of Town Counsel. Prepared detailed perimeter plans of certain existing school properties for record plans.

CHAPTER 90 ROADWAY CONSTRUCTION

Consulted with County and State D.P.W. officials relative to Chapter 90 roadway construction along Reed Street, as well as future planning of proposed projects.

CHAPTER 91 STREAM CLEARANCE

Worked closely with State D.P.W. division of Waterways and private consulting engineers relative to final stages of planning Mary Lee Brook stream clearance project. As of this writing this long awaited project is under contract with actual work to progress in early spring 1963. Obtained necessary land damage releases from abutters.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Made preliminary surveys, prepared plans and specifications, and rendered engineering service including lines and grades, supervision and inspection of sidewalk construction projects detailed as follows:

Bituminous Concrete Sidewalk Construction

Sidewalks constructed under the direction of the Engineering Department, included graveling, pavement widening as required, installation of bituminous curbing, and surfacing with two courses of bituminous concrete, and the loaming and seeding of cut and/or filled slopes.

Mill Street -- Southerly side from the vicinity of House #235 to the vicinity of House #265 a distance of 575 feet. Work included the widening of pavement to the new curb line to provide a wider traveled way and a paved gutter.

South Street -- Northerly side from the vicinity of Cedar Drive to the Southerly side of the Mary Lee Brook, a distance of 485 feet. Work included heavy land fill prior to sidewalk construction, and the resurfacing of the existing gutter line.

West Street -- Southerly side from the vicinity of House #252 to the westerly sideline of Silver Street, a distance of 280 feet. Work included pavement widening and the resetting of an existing catch basin frame and grate.

Pond Street -- Southerly side from North Main Street to the vicinity of Amelian Road, a distance of 825 feet. Work included removal of several large trees, and the widening of pavement prior to construction.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Engineering assistance given to the highway department included design, layout, lines and grades for various roadway and drainage projects detailed under the report of the Highway Surveyor.

MAJOR DRAINAGE

A major drainage project affecting the Lewis Drive area was put out to private contract and completed in 1962, consisting of the laying of a new relief drain line 48 inches in diameter for a distance of approximately 1650 feet from the rear of Lewis Drive to its existing outlet at the rear of Chestnut Circle. The installation of this relief drain constructed at a cost of about $29,000.00 has already proven beneficial to many abuttors in alleviating a serious drainage problem which has existed for many years.

REPORT OF THE TREE WARDEN AND MOTH SUPERINTENDENT

I herewith submit my report as Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent for the year 1962. The regular program of repairing storm damage, trimming and removal of dead and dangerous trees was carried on during the year. As this work is spread over eighty-five miles of road, it limits the amount of work to any one tree.

1. TREE PLANTING IN THE YEAR OF 1962

The restoration of the beauty of our town of Randolph by planting trees, both shade and ornamental, is an important function of our town. The rapid development of our town has created a great need for more tree planting. A total of 85 trees were planted in the year 1962.

2. TREE TRIMMING

During 1962 extensive tree trimming was carried out on many streets throughout the town. Trees were trimmed around street lights as much as possible. Low hanging limbs and dead branches were removed where necessary.

3. TREES REMOVED IN THE YEAR OF 1962

During the year, 70 trees were removed. Also 16 trees were removed for Highway Department in connection with street and sidewalk construction.

4. EDUCATION

The educational side of our work is an important field as the public knows so little about trees and related problems. In the course of a year many hundreds of requests for information relative to trees and tree care, conservation, insect problems, etc., are answered or advice given where assistance may be had to guide them.

5. POISON IVY AND BRUSH ELIMINATION

Seven miles of roadside were sprayed with weed killer as an experiment, and found to be very effective on Poison Ivy, weed and brush. I recommend a more extensive program to be carried on next year.

6. MOTH DEPARTMENT

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts through its Insect Pest Control Department has notified this department that our liability for Gypsy Moth work for the coming year is $3,300.00.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH J. HART
Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CONSERVATION COMMISSION

The Conservation Commission is newly established. With the change in the type in Town Government, the Commission was reorganized.

The work of the Commission is necessarily of long term. It will take time to develop. But the Commission meets regularly the third Monday of each month at 7:30 P. M. to further a program of benefit to the residents of Randolph. It also has special meetings when necessary.

Through our request the Turner Free Library set aside a shelf on Conservation. Unfortunately the fire at the library destroyed the collection. It is anticipated that a Conservation shelf will be re-established.

The Commission has studied areas of land in town suitable to preserve for Conservation and Recreational purposes. It is now in the process of investigating tracts of land.

The Commission has divided itself into sub-committees as follows: Mr. Hart - Forestry, Mr. Adams - Soil, Water, Mr. Good - Wildlife, Finance, Mr. Strickland - land acquisition, Mr. Hawes - Recreation, Reports, and Mr. Taylor - Education. We are a member of the Massachusetts Association of Conservation Commissions.

The Conservation Commission may accept gifts of land, funds, or buildings for the community and manage these properties accordingly. Individuals, organizations and businesses may aid the town in financing.

Randolph must save lands for Conservation and Recreational purposes. It is not too late. Cooperation of all residents in such undertakings would speed programs.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE RECREATION COMMITTEE

Board of Selectmen
Randolph
Massachusetts

Randolph has grown so rapidly in the last ten years that many facets pertaining to the growth of the town have remained still. The greatest outlet for young and old during their leisure time is recreation. Randolph needs more recreation fields - parks - ice skating sites - swimming facilities, and all gymnasiums should be open evenings for recreational purposes. All activities should be supervised, and a program should be put into operation for various activities for young and old.

Through the generosity of the M.D.C. and the Town of Canton, the Randolph people have the opportunity to use Fisherman Beach for bathing. Approximately 12,000 people took advantage of the facilities this past summer. Some work will be done in the spring to make it better.

Between the Little League in both sections of town and the Babe Ruth League, monies have been spent wisely to make improvements to the playing fields. Hundreds of games are played, and close to 1,000 boys participate in the Babe Ruth, Little League, and Minor League baseball program that is conducted by men and women interested in helping the youth of the town.

These are a few projects that are in being at the present time. In the near future the Recreation Committee will meet with the selectmen and talk over plans for recreation in the town that will be beneficial for the community.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL PLANNING & BUILDING COMMITTEE

A total of $961,000.00 was appropriated for the construction of a 24-classroom elementary school to be constructed on Reed Street. The name of the school will be the Margaret Donovan School. This school will have been opened (approximately the first of February) at the reading of this report. Of the total appropriation, $766,013.20 has been expended as of December 31, 1962.

The two six-classroom additions on the Tower Hill and McNeil Elementary Schools have been accepted and turned over to the School Committee. The entire appropriation has been expended.

The new North Junior High School is complete except for some equipment still to be purchased. Of the total appropriation of $1,184,000.00, $1,176,726.72 has been expended as of December 31, 1962.

Out of an appropriation of $10,000.00 for preliminary plans and specifications for the North Junior High School, $1,545.00 has not been expended and will be returned to the E & D Account.

As of December 31, 1962, the Committee retained a balance of $1,756.52 in its working fund.

The need for an additional Junior High School has been brought to the attention of this Committee by the School Committee. The State of Massachusetts School Assistance Commission concurs with this need. This committee is in the process of investigating possible sites.

REPORT OF THE DOG OFFICER FOR 1962

Again I report a tremendous increase in the amount of dogs in the Town of Randolph; this together with the fact that a decided lack of cooperation has been manifest by many dog owners.

I intend in the year 1963 to notify all owners of dogs three months of age and older that licenses are due and payable April 1, 1963.

To use a time honored saying, "A long threatening comes at last", It is now mandatory and for the good of the people of Randolph and I fully intend to rely on the provisions of the General Laws to prosecute wherever necessary, after due notification, all owners of dogs unlicensed within the year 1963.

More dogs were licensed in 1962 than in any prior year and I am striving to make the mark of 100% coverage in 1963.

A tremendous amount of complaints were received during the year; these were individually investigated and disposed of. Many lost dogs were returned to their rightful owners.

Again I urge all dog owners for the protection of their pets to obtain the proper licenses for them.

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the Town Clerk, the Board of Registrars, the Selectmen, the Police Department and the Inspector of Animals for all the help and assistance afforded me during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

ROGER L. NILES

To the Citizens of Randolph:

1962 was the year that Randolph saw the Selectman-Town Manager Act end with the drop of the Moderator's gavel at the end of the Annual Town Meeting and the return of the Selectman Form of Government. For some appointive personnel it was a new experience as they now had to seek the office through election. Some of the residents of Randolph were not familiar with the Selectman form, having moved to Randolph since 1954 when the Selectman-Manager Plan came into being.

Many people do not realize that an elected Department Head, Board or Committee is answerable only to the citizens and to no other Board, and some residents continued to bring their problems to the Board of Selectmen, who have always listened to any problem presented and have tried to effect an equitable solution. The Board of Selectmen wishes to express its thanks to all departments, boards and committees of the Town for their complete cooperation during the past year, for without this cooperation many of the problems presented to us would not have been solved.

The number one problem in Randolph for most people is the tax rate. It has been increasing for a number of years. This is due primarily to the services demanded of the Town by its citizens. Services cost money and the Town can only obtain this money through taxation, which is determined by Town Meeting action alone. Some of the services that have been demanded are more schools, including land acquisition costs, new teachers, and furnishings for our increasing school population; increased water pipes for domestic consumption and for fire protection; weekly rubbish and garbage pickups; and for sewer installations. The latter is still in the beginning stage and will have to be supported by the Town for a few more years before it becomes self sufficient when the betterments paid into the revolving account will be large enough to maintain the operation and increase the house connections. A fairly good start has been made on house connections in 1962.

Randolph's solution to the increasing tax rate lies in future industry. The Town is centrally located near excellent super highways, has rail service, sewer and water to offer these industrial firms as well as the land to relocate but more important is the friendly climate of the citizens toward industry.

Your Board has worked closely with Mr. Pacella, the developer of our 100 acres in the North end of Town. Progress is being made but like an iceberg, 9/10ths of it cannot be seen. It was pointed out when this venture first started not to expect to see buildings over night on the property. It is not as easy as that.

The 100 acres in question was acquired by the Town over the years for nonpayment of taxes and is called "Tax Title Land". Before any industry will lease, buy or build upon the land, the title problems to the land have to be removed. This is done through Land Court which requires considerable time and expense on the part of the individual. It is necessary to search the title to all the pieces in the 100-acre tract back to the original owners; in addition, the area has to be completely surveyed and engineered to determine the actual bounds of the property. Both the engineering and the title searching have been completed by Mr. Pacella and the matter is now in the hands of the Land Court. Once the area clears the Land Court, the way is open for the property to be developed. We are informed the property should clear the Land Court this year; the developer is optimistic, and has already started the clearing of trees in the Park for the new roads.

This year has seen the start of construction of the A. E. Ogan, Inc., Building on North Street. We have been advised that a new shopping center is proposed on Memorial Drive opposite the High School, and, also, the Randolph Mfg. Co. is planning an addition to their complex of buildings. A new apartment house grouping is presently under construction. All these are signs of progress.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

The Town of Randolph suffered a tragic loss when the Turner Free Library was totally destroyed by fire. The Trustees of the Library took prompt action and set up temporary quarters in the Congregational Church and are moving to more permanent temporary quarters in the Corking Building on North Main Street at the bridge. Plans are presently being made for the rebuilding and refurnishing of the Library by the Trustees. The response of the Citizens to the Library has been gratifying. Donations of books and money are still being made to the Trustees.

Along with many local problems, two major drainage problems were corrected this year. The first was in the Lewis Drive area and the second, in the Terraces off Mill Street. The Board has also signed the necessary papers for the Waterways Division of the D.P.W. for the Mary Lee Brook. The bids for the same have been received by the State and it appears that work will finally start on the Brook this Spring. Correction of other drainage problems have been presented to the Town Meeting by the Board of Selectmen.

Your Board has also recommended the continuing of sidewalk construction projects this year. We are also suggesting the widening of some streets in the Town. Although these items cost money, your Board considers the safety of the pedestrian of paramount importance. In the safety vein, we have also instituted steps to increase the lighting of Chestnut Street and Oak Street, both of which are heavily travelled streets. In the future, Reed Street will probably have to have increased lighting.

Your Board has met with the D.P.W. and the County Commissioners Office regarding the construction of Reed Street. We have been assured that work will start this Spring on the construction of Reed Street from High Street to Canton Street. In conjunction with this operation, your Board has recommended to the Town Meeting the raising of $2,000 to install a sidewalk on Reed Street to be constructed along with the road, in conjunction with the opening of the Margaret L. Donovan School. We have also been assured by the Traffic Division of the D.P.W. that our request for proper traffic lights at Reed-Old-Pond and No. Main Streets will be honored and work will start this Spring.

Your Board has attended various meetings throughout the year in order to represent Randolph and also to be abreast of new developments taking place that concern our Town. Some of these meetings included the Monorail Study Group, Gov. Volpe's meeting re Civil Defense, the C.D. Meetings in Bridgewater, the D.P.W. meetings re the Jaywalking Law, the General Court Seminar, as well as County and State Selectmen's Association meetings.

We wish to submit to you the following statistics which may be of interest. Your Board held 55 regular and special meetings at an average meeting time of 3-1/2 hours. This does not include other joint meetings with Department Heads, the School Committee, Joint Water Board, Finance Committee, Personnel Board meetings, the setting up of Town Elections, the Town Meeting Warrant, as well as Town Meetings. In addition, we have held meetings with the Insurance representatives re the Library fire and the Building Inspector and contractors re work on the Library building. We have also represented the Town at various civic, religious and fraternal meetings throughout the year, as well as ground-breaking ceremonies. We would also like to advise that your Board collected in license fees over $11,300 which was turned over to the Town Treasurer. This more than pays the entire operating costs of the Board of Selectmen.

Your Board is now holding monthly meetings with Department Heads on a Saturday morning. In this manner, information can be disseminated to all concerned; problems can be discussed, so that all departments concerned will be aware of them and future plans made so that any possible conflict or duplication of work by the various departments can be eliminated.

At the request of the Board, Belcher Park was flooded and is being used for ice skating by the residents of the Town. We are now requesting that the area be lighted at night so as to allow longer hours.

Chief Carl Macauley was rewarded for his many years of service in the Police Department by being appointed Police Chief.

Once more, we wish to thank all of the Department Heads and their staffs, Boards and Committees, full and part-time, elected and appointive, paid and unpaid, and the townspeople who so freely helped and aided us in making Randolph a better place to live. Through the conscientious efforts of your Town Government, we are continually making progress for a better Randolph.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE TURNER FREE LIBRARY

To the Citizens of Randolph:

In accordance with the provisions of Article III of the By-laws for the government of the Trustees of the Turner Library, this eighty-seventh annual report is submitted to show the condition of the Trust - the library, the building and the funds - for the calendar year 1962 and to mention such other matters concerning the Library as may be of general interest.

Statistically, 1962 was an outstanding year at Turner Library. Never have so many books and periodicals been acquired by the library in one year - by gift and purchase (3590). Never have so many borrowers (5616 registrations in effect) taken home so many books and periodicals (82,699). Although figures are not readily available to show the total number of reference questions received by the staff, and the total number of townspeople who personally consulted the Library's reference material on the premises, it is probably true here, also, it was a record year.

From a personnel standpoint, it has been a year of further growth and development. The continuing general shortage of people professionally trained for library work has made it impossible to obtain the services of a qualified First Assistant Librarian. However, Mrs. Lucia S. Faulkner, Librarian, and all of her regular and temporary employees on the Library's staff have been doing an excellent job under the necessarily crowded and expedient arrangements that have existed. On behalf of the Trustees it is a pleasure to be able to acknowledge this good work and express appreciation for it in this way at this time. In this connection, it is gratifying indeed to the Trustees, as it must be to all Library-minded residents, to know that the Old Colony Club - the professional association of library people in the Old Colony area - recently elected Mrs. Faulkner as its President for a two-year term. We extend our best wishes to her for a most successful administration. Mrs. Faulkner's annual report to the Trustees is appended as a portion of this report, as is the year-end report of the Treasurer of the Turner Free Library, Mr. John L. Porter.

During the past year the Trustees were pleased that the "Great Books" discussion group, continued to hold its meetings in the library building. As time goes on it is hoped that more readers will discover the pleasure, knowledge, and inspiration to be derived from participation in such a nationally organized group.

With respect to our Library building, it was a year of great expectations and preparations. Occupancy of first floor space for library purposes, long awaited, could be a reality as soon as the Board of Public Welfare moved into its new building. As the year drew to its close, bids on the necessary rearrangements and repairs had been submitted and reviewed by the Trustees. New lighting arrangements had been ordered for the Children's Room and for the Reference Room - on the second floor. Other related expenses were scheduled. Then, in the early morning of Thursday, December 6th, the library building and its contents were almost totally destroyed by the fire that has since been regarded as of incendiary origin.

The details of the discovery of the fire by Mr. Anthony Berardi of Canton and the splendid efforts of the firemen of Randolph under Chief Paul Anderson to save the fine old building that had served the town as library for nearly 89 years, are already a matter of record in the newspapers at that time and will not be repeated here. The Trustees are indeed grateful to these men for all they did.

The Trustees also wish to express their appreciation to Rev. Arthur W. Bowler, pastor of the First Congregational Church - next door to the library building - and to the Standing Committee of that Church for so generously and so promptly making available for emergency library quarters a recreation hall in the church building. With this space assured, the Librarian and her staff were able to obtain a few essential supplies, notify the public by radio and newspaper releases of their emergency location and be open for business by two o'clock on the very day of the fire. The Trustees are proud indeed of what these people accomplished in so short a period of time in order that library service in Randolph would be maintained without significant interruption.

All Departments of the town, of course, were ready with any needed assistance not only throughout the year but particularly, of course, during and following the fire. Directly from the townspeople themselves came a great many messages of sympathetic understanding often accompanied by offers of personal assistance, by gifts of good books, by cash donations or by some combination of these expressions of the individual's desire to help. For all of these the Trustees are most grateful.

The Trustees also wish to record their sincère appreciation for the tremendous and completely voluntary response from Trustees and Librarians of so many nearby towns and cities: Memorial Hall Library of Andover, Robbins Library of Arlington, Avon Public Library, Boston Public Library, Thayer Public Library of Braintree, Southworth Library of Dartmouth, Duxbury Free Library, Sawyer Free Library of Gloucester, Paige Memorial Library of Hardwick, Holbrook Public Library, Lawrence Public Library, Milton Public Library, North Abington Public Library, Ames Free Library of Easton, Peterborough (N.H.) Public Library, Plymouth Public Library, Thomas Crane Public Library of Quincy, Rockland Memorial Library, Jacob Edwards Memorial Library of Southbridge, Stoughton Public Library, Tufts Library of Weymouth, Winchester Public Library, Quincy Historical Society, Division of Library Extension of Department of Education of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and State Library of Massachusetts.

Library supplies in great variety, library services, many needed items of furniture and hundreds of books of many kinds were the offers so thoughtfully made by representatives of these fine libraries. In the case of the Avon Public Library, Thayer Public Library of Braintree, the Holbrook Public Library and the Milton Public Library there was, in addition, the generous offer to loan books to Randolph residents, in effect without charge, throughout the emergency period. The Trustees have felt that this neighborly kindness merely reflects the capable and forward looking library administration that must exist in each of these communities.

Before the close of theyear, the Trustees had unanimously decided that library service would be re-established on the site of the original building subject, of course, to the agreement of the townspeople. The Trustees also had authorized several special committees of the Trustees whose duties would be to work with the Insurance Adjusters in arriving at a fair settlement on the loss incurred; to arrange for temporary library quarters to replace the emergency quarters in the Church Building; to develop information that will help to determine whether the new building should make use of the old walls or be of new construction throughout and to create building plans accordingly; and finally, to develop ways and means of accomplishing whatever building program seems best for the town. These committees have gone to work promptly and the Trustees are looking forward to early reports of progress.

The wonderful old building that nearly ninety years ago was the generous gift from Seth Turner, Royal W. Turner, Abby W. Turner and Anne M. Sweetser to the "Inhabitants of the Town of Randolph" has been gutted by fire. The books, paintings, bronzes and other family gifts and loans to the library, as well as many items presented to the Turner Library by others or purchased over the years by funds supplied by the town, appear to be virtually a total loss. It is clear that no amount of wishing can restore these familiar and treasured possessions of the town. But, by this great loss, not just those associated with the library in some way but all of us who by residence are the current beneficiaries of the Turner family's gift have been given a challenge. That challenge is to see whether we today possess the same courage, wisdom and vision that led the Turner family in the 1870's to bring to Randolph residents this valuable means of self-education at a time when a free public library in a town of Randolph's size was a relatively new and forward-looking development.

Today the need of a library is greater than ever. The rapidly expanding frontiers of knowledge and thought and the substantial increase in leisure time combine to point clearly to the positive value of a library whose materials can be such a vital influence in the thinking and in the lives of each man, woman, young adult or child who uses them.

In honor and gratitude to the original donors, and in the interest of today's and tomorrow's children who will grow up with this as their library, the Trustees urge everyone to join in meeting this challenge. Let us now work together to erect a library that will meet this growing town's needs and one about which the people in years to come looking back will say proudly and sincerely, "This they did for us. It was done well."

LAURENCE F. SHURTLEFF, President

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

Last year's report concluded with this statement, "The lights are all green!" Like all orderly and mobile bodies, we observed the green lights and went full ahead with increases once again in ALL our activities. Library borrowers remained active readers, as witness still another year without a drop in circulation of books. Indeed, a total of 82,699 books circulated, an increase of 6,445 over 1961, encouragingly indicates that Randolph people are reading! Another facet of the picture: more people made their first application for a library card than ever before. More people renewed expired cards - all of which indicated that this is "their library," that they were sufficiently happy in it to wish to continue their recreational and educational reading programs.

In line with the crash program outlined at the conclusion of the previous year, the library was host to eighty-two high-school classes for purposes of library instruction. In effect, forty-one classes came for two lectures given by the Librarian and Mrs. Dorothy Poehlman, extending over a good part of the school year, and embracing library orientation, general and specific materials classification, use of indexes, catalogues, reference books, circulating books, guides to magazine articles and other reference tools. To test assimilation of the information imparted to the students, each was given a widely varied group of "problems" to solve "in action". Here may I say that the performance of the students was most gratifying, as was the cooperation of the teachers in their frequent trips. Thus this mutual effort served to equip the high-schoolers with the proper armor against the "wilderness" feeling when faced with a battery of complex indexes and reference tools.

In the area of children's work the fourth, fifth and sixth grade classes of the elementary schools were visited by the Children's Worker, Mrs. Mae Saunders, and in one of the schools the second and third grades were included. General information about the library, care of books and an invitation to become a library borrower characterized these talks, which are always so fruitful.

A truly sizeable project was completed in 1962 when a large and valuable bound periodical collection on the third floor was amplified and completed. Started in earlier years, it contained, among others, very old issues of the Boston Transcript, World's Work, Atlantic Monthly, Scribner's, Harpers, American Review, Review of Reviews, Town Reports, etc. Volumes were completed and bound, extending to the end of publication of certain periodicals, the entire collection lettered, numbered, shelved - only to be lost in the fire!

And so we come to the fire! Perhaps the best thing we can do in the face of the aching loss of a significant landmark in the town and of absolutely irreplaceable books is to express our appreciation of and pride in the citizens of Randolph and neighboring communities for the prompt and generous way in which they responded to the emergency by determinedly starting to build up a new collection. There is a long way to go. All of us go that way together. The term "a small library" is an anachronism. A library is only as small as the thinking which goes into it. Let's watch the shape and "size" of the new library as it develops. And always our warm gratitude will go to those early benefactors who gave the Town of Randolph the dignified granite building which embraced such inestimable values!

Respectfully submitted,

LUCIA S. FAULKNER
Librarian

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Randolph School Committee herewith submits its annual report to the citizens of the Town.

Public School business was transacted at twenty-five public meetings during the year, many of the meetings being attended by citizens interested in budgetary or policy matters under consideration.

Abolishment of the Manager act as a result of the voters' mandate resulted in the return of the School Committee after seven years, of the custody and maintenance of school buildings and grounds, including the associated personnel. In addition, the responsibility for purchase of books, supplies and sundry equipment necessary to the operation of a public school system again became the responsibility of the elected school committee members.

It is interesting to note that under the now defunct Manager Act, while relations were for the most part harmonious, the Act as it pertained to schools was unusual in scope, differing with all other 351 communities within the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Providing a balanced educational program under suitable housing at a reasonable cost influenced strongly by a rapidly expanding school population at all grade levels, continues to be our greatest challenge. Actual enrollment figures continue to surpass all private, professional and state projections, thus the necessity of extremely tight classroom scheduling and maximum space utilization.

Disappointing, of course, was the delayed completion of the new twenty-four room Donovan Elementary School, which resulted in our being unable to house youngsters within school districts. Many families were, of necessity, split up and transported considerable distances occupying substandard, temporary classrooms, and in many cases portable equipment was temporarily added to already bulging classrooms during the crisis.

During the past year the first step in a planned five-year program to improve totally inadequate school sites and grounds was completed. The McNeill and Tower Hill Schools were chosen as priority locations involving major construction of walkways, bus approaches and recreational areas for use by both educational and normal neighborhood activities.

While professional estimates of the total plan are in the range of $75,000, the program has been adequately financed by Federal funds acquired and under sole control of the School Committee. Availability of Federal funds permitted final payment for such projects as the refurbishing of the High School field ($16,500), expansion of recreation area at the Devine School ($4,000), construction of a temproray public roadway at the Donovan School ($2,000), purchase of equipment for new additions at the McNeill and Tower Hill Schools ($6,000), Language Lab at the North Junior High ($12,500) and many other items too numerous to list.

All of the capital outlay outlined in the preceding paragraphs was made by the School Committee at no expense to the townspeople. As a matter of record, many of the projects were, upon completion, again processed through State or Federal agencies which reimbursed the town's general accounts with sums ranging from 50% to 100% of the initial costs expended by the School Committee.

Progress in the Randolph public school system to date has been achieved only by the cooperative effort of all of the townspeople whose keen interest, sincere desire and willingness to sacrifice under sometimes trying conditions continues to be the forerunner of a sound, progressive and stable educational system.

The Committee wishes to express its deep appreciation to the Superintendent of Schools and his staff of administrators, to the teachers, clerks, cafeteria workers and custodial staff, and to all town officials and employees for their loyal cooperation and deep devotion in the task of providing our town's educational system.

We are again most grateful for your support and considerate understanding in resolving mutual problems. We strongly feel that the school system of any community reflects the efforts and wishes of its citizens.

Your comments, observations and constructive criticisms are always welcome in guiding the destiny of the Randolph Public School System.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Increased school population continues to be our greatest problem. This past September, our schools opened with more than 300 additional pupils, the greatest increase in years, this despite the fact that 80 of our potential first graders went to St. Mary's, making a total of 255 in grades 1-3 now attending that school.

Of the increase, more than 150 were in the senior high school and our present enrollment indicates that there will be another increase of approximately a similar number in that school in September, 1963. The report of the High School Principal spells this problem out in detail, namely, the probability of double-sessions in 1963, and the fact that this will positively come in 1964.

My annual reports of 1960 and 1961 point out the need of another secondary school building by 1964. As a taxpayer, I am keenly aware of what this means to the tax rate, not only in the construction cost of the building, but also in the cost of maintenance; however, I would be delinquent in my duty to the members of the School Committee, the pupils of the community, and their parents if I did not stress this need.

Ideally, the construction of a new senior high school, and the use of the present senior high school as another junior high school and an elementary school would be the proper solution. However, it may be possible to construct another junior high, an addition to the senior high school, and an elementary school at a somewhat lower cost. The Junior High School should be started immediately, the addition to the senior high in 1964, and the elementary school in 1965 or 1966.

The rated capacity of the North Junior High is 800 pupils, and that of the Randolph High School is 1000-1100. Projected enrollments indicate the inadequacy of our present buildings, to wit:

	Enrollment
Year	Grades 7 + 8	Grades 9, 10, 11, 12	Grades 7, 8 + 9	Grades 10, 11, 12
1963	823	1291	1181	933
1964	868	1417	1243	1042
1965	930	1469	1318	1081
1966	972	1541	1392	1121
1967	980	1633	1430	1183
1968	1021	1770	1533	1258
1969	1096	1890	1604	1382
1970	1133	2023	1686	1470
1971	1170	2156	1753	1573
1972	1200	2234	1790	1644
1973	1200	2376	1850	1726

The 24-classroom Margaret L. Donovan Elementary School will open early in 1963 with eighteen classes, but in September, the need for six more classrooms throughout the Town will utilize all rooms in the building.

The total of one hundred and seven elementary classrooms should, with an average class size of thirty, provide 3210 pupil stations; however, the geographic location of the pupils of varying ages makes it almost impossible to realize 100% utilization of every seat in every classroom.

Weeks were spent in the re-forming of the elementary school districts, and yet classes vary now in size from 21 to 42. This great variation could be lessened by the formation of split-grade classes, but the "mothers' marches" of a few years ago indicated the feelings of the parents in this regard, and certainly it is preferable to have one grade in a classroom.

The education provided in the Randolph Public Schools continues to improve and expand. The report of the Principal of the High School indicates this, in the citing of the courses added to the curriculum at that level, and the same is true in the elementary and junior high grades.

In most instances, we are not adding courses, but rather changing course content to better fit the challenges of the modern, fast-changing world. Presently, we are concentrating our interest in the areas of science and mathematics in the elementary grades. The selection of a series of modern science texts has been made, and a gradual program of purchase of these begun. The use of Federal reimbursement funds under the National Defense Education Act for the purchase of science and math materials in 1963 for use in the elementary grades should give us new strength in these subjects, and it is anticipated that a town-wide use of a "new math" text series will be initiated at the third grade level in September, 1963.

Each and every classroom teacher is an important "cog" in any educational system. This year, we lost a larger number than usual, mostly because of marriages and approaching motherhood. We have been most fortunate in being able to hire very good replacements, many of whom had already had many years of experience. This was possible only because of a salary schedule which was competitive with our neighbors. In fact, this has been a vital factor for the past few years in enabling us to procure and retain teachers of high caliber who have helped us to raise the standards of our system to the high degree of respectability which we presently enjoy.

The proper education and training of our youth is a joint responsibility of all, home, church, and school. The temptations to the young people to forget their moral training and neglect their education, are greater than ever. It is only through the complete cooperation of the parents, school personnel, and clergy, that we shall be able to prepare the young people of Randolph for the realization of their dreams for a happy and fruitful adulthood.

We of the schools are most happy to do our part. The schools, particularly the high school, are for those who want to learn, and not for "seat-warmers" and "jokers". Teachers are hired for their knowledge and ability to teach, not to be police officers or guards. Individuals who refuse to conform with the reasonable rules and regulations which have been written to assure the orderly conduct of our schools have no right to stay in school and bother those pupils who wish to learn. The support of the School Committee members in aiding us to "cull out" constant behavior problems is greatly appreciated.

The reading of the reports of principals and others herein is recommended to all, for they render in greater detail our changes and accomplishments during the past year. In a greater sense, though, it is impossible to delineate the day-to-day progress which is made by the thousands of students as a result of diligent work of all personnel from school committee members to custodians.

Interested parents and all other citizens are welcome at all times to visit our schools and thereby to see for themselves just what is being done.

Once again, may I express my thanks to the members of the School Committee, Mr. William J. Lynch, Asst. Supt. of Schools, all school personnel, and the personnel of all other Town Departments for their fine cooperation throughout the year.

I also wish to express my appreciation to the many parents who have been so understanding of the problems involved in our rapid expansion and growth.

I also wish to thank all the people of Randolph for their wholehearted support in supplying the funds necessary to operate an educational program which will provide our young people with the proper background which they will need in our ever-changing world.

THOMAS L. WARREN

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Perhaps the one accomplishment of the year 1962 was the return for the whole year of the single session for all High School students. For too many years, the insufficiency of the High School building to handle the large number of pupils required the use of the unsatisfactory device of a two-platoon program. The least said about the past, the better, but a look into the near future is equally gloomy.

Officially, the High School building accomodates 1200 pupil stations. This means that any place where a student can sit is called a pupil station. This figure of 1200 included the Library (80 pupil stations), Room 220 (80 pupil stations), and one classroom (40 pupil stations) which was used for administrative offices, and never as a classroom. This brings the capacity down to 1000 pupil stations. Our enrolment as of October 1, 1962, was 1112. We will graduate in June 1963 approximately 175 pupils and will take in approximately 350 pupils in September 1963. Thus our projected enrolment for September 1963 will be over 1300 pupils, and for September 1964, over 1400 pupils. Meanwhile, our pupil stations, or capacity, will remain the same. It is evident something will have to be done. For next year, September 1963, we are hoping to remain on single session again by utilizing every possible location in the school, but the year after that will be something else again.

We have felt that our College Preparatory and Business Courses are adequate, but that our General course needs broadening, so we have tried to enrich this area in particular by the addition of new courses. Among these are: Effective Speech, Spanish II, Russian II, General Math, Basic Math, Practical Science, Advanced Biology, Fundamentals of Typing, Record Keeping, Boys' Foods, a full-time 5 periods a week course in Mechanical Drawing, and World History II. In addition to this, we have combined a half year in Civics with a half year in World History I, Economics and Salesmanship - one half year each, and made Fundamentals of Law a full year's course instead of a half year. . We are quite concerned about next year (with our present program of studies) because we know we will have many more pupils at that time - which fact would indicate additions to our faculty. However, this year we are using every room in the building and it will be a problem to find rooms for these necessary additional teachers.

During the past year a new and printed Program of Studies booklet was issued for the first time. We consider this a very worthwhile item, since everything pertaining to the school was included, so that pupils and parents alike were informed by the printed page of every facet of school life at Randolph High School.

Also a new method of programming the pupils' program was installed, giving us a modern, efficient way of handling the important work of preparing their programs in advance, while giving us the necessary information about each pupil, to enable us to fit each pupil homogeneously in the classes best suited to that pupil. It was most helpful.

We strongly feel that every student should participate in extra-curricular activities while in High School. The old adage seems to apply here - that a pupil well get as much out of school as he puts into it. Taking part in such out-of-class activities not only makes school life more enjoyable, but it helps to build up the well-rounded education which both college and employer seem to look for. This activity, of course, should not in any way endanger the pupil's academic progress. While activities should remain subordinate to academic accomplishments, there is a valuable place in the school program for them. Student morale seems to be closely tied up with activity participation, and there seems to be strong correlation between good grades and participation in school activities, for they also offer the best opportunity for developing social competence.

Since we have mentioned briefly extra-curricular activities, one such in point is the Student Council. Any student council is organized, maintained and exists only because it is ready, willing and able to serve. How does such a group do this? Simply by defining its area of operation, by considering its limitations and its spheres of influence. It does not administer a school, it simply participates actively in the organization, maintenance and administration of the school. The council is not the end, but rather the means to the end. Such a group is the Randolph High School Student Council which has long operated successfully. This, I believe, is due primarily because of the type of leadership it has under the direction of Mr. James H. Santry, of the faculty. Under his leadership, our Student Council has brought many awards to our school from organizations on a state or national status. The last was a citation from the State Department of Education, awarded to the school and its pupils in October, 1962.

The Joseph W. Daly Chapter of the National Honor Society continues to flourish in our school. Over the years the National Honor Society has constantly maintained its original purpose, to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership and to develop character in the students in our High School. For a number of years, scholarship was in disrepute, while mediocrity was on the upsurge. Yet the National Honor Society has consistently selected and honored those in the school who stood out from the average and proclaimed high ideals and high scholarship. Today this organization is a potent factor in encouraging our qualified young people to continue their education beyond high school and to improve their educational development while they are still in high school.

The school drop-out is a pupil who leaves school before completing high school or some recognized, secondary school level, program of education. This problem is nationwide and Randolph has its proportionate share. There are many reasons for drop-outs, too numerous to list here, and though the schools cannot alone do the job, they can help. The parent can aid by helping the school convince the pupil of the difficulty a pupil will have in obtaining satisfactory or regular employment in a job market where unskilled labor is increasingly a distress situation, and teenagers seeking employment have an unemployment rate twice as high as any other age group. The pupil who does not know while still in high school what he wants to do after high school, can see no relation between what he is doing now and what he will do later. Thus his progress in school is not satisfying to himself, and therefore, he is apt to feel he does not belong in school. Then, from lack of self-satisfaction, it is a short step to indifference thence to hostility and open anti-social behavior - finally, drop-out. One major agency in the school to combat this situation is the Guidance Department. Attention is directed to the report of Mr. William Casey, Guidance Director, especially to the number of unscheduled conferences between pupil and Guidance. When pupils are voluntarily seeking help, we consider it to be a healthy condition.

We wish, before closing, to thank everyone - students, faculty, Mr. Lynch, Mr. Warren, members of the School Committee and all others who helped to make this past year so successful and pleasant. It is only with the cooperation of all - school personnel, parents and the public that we can constantly strive to make our school better to meet the needs of all pupils.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE

It is herewith my pleasure to report to the Superintendent of Public Schools, to the Members of the School Committee and to the townspeople of Randolph on the activities of the Guidance Department of the Randolph Public Schools for the year 1962.

The tone and philosophy of guidance activities assumed new character during the year just concluded. In the main, this change was the result of a number of studies and surveys which were conducted by members of the professional staff for the purpose of determining student and community needs.

Guidance is an assimilation of services - each one of which is designed to offer full and complete assistance to each individual student in our system. For the first time, staff members were assigned definite areas of responsibility; and continuing evaluations on their part effected noticeable progress in the disposition of these services and wrought a keen and clear sense of cooperation among all members of the Staff.

At the High School level, Miss Winifred M. Brennan, Assistant Director of Guidance, coordinated the services of Placement and Records; while Mr. James A. Sullivan developed Informational Services and Research and Miss Isabelle J. Bennett handled the areas of Orientation, Scholarships and Testing.

At the Junior High School, Miss Anna K. Good and Mr. Adelino J. Bernardo, shared with the Director, the responsibility of developing an active and vital program in all areas at that level of the secondary spectrum.

A number of studies were coordinated through this Office, during the year, 1962. Included among these, were the following major projects:

1. "Testing Program - Grades 7 - 12"

   This report was submitted to the Superintendent and the School Board in April, 1962. Authored by Miss Bennett, this survey presented a complete analysis of current testing practices, both internally and externally; and gave definite structure to the type of program held best for the children in the Randolph secondary schools.

2. "Records System - Grades 1 - 12"

   This report is now nearing completion and is an attempt to simplify and coordinate the myriad of records now evident throughout the different levels of the system. Coordinated by Miss Brennan and Miss Good, this report will reflect the opinions of administrators at all levels, of teachers and of specialists throughout the system. This report is scheduled for submission to the Superintendent in early 1963.

3. "Curriculum Changes - Courses of Study, 1962 - 63"

   Eleven new subjects were presented to the Administration for inclusion in the 1962 - 63 High School courses of study. These suggestions were based on research conducted by this Department with both former students and with selected colleges and industries and attempted to define the academic needs of our students.

   Subject-matter articulation in two areas - Social Studies and Mathematics - was initiated during 1962, and affected the faculties of both secondary schools. This project is an attempt to define a coordinated course-of-study in a given subject-matter area, Grades 7 - 12.

Incidental to these major projects, were a number of benefits which accrued to the schools and their students as the result of the normal procedures of the guidance program.

The Follow-up Study on the Class of 1961 was greatly increased in its scope. Such studies serve as a constant evaluation of all of the programs of the school and serve our work considerably in judging the worth of our programs of study, guidance procedures and the like. An excellent return of 96.6% of the Class of 1961 illustrated the following categories of graduate activities: Employed: 53.6%; Further Education: 31.9%; Armed Services: 8.4%; Homemakers: 5% and Unemployed: 1.1%.

Fortunately, Placement problems for the graduating Class of 1962 were few at the time of their graduation. Industry had already absorbed eighty-four and the Armed Services, ten, while sixty-six students went on to further schooling. The complete activities of this Class will be determined in the next Follow-up Study.

Scholarship notices brought an excess of $45,000.00 in financial assistance to the graduating seniors from a variety of sources - local agencies, state and national funds and college and school endowments. Included in the list of winners were three Service Academy nominees and two first-prize winners in the Elks' National Scholarship Foundation.

Informational services provided knowledge to the students about a multitude of vocational and educational opportunities of both normal concern and of atypical situations. The latter type sent Everett A. Schaner, of the Class of 1962, on full scholarship to a National Science Foundation Workshop in Biology at Northeastern University in the summer months; during the same time, Donald R. Saidel, of the Class of 1963, won a scholarship at the Andover Summer School at the Phillips Andover Academy for advanced study in the field of English. The Fall semester at Boston College saw two of our undergraduates accepted into an Advanced Placement Course in Inorganic Chemistry. Those chosen were William E. Cottle, Class of 1963, and Francis J. Azzariti, Class of 1964.

Testing on a national level in competition with students in every school system in the country brought national distinction to six Randolph High School students in 1962.

For the first time, the school produced a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, in Donald R. Saidel, Class of 1963. Mr. Saidel's selection score of 155 was one of the forty highest in the entire Commonwealth. His final selection as a Merit Scholar will be determined in April of 1963. Mary H. Tallafuss, Class of 1963, was awarded a Letter of Commendation in the same examination.

Five members of the Class of 1964 were selected as finalists in the Telluride Association Summer Scholarship Program, which grants full financial grants to study programs held annually at Princeton and Cornell Universities. The Juniors were selected on the results of the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, and are: Kenneth Ekman, Matthew Fox, Donna McNeil, David Reed and Steven Silverstein.

In May, one hundred members of the Class of 1963, representing every course of study, participated in the standardization of a new aptitude testing instrument, developed by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey. Randolph was chosen as a town representative of suburban living in the Northeast United States.

Throughout the year, Randolph High School was included on the visitation schedules of twenty-eight schools and colleges. Representatives from schools of diversified interests held meetings with interested students and among the schools represented were: University of Bridgeport, Marietta College, Babson Institute, Harvard College, Wentworth Institute, University of Massachusetts and the Burbank Hospital School of Nursing.

Fifteen representatives of the business community also spoke to Randolph High School students, concerning opportunities in specific industries, as participants in the Northeastern University Occupational Information Program.

In the summer of 1962, the Director was invited to participate in a Summer Study Institute of Job Opportunities, which was sponsored by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, and during the year made personal visits to another twenty-one colleges and universities in the East and the Mid-West, included among which were: Boston College, University of Michigan, University of Rochester, College of the Holy Cross, Kalamazoo College, Northwestern University and the University of Notre Dame.

The substance of the guidance program is best measured by the number of counseling sessions which are afforded to the students it serves. Statistics on these interviews were recorded during 1962 and illustrated these facts:

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Students, Grades 7 - 12: 1935 (Maximum)
Interviews Conducted:			10,637
Nature of Interviews: -	Scheduled:	5,783
	Walk-in:	4,854	10,637
Type of Problem: -	Personal:	1,181
	Occupational:	1,747
	Educational:	7,010
	Testing:	699	10,637
By Class:	Grade 7:	1,499
	8:	2,282
	9:	1,846
	10:	1,457
	12:	2,083	10,637

It is said that one requisite of a good counseling system is that each child on the secondary level be seen by a counselor at least once a year, and preferable twice. Statistics shown above illustrate two indicative facts in this regard: 1) each child, grade 7 - 12, was counseled on an average of 5.4 times during 1962; and 2) the number of walk-ins (4,854 - 46%) is very close to the number of scheduled appointments (5,783 - 54%). This would indicate that the program is meeting not only minimum requirements, but also has encouraged the students to make full and effective use of its services, when they are needed.

As we review, therefore, the progress and the efforts of the Guidance Program in 1962, this Office cannot help but feel a sense of satisfaction in the professional efforts of the Counseling Staff and a sense of appreciation for the cooperation lent to our efforts by the Superintendent of Schools, the School Committee, the School Administrators and their faculties and by the students and their parents, and by the community-at-large.

Much remains to be accomplished, however, and as we look ahead to 1963, the institution of a functional Guidance Program at the Elementary level, through the cooperation of the Elementary Principals, looms as our most challenging task.

The primary task, of course, is to continue to assist each individual student to make appropriate decisions in the shaping of his or her future. The efforts of the Guidance Staff must be constant in this regard.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. CASEY
Director of Guidance

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF NORTH JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

It gives me great pleasure to submit to you my first annual report as the Principal of the North Junior High School.

On November 3, 1962, the first complete year of operation of the North Junior High School was concluded so that it seems most appropriate to report on the plant, the program, and the progress of the students at this time.

Perhaps by stating the philosophy of education for the junior high school, this report may be more meaningful. First of all, we believe that the public schools exist for the primary purpose of extending to every individual the best education the community can provide. The only limitation placed on this education is the individual's personal ability to achieve.

The function of the junior high school within the structure of the educational system is to:

1. build upon and extend the individual's fundamental knowledge in all areas;
2. instill in the individual an educational, physical, and moral responsibility not only to himself but to the community and the nation;
3. act as a buffer during the transition period between the elementary and high school years.

In order to realize these aims we should strive to:

1. recognize each person as a distinct entity and provide for him as such;
2. provide each student with the opportunity to develop his native ability to its utmost;
3. provide a curriculum which meets the needs of all of the students;
4. provide guidance and understanding so that the student may better adjust to the many physical, emotional, and educational problems which arise;
5. give the student an insight into his future educational and vocational opportunities;
6. provide many experiences of a wide variety - both culturally and educationally;
7. provide a sound foundation in the heritage of our forefathers and the responsibility of maintaining and furthering the American way of life;
8. provide opportunities for the student to participate in the democratic process;
9. instill in the student a moral obligation to himself and the community;
10. provide for the physical and health needs of the student by offering a program which would include all the students.

With the aims of the junior high school in mind, I would like to point out the steps which have been taken during the past year to achieve these aims in the North Junior High School.

Several innovations have taken place in the methods of grouping students and in scheduling the individual pupils. The criteria used for grouping students into outstanding, high, average, or low groups is as follows:

1. the pupil's intelligence level;
2. the results of standardized achievement tests;
3. the overall marks achieved by the student;
4. the reading level of ability;
5. the previous teacher's recommendations.

Using this criteria we have been able, to the best of our ability, to place each individual in a group best suited for that person so that he may achieve within his group that which he is capable of achieving. Since the student may be more proficient in one area than in another, the program of subjects has been arranged so that a student in one group who may be more or less proficient in a particular subject area may be transferred to another group in that one area without interferring with the rest of the pupil's schedule. In this way we are able to better meet the individual needs of each pupil in every academic area.

Some students who may not possess the ability to excel in formal academic classes often times are very skilled in non-academic areas. For this reason, non-academic classes are scheduled on a heterogeneous basis so that these people may have the opportunity to be successful in those areas which they may possess some talent.

In direct relation to the individual needs but on a more general basis, the program has been improved by the building of a fine new junior high school plant and the purchase of new materials. As a result of the double session which existed for several years it was necessary to curtail the time apportionment of the non-academic subject areas. Now we are able to allot two periods each week to industrial arts, home economics, music and art.

Two new areas were added as a result of the new building. These were French and metal shop. The addition of the metal shop enables us to offer a more complete program in industrial arts for the boys. With both the wood shop and the metal shop, boys are now offered one year in each area. This experience will give all of the boys a fundamental knowledge in the use of hand tools as well as machine tools.

With the completion of a thirty station language laboratory and the addition of a French teacher, we are now able to offer a French program beginning in grade 7 for selected students. As the French program develops, we will finally offer an oral-aural language program to both 7th and 8th grade students, thereby preparing them for more advanced work in the high school language program.

In order to better meet the diversified needs of the pupils and at the same time keep abreast of current educational practices, several revisions have been made in the curriculum content in the various subject areas.

In the mathematics program we have undertaken a limited program for some students in the so-called "new math". At the same time the program has been geared to student abilities so that the content now ranges from fifth grade level in some cases to an introduction of freshman mathematics in other classes.

In the social studies program the major changes were made in the eighth grade United States history and the purchase of textbooks better suited to student abilities in the overall program. Because of the vast amount of material covered in United States history and because of the duplication of the material in the 11th grade, 8th grade history now concludes with the Civil War period. In the junior year of high school the instruction will begin at the Civil War period and conclude with current events. By doing this we hope to give the students a greater insight of the heritage, events, and personalities which have made this nation the country it is today.

In the English program literature is now included as an integral part of the English instruction and not as a separate subject as it had formerly been. Along with the change in literature, more emphasis is now being placed on creative composition, which seems to be seriously lacking in high school and college students.

In the science program new text books have been purchased to bring the science curriculum up to date and to present the student with a more challenging program. The vast changes in the world today, as a result of scientific developments, certainly warrant more preparation for students in this area and more emphasis on science in general.

Without proper direction and assistance a student can no more be successful in his educational career than he can be in any undertaking which has not been properly thought through. To assist the students with the many educational, vocational, and personal problems which confront them, and because they are not always capable of solving these problems themselves, we have added one more guidance counselor to our staff this year. It is now possible for the guidance department to properly assist and direct those students who need that little extra word of encouragement or advice so that they may be more successful in the future.

On November 3, 1961, the students and faculty of the junior high school moved into a new building. This move was more than just a change of environment. It was the realization of the effort and planning of the School Building and Planning Committee, the School Committee, and many citizens interested in the future of the community.

Although a school plant is a necessity, the people who staff it are eventually the ones who will determine the successfulness of the program and the students. In this respect I feel the community and the students are most fortunate in having a faculty devoted to the education of youth.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

The measure of success of a school system is reflected in its community and, to this end, it is obvious that the Town of Randolph, through its School Committee, has been foreseeing and progressive in its educational undertaking.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES L. TOPHAM

REPORT OF READING SUPERVISORS

The Randolph Public Schools are continuing to maintain a reading achievement level in Grades one through six, far above the national norms; a quality of achievement which exemplifies the high standards of the directing personnel and the individual teacher. This superior achievement has been realized, in view of the ever growing school population, which has resulted in additional pupils and teachers who are in need of training and instruction, plus the normal turn-over of teachers each year, which necessitates a complete orientation of the total reading program, and close supervision of classroom instruction.

The elementary reading department has been most fortunate, in being able to obtain the most current, as well as the most approved materials offered in the field of reading. This, of course, is made possible through the sanction and the cooperation of our superintendent and our school committee.

Among the very new materials are those concerned with reading in the content area. Through the use of texts concerned with reading in the various subject areas, the children are also brought to a knowledge of the techniques of reading according to the reading needs. The emphasis in the accompanying study books is to develop an awareness, and a skill for reading through skimming, scanning, and a study type of reading. This material lends itself effectively to the groups which have been working toward better comprehension, coupled with an increase of reading rate. Thus children are shown not only the techniques for better reading, but they themselves are gaining the ability to discriminate and make judgments as to the kind of reading they wish to do in a specific area at a specific time.

The S. R. A. reading laboratories have entrenched themselves as a definite part of the reading program in grades four, five and six, and have proven value, particularly in advancing the study skills. Presently an S. R. A. pilot program is being conducted in one third grade class. Over and above the obvious purpose of S. R. A., that of developing better comprehension, the emphasis in this particular program is on the development of comprehension through listening skills. This ability to listen and comprehend, and the development of sequence and a sense of time, is a necessary and valuable skill. There is a time for teaching the skills on a child's instructional level; sight reading by which means we give the pupils the opportunity to put to use their phonic skills; teaching the skill of listening to the pupils through exercises, and the resulting ability whereby the pupils learn to concentrate on the spoken word. The success of the pilot program will determine the extent to which this material will be used in the future. Other third grades are learning to properly develop listening skills by the use of materials that have been produced for this purpose also.

After attending the annual New England Reading Conference at Swampscott, we were able to conclude that more and more school systems are attempting to strengthen their reading programs by placing a stronger, better organized phonics program in the early grades. In the face of the many pros and cons of the place of phonics in any reading program, many school systems see the need to develop greater independence in word recognition. All the other skills will be developed at each stage of progression in the basic reading program, but of necessity the proper attack skills for word recognition must come first. This type program was initiated in the Randolph elementary schools five years ago.

We are adding many kinds of books to the room libraries to foster more leisure reading. We encourage this type of reading to establish good reading habits, and to develop a true appreciation for all literature.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSES

Healthful school living is a term that designates the provision of a wholesome environment. Since the children spend much of their time in the classroom and in the school itself, this is the logical place to begin to develop the necessary attitudes, skills and habits for healthful living and reasonable safety in our modern world.

Today, the teachers and principals are the key figures in the inspection and observation of the child because of their day by day contact. Therefore, the teacher's observation of the health of the individual child, and the recognition of symptons prove to be of great value to the school nurse so that she may refer the child to the proper health services.

The school physicians examine school children at specified intervals and they also examine children participating in sports. All children are screened annually by the school nurses for visual and hearing defects. All defects are recorded on the child's permanent health record, and notification of defects are sent to the parents for referral to the family physician. Recommendations of the family physician are given every consideration.

Home instruction is offered to students who attend Randolph Public Schools if they are not physically capable of full time attendance.

The school nurse administers first aid in the event of accidents. She then refers the child to the family physician for further treatment.

All school children are weighed and measured during the year. When the need is apparent, further discussion about diet with children and parents is arranged.

We were most fortunate in that our town was chosen to be one of the study areas where all of the school population were provided the opportunity to receive the oral Polio vaccine. During May and June, approximately ninety per cent of the school population were given Types I and III of the Sabin oral vaccine. Many students attended the Board of Health Polio Clinics while others had their family physicians administer the vaccine.

A portion of the school personnel had chest x-rays taken in October. This service was provided by the Norfolk County Tuberculous Health Association.

The school nurses wish to express their appreciation to all school personnel for their cooperation in helping to make our health program a success.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

The 1962-63 school year has brought with it a return of music to the high school day. The band now rehearses three periods per week and the chorus meets two periods per week during school time. After school rehearsals by both organizations are still necessary as the in-school rehearsal schedule is still not adequate to achieve the high standards which I feel we are capable of attaining.

Outstanding band and chorus members were selected to participate in the various festivals which were held during the year. The band appeared many times during the year; giving concerts, performing at all football games and marching in various parades.

The Dance band, composed of outstanding high school band members, continues to rehearse after school. They performed at many functions during the school year. A new addition to the dance band, a girls' vocal trio will be heard in the coming months.

The Chorus participated in several concerts during the year. Because of insufficient rehearsal time, it was necessary to omit a major choral production this year, however, with the return of chorus to the school day, plans are being made to resume major choral productions in the spring.

Each student in the junior high school has music two periods per week during school hours. The program is designed to give students a general background in all phases of music.

The performing groups at this level, consist of band, boys' chorus and girls' chorus. These organizations perform at assemblies and present concerts during the year.

At the present time because of the separation of the junior and senior high school, there is a shortage of background instruments at the junior high. It is my hope that the coming year will bring relief to this shortage.

In June Mr. Lauri Hallfors resigned from the junior high school music staff and was replaced by Mr. Robert Drukman.

The elementary instrumental program continues to increase. This year the enrolment has risen to the 350 student mark. This figure is more significant when it is compared with the 150 student elementary enrolment at the time when Mr. Leonard Rapoza was added to the music department.

It is fortunate that we have had student teachers from Boston University at the start of this school year, otherwise it would have been impossible to adequately carry on the instrumental program at the elementary level.

In addition to the increase in enrolment, the forthcoming new elementary school will present additional scheduling problems in the instrumental program. An immediate additional teacher is necessary.

In October of this year a course in "Basic Fundamentals of Music" was offered to the elementary teachers by the Director of Music through the cooperation of the administration and school committee. Sixty-two teachers are enrolled in the course.

There is an ever increasing number of Randolph students entering the field of music upon graduation, whose training is limited to that of vocal or instrumental instruction. Courses in theory, composition, and appreciation are necessary at the high school level.

It is my recommendation that at least 2 additional teachers are necessary to have the music department function adequately.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the School Committee and the administration for their help in the past and to request their future cooperation and assistance in helping to make this the finest music department in the state.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The human body is the only machine that breaks down when not used. Moreover it's also the mechanism that functions better and more healthily the more it is put to use.

We try to stimulate the interest and effort of the boys and girls in our school system toward physical fitness by providing progressive tests of speed, strength, agility and endurance as standards against which they must match their abilities and their progress.

Tests:

1. 100 yd. sprint (time)
2. sit-ups - 100
3. pull ups - 15
4. walk & run - 1-1/2 miles
5. standing broad jump - 7 ft.
6. push ups - 50
7. running high jump - 4 ft.
8. baseball throws - 150 ft.
9. basketball throws (fouls)
10. continuous hike for distance (5-6 miles)
11. shot put - 30 ft.
12. 440 yd. run - 60 sec.

There is no question of the need for more and better fitness programs. Validated tests prove that we and especially our children are not as fit as either our own ancestors or the people of other lands. The technology which so abundantly satisfies our material needs is cheating us of the activity necessary to healthy physical development.

President Kennedy described the recent surveys of the public, parochial and private schools as frightening and shocking. These are the reasons for their alarm:

1. One fourth of our 50 million school children aren't up to minimum acceptable physical standards.
2. One-half are sub standard in strength, agility or flexibility.
3. Only 10 per cent are engaging in vigorous daily physical education programs.

The athletic boy and girl is covered by the many interscholastic teams sponsored by the High School.

Boys: Football - Varsity and Freshman
Basketball - Varsity, Jr. Varsity and Freshman
Track - Cross Country, Winter Track, Spring Track Tennis
Golf
Baseball - Varsity and Jr. Varsity

Girls: Basketball - Varsity and Jr. Varsity

We now need an athletic system developed in the junior high school, preferably basketball, baseball and track.

In my opinion Physical Education should be given to all youngsters in the school system at least twice a week for approximately a 40 minute period for each class, plus a fifteen minute vigorous exercise program daily. In order to accomplish this, more personnel is necessary for the entire athletic and physical education program.

Our entire school system has grown tremendously within a period of ten years. More students demand more facilities and personnel which means a larger budget. This is inevitable and the welfare of the students of the Randolph School System should be uppermost in everyone's mind.

JOSEPH J. ZAPUSTAS
Director of Physical Education

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF SPECIAL EDUCATION

This year the responsibilities of the Special Education Department have been increased by the passage of Chapter 750 - Acts of 1960 by the Massachusetts Legislature. The new law stipulates that all towns having one or more children qualifying under the stringent requirements as Emotionally Disturbed, must provide special educational facilities for such children.

September of 1962 marked the beginning in Randolph of a Special Class for Emotionally Disturbed Children. The School Department was most fortunate to obtain as teacher for this class, Miss Eloise Maloney, former Director of the Cerebral Palsy Nursery School of the Children's Hospital Medical Center. Miss Maloney has had a broad spectrum of experience with children of elementary school age requiring various types and techniques of specialized education. The program for Emotionally Disturbed Children is very closely regulated by State Law and carefully supervised by both the Massachusetts Division of Special Education and the Division of Mental Health. It is noted that Randolph, being one of the pioneers in this particular field of Special Education, has been host to individuals from other towns of the state which are required to open similar classes under the law, and that our efforts are being studied very closely by all concerned.

Two elementary Special Classes are presently functioning at the Pauline Street School and two more classes for older pupils are operating at the North Junior High School. Plans for vocational training and assistance for high school age pupils are progressing although much remains to be done before our goal of actual job placement becomes a reality. The Pauline Street School Band, in its fourth year, continues to serve as an entering wedge for the learning of various tool subjects and is a source of satisfaction to the children participating.

We wish to express our appreciation to the Special Education teachers: Mrs. Ruth Mowrey, Mrs. Priscilla Watson, Miss Eloise Maloney and Mr. Thomas McLaughlin for their conscientious and dedicated efforts to further the aims of this department - THE FULLEST SOCIAL GROWTH AND ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT OF OUR PUPILS, CONSISTENT WITH THEIR VARYING LEVELS OF CAPACITY.

Again we thank the School Committee, Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Principals and interested individuals in and outside of the School Department for their sympathetic understanding of the problems of the pupils in Special Education and for their assistance to all of us charged with the responsibilities of the Special Education Program.

ROBERT D. SAYRS

REPORT OF SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

The National School Lunch Program is operated under authority established in the National School Lunch Act of June 1946. This act provides for a permanent grant-in-aid under the direction of the secretary of Agriculture, and authorizes annual appropriations in amounts sufficient to carry out the purposes and objectives of the act.

Commodities are made available for direct distribution to non-profit lunch programs in elementary and high schools. During the school year of 1961-1962, the Randolph School Lunch program received $42,098.22 in monetary reimbursement from the Federal and State governments.

The market value of the food commodities that we received amounted to $18,793.60 for which we paid $682.50.

The Type "A" meal served in the Randolph School Lunch consists of: one half pint of whole, unflavored milk, two teaspoons butter, one slice of enriched bread, three-fourths cups serving of raw or cooked vegetables or fruits or both. Two ounces of cooked lean meat, poultry or fish, or two ounces of cheese; or one egg or one half cup cooked dry beans or dry peas are to be served.

During the past year, the four cafeterias of the Randolph schools served: 242,732 Type "A" meals. This is an increase of 65,932 meals over last year. Our over-all participation has increased 38%. In the same ten month period, we served 828,772-1/2 pints of milk in the eight schools of Randolph.

The Margaret L. Donovan School Cafeteria will open in 1963. This will be the fifth cafeteria in the town. The Town of Randolph has paid the initial cost of equipping this cafeteria.

At the present time, there are twenty employees in the four cafeterias. The cafeteria workers are appointed under Civil Service Regulations. It is necessary to pass the Civil Service tests for the various positions in order to be permanently appointed from the list. Applications should be made directly to the Civil Service Division in the State House.

Our aim is to serve nutritious meals at a price that all students can afford. We hope to promote good eating habits that will last for a lifetime. The establishment of good eating habits in school days will build healthier, happier and more productive adults. I wish to express my gratitude to the School Committee, Building Committee, Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent, Maintenance and Custodial force and the School Lunch Workers for their complete cooperation during the past year.

MARIE C. MINNICK

"NO SCHOOL" ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. The general policy is not to cancel the school session except under extreme weather conditions. It is always the privilege of any parent to keep a child at home if the parent feels that it is necessary.
2. The following stations usually carry our "No School" announcements:

   Boston: W.B.Z., W.H.D.H., W.E.Z.E., W.C.O.P.
   Quincy: W.J.D.A.
   Brockton: W.B.E.T., W.O.K.W.

   In most instances, it might be better to listen to the Brockton or Quincy stations, for it is not always possible to reach every Boston station, as they handle hundreds of calls on stormy mornings.
3. When the session is cancelled, a recorded message will be available on WO 3-7802; however, this is but one telephone line, and it is limited greatly in the number of calls which it can handle. You should rely on the radio stations.
4. You should not call school officials, for they are busy making calls to radio stations, the bus company, principals. Rely on the radio stations for your information.
5. Do not call the Fire, Police or Street Departments, for by doing so you hamper their work.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE STETSON SCHOOL FUND

For many years, three handsome buildings of different types of architectural planning, yet complimentary to one another, have faced each other across Crawford Square in the center of Randolph. Two of them commemorate the names of old and respected Randolph families, Stetson and Turner, in the form of Stetson (Town) Hall, and Turner Library. The third represents the original way of life in Randolph and other Colonial towns: the historic community house based in religion, the First Congregational Church.

It is with great sorrow that the trustees acknowledge the loss of Turner Library, our sister across the way, and pray that out of the ashes will arise a new, more beautiful library. The Turner name is linked to the Stetson Fund through Hon. Seth Turner, who contributed to the Fund a large sum of money to be applied to scholarship prizes. Each year at the Randolph High School graduation ceremonies, a trustee of the Fund awards two medals in the name of Turner, to a boy and girl who have excelled in scholastic ability, deportment, and attendance record. Thus the Turner name is forever commemorated, and your trustees carry on the wishes of a revered donor.

Many of our citizens do not know the function of the G. A. R. Hall, which is on the first floor of your Town Hall. It is graced by two marble plaques, inscribed as follows: "A. D. 1867 - Erected by the Town of Randolph to perpetuate the memory of its patriotic citizens who voluntarily entered, and fell in their country's service during the war of the GREAT REBELLION." There follows a list of eighty-one names, the Randolph veterans of the Civil War. Recessed in one wall is a large exhibit of swords and guns with fixed bayonets, relics of the time.

The trustees have observed that interest in the G. A. R. Hall has grown, and have provided a new nylon American flag in order to remind all that reverence and patriotism should be uppermost in your minds when you avail yourselves of the use of this Hall. Due to many requests for a set of rules on this subject, we have prepared such information which is now posted upon the Hall door. All regulations will not be listed here due to space, but we want you to know that the Hall is confined to activities of civic, charitable or religious nature.

This past year the business offices of Stetson Hall have required minor repairs and improvements, in the nature of electrical fixtures and wiring, cleaning of venetian blinds, and upkeep of plumbing and heating systems. In the interest of comfort and resultant employees' efficiency, the second floor restrooms have been renovated.

The trustees have projected plans for next year, including a redesigning of landscape detail, awnings in a particular area, and pointing of masonry. Due to a demand for more office space, the trustees highly recommend that the Town consider the necessity for a new police station.

The Stetson Town Hall is a valuable building, located on a valuable site. The trustees are happy that a fire alarm detection system was installed last year, so protecting the investment that the Hon. Amasa Stetson made so long ago!

Respectfully submitted,

ROGER L. NILES, Chairman
MARJORIE E. CONLEY, Clerk
JOHN J. HURLEY

REPORT OF THE PERSONNEL BOARD

The 1962 Town Meeting voted acceptance of a survey conducted by Charles M. Evans and Associates and adopted a personnel by-law, job classification and compensation plans.

After adoption of the by-law, the Board set up working relationships with various departments and department heads, requesting reports required on attendance, sick leave, personal history and fringe benefits. Most departments cooperated.

The Board held regular meetings the third Thursday of each month, and conducted special meetings at other times at the request of town employees who could not conveniently attend the regularly scheduled meetings, on such matters as job classifications, job descriptions, working hours, sick leave, and wage rates.

Information was sought from and provided to comparable towns and cities on wages, hours, working conditions and fringe benefits during the year. The Board sought and received information from federal and state agencies on cost of living increases, wage settlements in local governments and private industries. As a result of data compiled from various sources the Board will make recommendations to the annual Town Meeting relating to wage schedules and working hours.

The Board wishes to thank those citizens who wrote expressing their approval, and to all who cooperated with us during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

GERALD FAHERTY, Chairman
MARJORIE CONLEY, Secretary
HYMAN FINN

REPORT OF TOWN COUNSEL

This office concerned itself with the matter of the transfer of the various departments of the Town from the Selectmen-Manager form of Government to the Selectmen form of Government during the early part of the year.

Many of the offices entailed long hours of research because historically they had come into being under unique circumstances. In some cases the office had been created prior to the Selectmen-Town Manager form of Government, during, or by Legislative Act.

Many novel questions were raised concerning the jurisdiction of various departments at the time of the transition.

In addition to this task the Legal Department faced the usual large number of requests from various departments for opinions, attendance at department meetings and consultation with the various officers.

Claims for and against the Town were handled, and matters were litigated in the various Courts in behalf of the Town.

Another monumental task facing this department in the coming year in the form of the resolution of the rights and duties of municipal employees with respect to the so-called conflict of interest law.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. CARR
Town Counsel

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REGISTRARS

The Board of Registrars submits its annual report for the year 1962. During the past year 1414 new voters were registered, the total number of registered voters now being 9916 which includes the following:

Precinct # 1	2368

SELECTMEN'S REPORT

Randolph is no longer a "small town." As it has grown in size and population, so too have its needs grown. Too often, however, has emphasis been made on Randolph's problems. Too few times has Randolph's progress received its just due.

We consider the past year a year of great progress for OUR TOWN. Throughout the Commonwealth of Massachusetts - and often beyond its borders - Randolph has become known as an outstanding community in which to live and in which to work.

We have but to look around us to observe the signs of progress: the industrial park overlooking the Great Pond is now a reality. If you have not yet seen the great strides already made in that area, we suggest that you drive by. The Elliott Business Machines, Inc. plant about to open is the pilot plant of what we anticipate will be other magnificent buildings. Randolph Manufacturing Co. has shown its confidence in the Town by undertaking a large expansion project.

So too in other planned areas has industry chosen Randolph. The Ogan Industrial Park off North Street has become a reality in an astonishingly short space of time.

Our Center has received a shot in the arm by the construction of a new and modern shopping area.

None of these accomplishments has happened overnight, nor have they been brought about by one department or board alone. YOUR TOWN GOVERNMENT is responsible!

We, the Board of Selectmen, have traditionally been termed "Town Fathers." Our role in government is sweeping. 1963 has been a year of ACTION not only by the Board of Selectmen, but by ALL Town Departments. Coordination and cooperation between departments and boards is at an all-time high. Regular staff meetings, special spot meetings, consultations, are the rule, not the exception. An enlightened Town Meeting membership and a watchful citizenry have also contributed by spirit and deed.

The assistance of Senator James McCormack and Representatives Ralph Cartwright and James Mullen throughout the year has been of inestimable aid to us, from speaking on our behalf before the Legislature and its committees to meeting with us on several occasions such as with Department of Public Works officials in connection with urgent pedestrian safety problems.

Congressman James Burke has also aided us immeasurably throughout the year on mutual problems affecting Randolph.

Our hard-working and devoted secretary, Mary Nelson, has, throughout the year, in her usual fashion, lightened our individual burdens.

We, your Board of Selectmen, have had a busy and fruitful year. Sometimes, when we tally our hours spent on various projects, we smile at the thought that we are part-timers. Making our task easier has been the cooperation of the full-timers, those dedicated public servants who man Town Hall and its branches. There is no entrenched bureaucracy in Randolph Government. Your public servants are also taxpayers. No subject has been more thoroughly discussed at our regular staff meetings than the need to HOLD THE LINE on expenditures, and to alleviate the tax burden on the home owner.

We, YOUR SELECTMEN, firmly believe that 1964 will be another year of great progress for Randolph.

REPORT OF THE TOWN CLERK

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

March 4, 1963

Moderator Lombardi called the meeting to order at 8:00 o'clock P.M. Mr. Bonney moved adjournment until 8:30 P. M. The Moderator reconvened the meeting at 8:30, when a quorum was declared present. Members of the meeting were led in prayer and a moment of silence was observed in honor of recently deceased town meeting member Miss Edith Hill.

Town Clerk Edward T. Clark read the return of service of the Town Meeting Warrant.

Moderator Lombardi appointed Messrs. Sullivan, O'Neil and Tagrin to act as tellers.

ARTICLE 1. To see if the Town will vote to raise and appropriate or borrow under any applicable general laws or transfer from available funds the sum of $10,000 to cover the cost of preparing preliminary plans for a Junior High School, or take any other action with reference thereto, and that this money be expended by the present School Planning and Building Committee, as petitioned for by the School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee.

ARTICLE 1. Withdrawn by School Committee on behalf of itself and the School Planning and Building Committee inasmuch as the same result could be obtained without expenditure of town funds under articles which follow.

ARTICLE 2. To see if the Town will vote to authorize the application for advance and assistance of Federal Funds under the provisions of Public Law 560 of the 63rd Congress for the purpose of purchasing preliminary plans and final plans for a Junior High School, and that these funds be expended by the present School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee, as petitioned for by the School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee.

ARTICLE 2. Finance Committee recommended acceptance of this Article with the amendment "provided these funds be expended jointly by the School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee". School Committee recommended that the following amendment be inserted "and/or an addition to the present North Junior High School".

ARTICLE 2, as amended by the School Committee, VOTED by voice vote.

ARTICLE 2, as amended by the Finance Committee, VOTED by voice vote.

ARTICLE 3. To see if the Town will vote to authorize the application for advance and assistance of Federal Funds under the provisions of Public Law 560 of the 63rd Congress for the purposes of purchasing preliminary plans and final plans for an elementary school, and that these funds be expended by the present School Planning and Building Committee as petitioned for by the School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee.

ARTICLE 3. Finance Committee recommended acceptance of this article with the following amendment, "provided these funds be expended jointly by the School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee".

ARTICLE 3, as amended by the Finance Committee, VOTED by voice vote.

ARTICLE 4. To see if the Town will vote to authorize the application for advance and assistance of Federal Funds under the provisions of Public Law 560 of the 63rd Congress for the purposes of purchasing preliminary plans and final plans for an addition to the existing High School, and that these funds be expended by the present School Planning and Building Committee, as petitioned for by the School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee.

ARTICLE 4. Finance Committee recommended acceptance of this article with the following amendment, "provided these funds be expended jointly by the School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee".

Motion was made that this article be tabled until plans for the Junior High School, under Article 2, were brought before the Town Meeting. Motion DEFEATED by a voice vote. The vote was doubted and a hand vote taken, as follows:

NO - 77 YES - 45

Motion ruled DEFEATED.

ARTICLE 4, as amended by the Finance Committee, VOTED by a voice vote.

ARTICLE 5. To see if the Town will instruct the Selectmen to purchase, or take by Eminent Domain, a certain parcel of land for school purposes, being a part of Parcel 2 as shown on Plan 150 of the Randolph Assessors' Plans, and containing 15.88 acres more or less, now owned by M. B. Claff & Sons, Inc., bounded and described as follows: Easterly by Highland Avenue eleven hundred forty-six and 56/100 (1146.56) feet; Southerly by land of Warren Claff by three courses measuring respectively, two hundred forty-four and 47/100 (244.47) feet, two hundred thirty-two and 11/100 (232.11) feet, and one hundred thirty-three and 42/100 (133.42) feet; westerly by land of M. B. Claff & Sons, Inc. eleven hundred forty and 47/100 (1140.47) feet; and northerly by land of M. B. Claff & Sons, Inc. six hundred ten and 77/100 (610.77) feet; and to raise and appropriate money therefor, as petitioned for by the Randolph School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee.

ARTICLE 5. Withdrawn by petitioners.

ARTICLE 6. To see if the Town will vote to raise and appropriate or transfer from available funds, or borrow, a sum of $15,000 for the completion of furnishings for the Margaret L. Donovan School, and that this money be expended by the present School Planning and Building Committee, as petitioned for by the School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee.

ARTICLE 6. Finance Committee recommended acceptance of this article with the following amendment, "provided these funds be expended jointly by the School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee", and deletion of the words "or transfer from available funds, or borrow".

Article 6, as recommended by the Finance Committee, VOTED by a voice vote.

Moderator Lombardi declared the Special Town Meeting to be permanently adjourned at 9:55 o'clock P. M.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

April 22, 1963

Pursuant to a Warrant issued by the Selectmen and signed on the eighth day of April, A.D., 1963 duly posted by Carl L. Macauley, Constable, the voters of Randolph assembled on the twenty-second day of April, 1963, in the Randolph High School for Precincts 1 and 2, in the Lyons School for Precinct 3, and in the Devine School for Precinct 4.

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

May 6, 1963

Pursuant to a Warrant issued by the Board of Selectmen and dated the eighth day of April, A.D., 1963, duly posted by Carl L. Macauley, Constable, the citizens of Randolph assembled at the Randolph High School Auditorium, Memorial Parkway in Randolph, on the sixth day of May, 1963. The meeting was called to order at 8:00 o'clock P.M., voted adjourned until 8:15 and again until 8:25 P. M. at which time it reconvened. Moderator Lombardi called the meeting to order and administered the oath of office to the newly elected and re-elected town meeting members and then appointed Messrs. Harold Holbrook, Seymour Firth, and George White to act as Tellers.

The Moderator led the meeting in prayer and the observance of a minute of silence in honor of Fire Chief Paul Anderson recently deceased. Following the observance of the minute of silence, the Moderator read a resolve expressing the appreciation of the town for the years of faithful service which Fire Chief Anderson had given. This resolve had been unanimously passed by the Board of Selectmen and will be framed and presented to Chief Anderson's widow.

Temporary Assistant Town Clerk Henry L. Lowd read the Town Meeting Warrant return of service.

ARTICLE 1. To hear and act on the report of any committee and choose any committee the Town may think proper.

ARTICLE 1. Mr. Courtney moved that the Moderator appoint a committee of nine to study the present town government and report back at the next annual town meeting with recommended changes if any are needed. Said committee to be composed of town meeting members. Motion was seconded.

Mr. Davidson offered an amendment that the committee of nine be appointed by the Board of Selectmen with the authority to draw up three proposed forms of government for the town of Randolph, each with a full-time administrator. These three forms of government shall be a Mayor-Council, limited Town Meeting member form; a Town Manager-Selectmen, limited Town Meeting member form; and a form of government of the Committee's own choice. This government study committee shall report back to a special Town Meeting to be called sometime in October, 1963. No elected official other than town meeting members shall be eligible to serve on the above committee. Amendment was seconded and DEFEATED.

Mr. Courtney's motion was put to a voice vote. The Moderator stated he was in doubt as to the outcome of the vote and asked for a hand vote. Courtney's motion was ruled DEFEATED by a hand vote as follows: No - 84, Yes - 82.

Mr. Davidson doubted the vote, requesting a standing vote. Courtney's motion was ruled VOTED by a standing vote as follows: Yes - 96, No - 88.

Mr. Wehner moved that no reconsideration of any article be made until every article in the warrant has been taken care of. Motion seconded and VOTED by a voice vote.

Mr. Courtney moved that the Moderator appoint a committee of 15 to investigate the possibility of reducing the Town Meeting membership and report back at the next Annual Town Meeting. Said committee to be composed of three members from each of the four precincts and three shall be from the members at large. Motion seconded and DEFEATED by a voice vote.

ARTICLE 2. To hear and act on reports of Town Officers.

ARTICLE 2. Mr. Schneider reported for the By-Law Committee.

Mr. McGerrigle reported for the Randolph Regional Vocational District Planning Committee.

Mr. Walsh moved that a committee of five be appointed by the Moderator to study the Betterments Act as adopted by the Town of Randolph and to report back to the next Special or Annual Town Meeting with a recommended policy on Betterments for the Town of Randolph. Motion was seconded and VOTED by a voice vote.

Mr. Roycroft moved adjournment at 11:00 o'clock P. M., for reconvenement on Tuesday evening, May 7, at 8:00 P. M. Motion was seconded and VOTED, by a voice vote.

Mr. Carlino reported for the Sewer Commission. Motion was made and seconded that the reports of the officers, as printed in the Town Report, be accepted. VOTED.

ARTICLE 3. To see if the Town will vote to raise and appropriate the sum of $35.00 for the maintenance and lighting of the clock in the tower of the First Baptist Church, as petitioned for by the Board of Selectmen..

(1) Any individual, or the Board, itself, may initiate a petition to the said Board stating the nature of the nuisance complained of and apply for abatement thereof whereupon the Board shall view the premises. If the Board is of the opinion that the petition should be granted, it shall set a time and place for hearing, giving notice thereof to the petitioners, to the person whose land it may be necessary to enter upon to abate the nuisance, and to any other person who may be damaged or benefited by the proceedings. Such notice shall be given in writing and may be served by any person authorized to serve civil process or by registered or certified mail.

(2) However, if the land is unoccupied and the owner or agent unknown or out of the Commonwealth, the notice to such owner may be served by posting upon premises or by advertising in one or more newspapers in such manner as the Board may order. At the time and place appointed therefor the Board shall hear the parties and thereafter may cause such nuisance to be abated by entering upon any land and making such excavation as it shall deem necessary and it shall also determine at whose expense the improvements shall be kept in repair and award the damage sustained by and benefits accruing to any person by reason of said improvement. The Board shall forthwith give notice of its decision by filing with the Town Clerk and by mailing a copy, postage prepaid, to the owner of the premises and the petitioners, unless the petitioner is the Board itself. The expense of making and keeping such improvements in repair shall be assessed by the Assessors upon the person benefited thereby as ascertained by said decision and shall be included in their taxes. This shall be a lien upon the land benefited thereby and shall be collected in the same manner as other taxes upon land.

(3) A person who is aggrevied by the decision of said Board may appeal therefrom to the Superior Court if within seven days after decision he files decision with Superior Court stating the grievance and action of said Board Thereon.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Randolph School Committee herewith submits its annual report to the Citizens of the Town of Randolph:

The School Committee meets regularly on the first and third Mondays of every month at 8:00 p.m. and the public has always been cordially invited to be present. Committee members are elected by the people, under the General Laws of the Commonwealth, for a period of three years, and they serve without remuneration.

All School Committees in Massachusetts are, in general, agents of the Commonwealth, and carry out the conduct of education in conformity with and as delegated to them by the State Legislatures under the General Laws. Specifically, the General Laws charge the Committee with the duties of policy formation, budget making, personnel appointments, approval of curricula and textbooks, planning of school services, and evaluation of the educational program.

The growth and expansion of the school system and the expanded budgetary concern for custodial and maintenance problems has increased the scope of the Committee's supervision during the past year, resulting in increased meeting hours and scheduling of conferences with other committees, inspection of construction and buildings and research activity.

Your Committee has also been most pleased to attend and be a part of the monthly Staff deliberations of the Board of Selectmen, the meetings of the Building and Planning Committee, and the many meetings of the Blue Hills Regional School Planning Board. From all these combined efforts of your public officials, there has ensued the highest cooperative understanding and assistance in the administration of the multiple problems of education.

The mounting costs of education, and the demand for quality service in this vital field, especially when accompanied by a constantly increasing number of pupils to be served, has posed for your Committee the same budgetary problems that beset many similar communities in the Commonwealth. As a consequence, many towns and cities have reached the conclusion that the financial burden on the taxpayer has arrived at the point where only a more indulgent aid must come from the State itself. The emphasis so distinctively and often enunciated by our late-lamented President John F. Kennedy for relief of the burden on the homeowner, and the consequent action by the Congress, have pointed the way.

With the opening of the Margaret L. Donovan School in February, 1963, 24 classrooms were added to the elementary school program. This beautiful building is one of superior construction and the finest school building in the town, and assures relief from crowded conditions at the elementary level for the next few years, contingent upon the progressive construction of home-building in Randolph. This school site is most ideal, more than 13 acres, affording a magnificent view of the Blue Hills Reservation. An elevated Little League baseball field overlooks the area which has been enhanced by use of 4-1/2 acres of MDC land, generously donated by the MDC for use by the School Committee.

The result of our burgeoning school population is felt most acutely in the High School. The high school building is designed to accommodate about a thousand pupils. Presently it houses 1250. It will be necessary, therefore, to remove Grade 9 from the High School in September, 1964, and house Grade 9 in the North Junior High School, thereby creating a problem of double sessions for Grades 7-9.

The construction of the new South Junior High School, early in 1964, is mandatory. With the authorization to borrow from the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal Government under Public Law 560, the sum necessary for Plans and Specifications at the Special Town Meeting of June, 1963, the implementation for this construction was initiated. After careful interviewing and screening of all interested architects, the School Building and Planning Committee and the School Committee voted unanimously to select Tedesco Associates, who did so satisfactory a design for the Margaret L. Donovan School, as architects.

The application for the funds was approved by the Federal Government and plans and specifications will be completed for sending out to bid by March 1964. It is anticipated that the request for funds to construct this facility will be presented to the townspeople in April, 1964. The site chosen for the school is on an eminence of 16-plus acres off Mill Street, with accessibility from Alfred Terrace and North St. By unanimous vote of the School Committee, School Planning and Building Committee and the Board of Selectmen, the name of the new school will be the President John F. Kennedy Junior High School.

Concern with the calibre of academic progress of the school system has occupied much of the Committee's deliberations during the past year. The implementation of the Modern Math Program at all levels in the system, and the purchase of equipment and supplies under the National Defense Education Act for the advancement of educational facilities has enhanced the program of education. The pertinent implementation of these achievements is detailed in the Report of the Superintendent and Staff.

The need for adequate office space for the administration of the School Department necessitated the vacating, in 1961, of the area assigned in the High School, which was then needed for classroom use. Consequently, rented facilities were provided by the Veterans of Foreign Wars in their building on Highland Avenue. The Committee is indeed most grateful to the V.F.W. for their fine community spirit displayed in extending the use of their quarters to the School Committee and the School Department. In order to free these quarters for the V.F.W., and to effect a savings in rent and utilities, the committee, in November, 1963, moved the administrative offices to the basement of the Stetson School, where temporary quarters, though inadequate, are available. The need for adequate office space to conduct business of the administration of the School Department has been a long-felt need, and can be best served by the erection of a building for this vital need. The Warrant for the Annual Town Meeting therefore, contains an article proposing the construction of this facility.

The housing and protection of valuable equipment needed for the maintenance of buildings, plant and grounds, has likewise been of serious concern to your Committee. In order to conduct a proper program of such magnitude, the care of such equipment as 3 trucks, a tractor-gang mower, 2 new Driver Training Cars, large athletic equipment adjuncts, numerous power mowers, snow-blowers, etc., necessitates a building for this purpose. No longer may such equipment be stored inside school buildings and the storage of wax, gas, oil, and power machines becomes an added problem. Therefore, it becomes necessary to request in the Warrant for the Annual Town Meeting for 1964, the construction of a garage-storage building. It is proposed that both these buildings be erected in the area of the High School, near Highland Avenue-Memorial Parkway.

The Committee has been greatly concerned with the increased rate of vandalism and the consequent destruction of valuable school property during the past year. Payment for damages caused by such vandalism has, of necessity, diverted from budgeted funds, many dollars allocated to vital repairs and maintenance. The conjunctive efforts of Chief Macauley and Juvenile and Safety Officer Charles Olsen have been most effective in assisting the committee to stem the tide of this destruction.

The culmination of the efforts of the Blue Hills Regional Vocational Planning Board with the completion of the agreement to be presented to the Selectmen of the 7 towns in the area, is to be applauded. Shortly, the Brochure of explanation of the features of this needed facility, and the advantages thereof, will be in circulation to the townspeople previous to the inclusion of the Question on the Ballot at the Annual Town election in 1964.

The School Committee wishes to express its deep appreciation to the Superintendent, the Assistant Superintendent, the administration staff, the teachers, clerks, cafeteria personnel and the custodial staff for their unflagging devotion and cooperation in the details of providing for our educational needs. The Committee is likewise most grateful for the distinctive efforts of the Selectmen, the School Planning and Building Committee, the Police Department and all town personnel in furthering the tasks of providing for our future citizens.

For the fine support of the townspeople, the Committee is especially thankful since the measure of the success of the educational system is but the result of the pattern of the wishes of the citizenry. We sincerely feel that the citizens of Randolph desire their schools to be among the best. In furtherance thereof, the Committee solicits your continued assistance, your comments, and your constructive criticisms.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Members of the Randolph School Committee, and to all other Citizens of Randolph, it is my great pleasure to submit herewith my ninth annual report and a summary of my 8 years as Superintendent of Schools in Randolph.

The turbulent evolution in education continues and at times seems like a revolution. The determination of what is worthwhile, and what is not, constitutes an ever-present problem of evaluation. Many of the "new" programs are very expensive, and as yet, their value not proven. We shall continue to recommend changes in accordance with the ability of our community to pay, and the proven worth of the idea.

In the elementary grades during the past year, we have made basic adoption of new arithmetic and spelling texts, and the results from their use have been very gratifying to all. The enthusiasm with which the principals and teachers have accepted these new challenges, which in turn has been transmitted to the pupils, has once again proven that the staff is the nucleus of any school system, and we have a first-class staff.

The approval by the School Committee of the position of an elementary coordinator is another positive step in assuring a coordinated program for our more than 3000 elementary pupils.

In the junior high grades, we have continued to provide the new texts necessary for the staff to provide the best education possible, in accordance with the varying abilities of the students. The inclusion of grade 9 in the junior high program next September will bring us to our long-sought-for goal of a 6-3-3 system. However, if it were not for the crowded senior high, we would not make this move until a later date. As a result of good planning, the pupils of grades 7-8-9 will continue to have a full six-period day, but of course on a double shift. Pupils of grade 9 will attend the morning sessions from 7:45 until 12:00 noon, and the pupils of grades 7 and 8 will go from 12:15 until 4:30 p.m. The early approval of funds for a junior high school in the south section of the town is imperative, in order that we may return to the regular school day by the fall of 1965. There are a number of reasons why it is necessary for the pupils of grade nine to attend the a.m. session, even more than those of grades 7 and 8, and so that is the way that the schedule has been arranged.

The staff and pupils of the senior high school have carried on this year under the difficulties imposed by the extremely crowded conditions. As stated in my report of last year, we have no room for "seat-warmers" and would-be comedians, so the action of the Committee in expelling a number of pupils who, despite previous warnings, persisted in preventing the orderly running of the school, has had a very positive effect.

I wish to commend the hundreds of high school students, who, under trying conditions, have behaved admirably and have continued to maintain a high standard of academic achievement. The removal of grade 9 pupils in September will make possible further revision of the curriculum and a relief from the crowded conditions. However, the relief will be only temporary, and by 1967 the building will be too small and approximately a 50% addition should be ready by that time.

We read constantly of the "drop-out" problem in our country, and it is a problem of national concern. Therefore, it is a matter of pride that we show only a 3.2% dropout in Randolph. Even so, we continue to be interested in the problem, if we lose only 1% or one pupil.

Your particular attention is called to the report of the Director of Guidance, concerning the scholarships awarded the graduates of the Class of 1963 from Randolph High School. This is positive proof of the fact that pupils attending Randolph High School, if they will work, can compete with pupils attending any secondary school, public or private.

Our school population continues to expand and stories that we have reached a levelling-off period, are in error. Grade I this year, with a total of 581 pupils shows an increase of 52 over that of last year, again, despite the fact that St. Mary's has a first grade of about 85 children. Each week pupils enter our schools as new homes are completed, and even though quite a few pupils have moved out of town, we have a net increase of 37 elementary pupils from September through December. Our latest tabulation shows a total day-school enrollment of 5,163.

Many people do not realize that in addition to our regular enrollment, we provide money in our appropriation for many other activities, such as:

a. Evening Practical Arts courses for approximately 400 people.

b. Tuition and transportation costs for Randolph pupils attending Vocational schools out of town. This amounts to $18,170.10.

c. Tuition and transportation costs of $17,412.00 for handicapped students to attend specialized schools.

d. The sum of $4,015.00 for the operation of six summer playgrounds for a period of eight weeks in the summer. Funds are also provided for the payment of custodians who work overtime when many youth organizations use the school facilities for basketball and other recreational activities during the indoor season.

e. The operation for fourteen weeks of two clinics on Saturday mornings from 9:00 to 12:00 noon for the instruction of pupils of grades 3-8 in the basic techniques of basketball.

All of our school facilities are truly community buildings, for they are constantly used evenings and weekends for a multitude of activities by practically all organizations of Randolph.

The need for an administrative headquarters wherein might be centered all personnel involved in the total operation of the Randolph Public Schools is constantly felt. The efficient and proper operation of a school system the size of Randolph makes such a building an absolute must. Also in the operation of our total school plant, worth at least $8,500,000, it is necessary that enough money be appropriated for a common-sense repair and maintenance system. It is a fool's economy to put off proper repairs and maintenance until major breakdowns occur. We are constantly being told that government should operate as efficiently as private business, and certainly business protects its plant investments. A major step has been made in this direction with the appointment of the maintenance supervisor, but he needs a crew competent in number in ability, and sufficient funds if we are to protect the capital investment of the people of Randolph.

We were all deeply grieved early in 1963 with the sudden and untimely death of Mr. Fred Murray, assistant principal and sixth grade teacher at the Devine School. Mr. Murray had also served as Director of our summer playgrounds, and on the town Recreation Committee, as well as being President of his P.T.A. He was an outstanding educator, father, husband, and a real gentleman. His loss was felt by all of us who worked with him.

The success of the Randolph Public Schools depends upon the cooperation of all concerned, and this applies to parents as well as school personnel. Respect for authority must be taught in the home, as well as in school and church or temple. This respect is an ever-growing thing, and must be nurtured early in the child's life. Parents should not be governed by the child's statement that "other kids do it", for this same line of attack is employed by the "other kids" on their parents. We must all work together, and "stick" together, for the good of our youth and the good of our nation.

In conclusion, I wish to thank all the members of the Randolph School Committee with whom I have had the pleasure of working. The willingness of all of these people who give so generously of their time, their energy and their ability, with no remuneration, towards the successful growth of the Randolph Schools, is a source of inspiration to all. I extend my thanks and appreciation also to Mr. William J. Lynch, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, and to the principals, supervisors, teachers, and clerks, cafeteria, custodial, and maintenance personnel, for their wholehearted devotion and cooperation in providing an educational program for the children of Randolph, of which every citizen may be justifiably proud, and I also wish to thank all those employed in the other Departments of the Town who have cooperated so well with us on every occasion.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS L. WARREN

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Perhaps the most pressing item to report is the housing situation in the high school building. This building is officially listed with a capacity of 1200 pupil stations. This means any place where a student can sit — including 80 seats in the Library, 80 in the oral English room (now the Language Laboratory) and 40 in what was formerly the School Department office (now used by the Guidance Department). This is a total of 200 pupil stations. Allowing 60 seats available for students in the Language Laboratory and the Library, this would make the classroom capacity about 1050 — not 1200. According to the School Department enrollment figures as of October 1, 1962, there were 1144 pupils in Grades 9-12 and according to figures on October 1, 1963 for the same grades, the number was 1207 pupils — about 157 more than capacity, and on December 20, 1963, it was 1241.

Projecting the picture into 1964 and counting pupils now in Grades 8-11, which would be Grades 9-12 next year, (not counting possible losses or gains), we arrive at the figure of approximately 1333 pupils, which the present building could not handle. Therefore, the decision to make the system a 6-3-3 is a wise one, and, we believe, the only course open. Thus the high school will become a three-year school. However, as a three-year school, the high school building is not yet out of the woods, because again using the school department figures as of October 1, 1962, and with a three-year high school, the enrollment projection would indicate these facts: September of 1964 would have an enrollment of 956; September 1965 - 1075; September 1966 - 1124; September 1967 - 1187. We have again passed the saturation point and the end is not in sight. It would seem, therefore, that in the not too distant future, serious thinking must be done about the housing in the Senior High School. The need is more immediate than most people realize, and the alternative is to again put the High School on two shifts, either in 1967 or 1968. As of this date, the school population is 5161 pupils. The writer can remember the time when the population of the whole town of Randolph was not much larger than that.

During the year 1963, many former students and teachers of a beloved Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Adolph O. Christiansen, were saddened by the passing on of an educator who had given much of his life to the service of Randolph and its people. He was an upright and loyal citizen of the town. His record has been one of steady, sure and safe progress in the field of education. Careful behind-the-scene contacts with those in his charge, his advice and encouragement to teachers and pupils alike, paid dividends of which only he would know. Today, his work and efforts will live on, as he would wish them to, and although he suffered much in his last illness, through it all he retained his courageous spirit and his high ideals of public and private life, giving to both to the best of his ability. Of Mr. Christiansen it can be said that — he is not gone who lives in the hearts of those he leaves behind. He will live through the years eternal life in the minds of those who knew him best.

Randolph, during the past year, including the high school, was subjected to considerable vandalism which, unfortunately, has been experienced by other area communities. In addition, the high school was victimized by a series of four needless "bomb-scare" telephone calls which, of course, were found to be spurious. All of this may give rise to the legitimate question, "Why?". There are many reasons which could give rise to such actions, but the most important thing to consider is that these things present an inaccurate picture of the young people, inasmuch as only a very small number or percentage of children are involved; yet all students are tarred by the same brush. It is the usual thing to give publicity to happenings performed by poor school citizens to the extent that many or most of the fine things young people do are ignored. To know the vast bulk of students in this school would indicate to anyone that these are the youngsters who have adopted, and support out of their own pockets, an overseas orphan; these are the youngsters who also voluntarily, and at their own suggestion, contribute to a memorial to the late President Kennedy; these are the youngsters who voluntarily sent a large contribution of their own money to the bereaved family of the Dallas Police Officer Tippitt; these are the youngsters who voluntarily contribute of their time and energies to regular hospital work. Many are the acts of many students to indicate they are children with fine "bringing up" and stellar citizenship qualities. We can be proud of most of them and look forward with confidence to the future in which these same individuals will take an active part.

Athletics is an integral part of the life of any high school. It is also a part that has its ups and downs. For a period there will be good teams and then periods when we will be building. Most schools experience this. Our track team is a case in point. Ever since our very capable track coach, Mr. G. John Pistone, has taken over the track coaching duties, starting from scratch, has by hard work, persistence and know-how, built up our teams so much so that Randolph High School Cross-Country Track Team won championships and trophies in the following events: Catholic Memorial Invitational Meet (Division II), South Shore Championship Meet, State Cross-Country Meet, South Shore Principals' Meet and Hockamock League Championship Meet. Congratulations to Coach Pistone and to the boys for a job well done.

A few facts concerning our graduates of 1963 deserve mention here. Ninety-one students in a class of 176 went on to further their education — representing about 52% of the class as against 14% the preceeding year. 45 out of 51 pupils applying to colleges received 86 acceptances. This 51 represents an increase of 60% on acceptances over the previous year. 29 members of the Business and General courses were accepted to study beyond high school compared to 11 in 1962. Six students received a total of 13 scholarships and loan grants from colleges and universities in the New England area. Of the Business course students who did not continue their education, 73 were placed in jobs before graduation. College acceptances received by our 1963 graduates came from Northeastern, State Colleges at Bridgewater, Boston and Lowell, Massachusetts State, Boston University, Boston College, Tufts University, Lowell Tech, Boston Conservatory of Music, Harvard, Holy Cross, Middlebury, Providence, Amherst, Bowdoin, South Hampton College, Bentley, Moody Bible Institute, Barrington University of Connecticut, Assumption, Simmons, Curry, Suffolk, Syracuse among others. We think it appropriate at this time to say that it is too bad that more schools do not make it possible for more of the less-than-brilliant students to go to college. There are so many boys and girls who don't rank in the top ten percent of their classes, but do have other characteristics which would make them quite desirable as students in many colleges. Since stress is so strongly placed on high scholarship alone, many worthy students have no chance of a college education. It is unfortunate, but that is the way it is.

Respectfully submitted,

HUBERT F. GILGAN
Principal

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE

It is herewith my pleasure to report to the Superintendent of Public Schools, to the Members of the School Committee and to the townspeople of Randolph on the activities of the Guidance Department of the Randolph Public Schools for the year 1963.

The guidance program has now assumed a definite and definable tone and temper in the Randolph Public Schools. The services that are within its function are well known to school personnel, to the student bodies of the secondary schools, and in a sense, to the lay people of the community.

The emphasis in guidance must be geared to the full and proper development of each student, as an individual. Consequently, it is incumbent upon the guidance program to direct each one of its services towards this end. In the Randolph Public Schools, this is now being done in a manner which is inclusive of all aspects of education, but pointedly, exclusive of the responsibilities relative to the functions of administration and instruction.

The year 1963 witnessed a change in staff personnel, when Mr. James A. Sullivan, a counselor in the High School, accepted the position of Director of Guidance in the neighboring town of Holbrook. Mr. Sullivan was an exceptionally able counselor and made a number of worthwhile contributions to the guidance program here in Randolph.

In November, Mr. Sullivan's duties were assumed by Mr. Thomas Cassese, who comes to us from the Weymouth School System. The excellence of his background for the position has been evidenced by the rapid adjustments he has made to his responsibilities and by the high quality of his efforts.

Otherwise, the Staff has remained unchanged. Miss Winifred M. Brennan, Assistant Director, and Miss Isabelle J. Bennett continue to serve on the High School level, while Miss Anna K. Good and Mr. Adelino J. Bernardo serve as counselors at North Junior High School.

The Follow-up Study, conducted on each graduating class, provides a multiplicity of facts concerning a variety of subjects which prove beneficial to an analysis of the school and its needs. In relation to the Class of 1962, the Study showed the following breakdown of graduate activities: Employed: 56%; Further Education: 35%; Armed Services: 5%; Homemaking: 3.5% and Unemployed: 5%. Such figures illustrate patterns of planning for curriculum needs and remained near the norm of years past.

The placement figures for the Class of 1963 evidenced a significant change in this scheme, however. In a class of 185, 180 members (96%) were situated in a school or a job before graduation day in June. Eighty-two graduates went into employment; three into the service, and ninety-five had been accepted for further education. Suddenly, the area of further education had swung from 31.6% in 1961 and 35% in 1962 to well over 50% in 1963.

In addition, the number of students matriculating at four year colleges almost doubled from twenty-five in 1962 to forty-seven in 1963. In the complex society of today, such a trend is highly desirable, but at the same time, it places an onus on the school system to react and provide properly for these students in their newly-stated needs, while assuring that the standards of excellence affecting the other students remain high and demanding.

It has been said that a sign of the worth of a guidance program can be measured by the amount of scholarship money it attracts to its students. While it is difficult to accept this premise without debate, it is facile to report on the increase in money which was made available to the graduates of the Class of 1963.

The Class of 1962 had received $43,775.00 in scholarships, including $30,000.00 from the Service Academies and the NROTC and $8,000.00 from various colleges and universities. This was a sizeable increase over the sum of 1961, but now seems pale in light of the awards made to the Class of 1963.

Scholarship money received by the Graduating Class of 1963 totaled $68,400.00 which was an overall increase of $24,625.00 over the previous class. In fact, increases occurred in three areas of giving. Community resources contributed $5,320.00 as compared to $4,375.00 in 1962; colleges, which awarded but $8,250.00 in 1962, soared to $47,770.00, representing a growth of just under 600%; and outside agencies, which gave $450.00 in 1962, awarded $3,400.00 this year, a growth of 800%. The Naval Reserve Officers Training Corp also awarded a grant, worth $12,000.00 to a senior chosen through intensive competition, who matriculated at the College of the Holy Cross.

Included among these grants were a National Scholarship to Harvard worth $7,200.00, the highest honor given to an entering freshman; a $5,800.00 scholarship to Providence College; a $6,400.00 grant to Tufts University; and a $2,000.00 award from the Francis Ouimet Scholarship Foundation. The latter award was won by a Randolph student for the first time and is given in honor of the man who brought golf to prominence in the United States; it is both competitive and unique.

Summer scholarships for undergraduates also took on new dimensions with four young men in the Junior Class winning grants in this area. Francis J. Azzariti, Jr. attended Harvard Summer School and studied Natural Science, his second such grant from a college; Kenneth E. Ekman pursued the Liberal Arts Seminar at the Mount Hermon Summer School; while David A. Reed and Steven L. Silverstein were participants at a Thayer Academy-Tufts College seminar in Science.

Seven Randolph High School students won national recognition in competition with school children from all over the United States, as a result of their efforts in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test and the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test.

The latter test established Mr. Ekman as a finalist in the Sperry and Hutchinson Scholarship Program and identified James Franklin, a Junior, as a semi-finalist in the Telluride Association Summer Study Program.

The Merit Program awared Letters of Commendation to Mr. Silverstein, Walter A. Hesford and Matthew S. Fox, and identified Donna L. McNeil, Mr. Reed and Mr. Ekman as semi-finalists. The latter's score of 157 placed him among the top twelve in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The final status of the three semi-finalists will not be determined until April of 1964, but the excellent placing of three students in this highly competitive test is, in itself, highly significant.

Business and colleges were widely represented in their visitations to Randolph High School during 1963. Fifteen firms sent speakers to the school in conjunction with the Northeastern University Occupational Information Program, and a half-dozen more presented speakers, through the efforts of Miss Brennan.

Personal contact was established with the Admissions officials of over ninety colleges and universities in the year just ended. This was done either through travel on the part of the Director, or through visitations from the colleges to Randolph High School. In addition to calls from the officials of Harvard, Boston College, Marietta, and other regular visitors, Randolph High School students listened for the first time to the Admissions Officers of Princeton University, University of Pennsylvania, College of the Holy Cross and Brown University.

During the summer, two members of the Staff participated in special study programs. Miss Bennett was a member of a Counseling Institute at the University of Southern California and the Director attended and addressed a seminar at Boston College, entitled "Excellence in Administration."

As were provided in last year's Annual Report, statistics on the number of counseling interviews for grades 7-12 through the year 1963, break down as follows:

Students, Grades 7-12: (mean estimate)			2,003
Interviews Conducted			10,163
Nature of Interviews:	Scheduled	6,187
	Walk-in	3,976	10,163
Type of Problem	Personal	958
	Occupational	1,043
	Educational	7,728
	Testing	434	10,163
By Class	Grade 7	2,084
	8	1,988
	9	1,292
	10	1,299
	12	1,990	10,163

Two significant facts are illustrated by these statistics. First of all, each child, Grades 7-12 was interviewed on the average of five times during the year. Such an arrangement far exceeds the suggested State formula of one or two counseling sessions each year. Secondly, the high percentage of walk-ins (38%) indicates that the students are well aware of the services offered by the Guidance Department and are willing to seek them out, when necessary.

As we review, therefore, the progress and the efforts of the Guidance Program in 1963, this Office cannot help but feel a sense of satisfaction in the professional efforts of the Counseling Staff and a sense of appreciation for the cooperation lent to our efforts by the Superintendent of Schools, the School Committee, the School Administrators and their faculties and by the students and their parents, and by the community-at-large.

The challenge which we must meet in the years ahead will not lessen, however. It is obvious that the changing world will demand unceasing efforts on our part to adjust to it both rapidly and adequately. Thus, the need for the Elementary Guidance Consultant becomes more poignant with each passing day; the outline of our curriculum must be evaluated and revised constantly, particularly with the onset of a new secondary school approach in the Fall of 1964; and the needs of each student must be paramount in our minds in every effort and determination.

When these challenges are met, then we must be alert to those which will follow as a result. In so doing, we, as educators, will best serve our community.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. CASEY

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF NORTH JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

It gives me great pleasure to submit to you my second annual report as the Principal of the North Junior High School for the 1963 school year.

I should like to highlight in this report the direction in which education is traveling in our complex and swiftly-moving society and the steps which have been taken during the past year by the Randolph School Committee, the Superintendent of Schools, and the administration of the North Junior High School to begin to prepare our youth to meet the challenges of this multi-faceted and complex culture in which we live.

Success in society and the working world in general is becoming more dependent each year upon the education we give our youth. Each year more unskilled and semi-skilled workers are replaced by machines, computers, and automatic devices. What can the public schools do to prepare our youth for this kind of world?

Because of the vast changes taking place, the trend in education is to produce well-educated citizens rather than people who are specifically and rigidly trained to perform in only one area. At the junior high school level we are primarily concerned with presenting the best academic education we can to the students according to their capabilities, regardless of their future ambitions.

To this end we have taken several avenues so that our students may meet the community's demands.

In general, new textbooks were purchased in all academic areas as a result of revisions which were made to bring our curriculum abreast of current educational trends. All of our academic subjects have been arranged in a three-track system so that students can be challenged to produce work which is in keeping with their mental capacities.

Specifically, modern mathematics was introduced to all students who, it was felt, were able to cope with it. It should be pointed out that although the title "modern" implies something new or different, the subject matter is still basically the same. The difference between so-called modern mathematics and traditional mathematics is in the revision of topic placement and teacher presentation. The aim of the program is to give the student a better understanding of mathematical functions and as a result a stronger mathematical background for more advanced work.

For the less capable students, a revised curriculum and a suitable textbook were provided so that a comprehensive mathematics program will better prepare them for more advanced work at the high school level and mathematics involved in everyday life.

As we are all well aware, a person's ability to communicate through the oral and written mediums, as well as his ability to comprehend in both of these mediums, often determine one's success in this verbal world. Because of this, the English curriculum has been revised to include one program devoted extensively to grammar and composition, one to a more inclusive program including grammar and composition, literature and reading, and a third program primarily devoted to reading skills, comprehension, and the fundamentals of language arts.

During the past decade, tremendous strides have been made in the field of science and the technology associated with all fields of human endeavor. To even keep abreast of the changes is almost an impossible feat. Because of this great expansion in the field of science, we are attempting to prepare our students for these changes by presenting them with an up-to-date and modern science program. New textbooks with the latest scientific information and data have been purchased for all students, replacing out-dated and obsolete material. By utilizing funds provided by the United States Government under the National Education Defense Act, we have been able to supply our teachers with excellent equipment for use with their students. With the new textbooks and equipment we are now able to give the student a background in science compatible with present-day thinking in the field of science education.

In the field of social studies, we have concentrated this past year in giving our students a greater understanding and insight into the problems presently emerging in the Asiatic and African continents. These areas, which have long been relegated a minor role in the curriculum, have been emphasized because it is here that present and future events may well determine the destiny of the world as well as the lives of our students. Work in the revision of the curriculum in this area will continue in the coming year so that we may arrive at the point where we are satisfied that the students' needs are being met.

With the addition of French in the eighth grade, we are now able to present a complete oral-aural modern foreign language program to both the seventh and eighth grade and thus complete the program with a continuity from grade seven through grade twelve.

Our library, which is an integral part of every school, has grown by two hundred volumes. If this rate of expansion continues, which present plans call for, in a short time we will be able to offer our students the necessary reference and supplementary materials in all of the academic and the cultural fields that are so vital to a sound educational program.

In the business world, success is easily discerned by checking the profit and loss columns at the end of the fiscal year. Unfortunately, in the field of education we must wait many years to view our success or failure. However, judging by the accomplishments of the graduates of the Randolph Public Schools and considering the continuing improvements which are being carried on each year in cooperation with the School Committee and the Superintendent of Schools, I am sure that our students will, in the future, be well qualified to live up to the expectations of society.

Principal

REPORT OF THE ELEMENTARY READING SUPERVISORS

The pupils of the Randolph School Department continue to maintain a high level of achievement in reading. This judgement is based both on test results, and classroom observations, which are evaluated in the light of the good reading practices which have been demonstrated.

Many new materials have been added at the various grade levels. In particular, we have been very enthusiastic about the Reading For Understanding kits being used on the fifth and sixth grade levels. This kit is comprised of graded materials to aid in better understanding of reading. The various levels emphasize reading for facts and inferences. This is a developmental type of reading program with the emphasis on improving understanding of what is read by practicing with curriculum materials especially designed to develop that skill. The purpose of this individualized program is to furnish all children with opportunities for learning according to each one's capabilities.

Many pupils in our sixth grades have shown substantial growth in word development beyond the elementary level. They have been provided with new materials to further develop the building of vocabulary upon the root word combined with prefixes and suffixes, the multi-meanings of words, and the extensive use of context clues.

Based upon the success of a pilot program using programmed materials in a third grade last year, we have expanded this same material into other third grades this year. This material will specifically provide the pupils with practice in the skills; understanding the total meaning of a selection, following directions, organizing the thoughts of a selection in logical order, broadening the vocabulary, remembering what is read, and answering fact questions by recall and selection in multiple choice. The practice period, using the selections, will supplement the usual teaching lessons. The exercises will act as a check on the skills developed during the reading session, while the reading session should encourage the application of those skills which were practiced in independent exercises.

An experimental, controlled pilot program dealing with the Phonetic-Audio-Visual approach to reading is being used with one class of first graders. The emphasis in this program is to teach the words as wholes, while the child is being led to see how the sounds that he knows appear in each word, and are systematically represented by the letters in it. The whole phonic-pattern and the whole meaning-pattern are joined into a single unit of perception. We hope to be able to make a comparison study between this approach and our present phonetic-basal reader approach, as to advantages and disadvantages; strengths and weaknesses of each system.

This year the reading department is offering an in-service course in Developmental Reading, grades one through twelve. Approximately fifty of the Randolph teaching personnel, representative of all levels, have enrolled to view the program in its specifics, and to have an analysis of the reading program as a whole. We are endeavoring to follow up each session with samples of work involving the various skills, in addition to utilizing groups on several levels for purposes of demonstration.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

We continue to take an inventory of our reading program; looking to improve techniques, add new materials, and to further service the teaching personnel through demonstrations of these techniques and the use of materials, so that reading in the Randolph Public Schools will remain on a high level of superior quality.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSES

We hereby submit a report of our work for the year, 1963.

The present assignment of school nurses is as follows: Miss Helen Conlon is responsible for the health program at the Elizabeth G. Lyons School, Tower Hill School, McNeill School, and Belcher School. Mrs. Signe Heath carries out her duties at the High School and the Stetson Elementary School. Miss Mary McGrory is assigned to the North Junior High School, Charles G. Devine School, and the Pauline School. The Margaret L. Donovan School is attended by all three school nurses.

Routine physical examinations were given to 1,750 pupils by the school doctors, Dr. William S. Sloane, Dr. Justin V. McGuirk, and Dr. Russell F. Thompson. There were 125 pupils who were referred to their family physicians for further examination. Physical check-ups were also given to all students participating in inter-school sports at the secondary school level.

In March, Type 2 Sabin Oral vaccine for immunization against Polio was administered to over 90% of the school enrollment. This dosage completed the series of Sabin Oral vaccine, Types 1 and 3 having been given the previous year.

Diphtheria and Tetanus booster inoculations were given to 249 first grade pupils whose parents had given written consent. These inoculations are most effective in protecting the children from Diphtheria and lock jaw.

The Massachusetts Vision test was administered to 4,432 pupils, and in the group there were 270 pupils who failed this test. The Massachusetts Pure Tone Audiometer test was given to 3,774 pupils. Of this group, 102 pupils failed the hearing test. All pupils who failed in either of the above tests were referred to their family specialists for further follow up and treatment.

A new type of vision testing machine was purchased and is being used in our program of yearly testing of the vision of all pupils in the Randolph Public Schools. This machine enables the operator to do the testing at a single desk within a limited space, and eliminates the need for special distance areas within health facilities. The purchase of a second machine is recommended for the near future.

Routine procedures such as first aid, measuring, weighing, and inspecting pupils were conducted. Many conferences relating to health problems were held with the teachers and parents. Home visits were made by the nurse whenever a need was indicated.

A new listing of all handicapped pupils was forwarded to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Home tutoring was provided for students unable to attend school due to illness or physical impairment.

About 98% of the Junior class was given the Mantoux test for Tuberculosis, sponsored by the Norfolk County Hospital. The necessary arrangements were made by the high school nurse.

The Future Nurses Club of the High School, supervised by Mrs. Heath, held many activities during the year including projects for fund raising.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

The Music Department is still continuing its perennial struggle to being adequate music facilities to our public schools. To date it has been impossible to keep up with the increased enrollment in our schools. The high school program is still inadequate to meet the needs of the large numbers of our students entering into various professional fields of music. The band rehearses three periods a week and the chorus meets two periods a week during school time. To achieve the desired standards of performance, after-school rehearsals are necessary to complement in-school rehearsal time.

It was hoped that badly needed courses in theory composition and appreciation of music could be given this year, but due to the over-crowded conditions at the High School, it was impossible to do so. Probably this will be possible in 1964.

In January, the Southeastern Mass. District Festival was held in Randolph, and as usual, Randolph was very well represented. Students are selected to participate in these festivals through competitive auditions in 47 towns of the Southeastern Mass. area, and outstanding students were selected to perform. Citizens of Randolph generously aided in this venture by inviting the visiting musicians to sleep and eat in their homes. The warm hospitality of the people of Randolph was greatly appreciated by all.

The high school band appeared many times during the school year giving concerts, performing at all football games, and marching in various parades. The high school dance band, now a well-known organization, because of its many performances, plus the dance band's girls trio, continues to rehearse after school.

With the return of choral rehearsal time during the school day, a major choral production, Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" was presented in addition to the regular concerts and assemblies, at which the chorus usually performs. In addition to the regular chorus, a highly selected choral group has been formed in order to give exceptionally talented students the extra attention that is needed.

The Junior High program is now functioning adequately. Each Jr. High student has two general music periods a week. This program is mainly an appreciation program which is designed to give students a cultural background. Instrumental lessons as well as choral rehearsals and band rehearsals are given before school and during lunch periods. A Jr. High training dance orchestra rehearses once a week after school so that exceptional students may have the advanced instrumental training that they need. Performing groups at this level are girls chorus, boys chorus, and band. These organizations perform at assemblies and concerts during the year.

Because of the tremendous interest in the study of instrumental music at the elementary school level and the corresponding increase in the numbers of students choosing instrumental study, Mr. Richard Rubino was added to the music department. It would have been impossible to carry out the program at the elementary level without the additional teacher.

A course in basic fundamentals of music was given to elementary classroom teachers by the director of music in order to give the elementary classroom teachers the necessary background with which to carry on the elementary vocal program. This is still not enough. It is my feeling that a full-time vocal person is needed at the elementary level, so that periodic visits may be made to each elementary classroom in order to assist the teachers in carrying out the elementary vocal program.

It is my sincere hope that this coming school year will see the elimination of some of the problems that have been facing the music department and the establishment of a music program that will adequately fulfill the needs of all our students.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT M. LACEY

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND ATHLETICS

A decision has been reached that the Supervisors set up a Physical Education program in the Grade Schools — instruct the teachers by display with the pupils — have the teachers follow through with the pupils twice a week and have the supervisors check the progress of the work. The supervisors are to check closely and make any corrections if necessary. Besides the physical education program twice a week, a daily program of fifteen minutes of calisthenics is conducted for all pupils in every grade school. All people concerned with the physical education program in the Grade Schools are cooperating to the fullest, so that the pupils in the grade schools may have a proper beginning.

Next year the Freshman will be in the North Junior High School, creating a double session. This entails the addition of two more physical education people to cover the work which will ensure that the Freshmen will have a full-scale athletic program. All pupils of grades 7 through 12 will continue to have two periods of physical education weekly.

With the possibility of a new school in the making, it is the earnest wish of this department that the School Planning and Building Committee have the foresight to include a swimming pool wigh-in the building. I cannot stress too strongly the need for some swimming facility in Randolph, because there are none in town. The State will pay 50% of this cost, thereby giving the Town a $200,000 pool for $100,000.

The High School will be adequate for a few years due to the transfer out of the Freshman classes. However, it will not be too long before the crowded situation will again dominate the High School and thought should be given to the type of new school in the future, or an addition to the present High School.

Facilities and personnel are necessary for a physical education and athletic program and if people in the town desire their children to have the advantages of such a program, then they should think along the lines that would benefit the young during the day, and adults during the evening.

REPORT OF SPECIAL EDUCATION AND SPECIAL PUPIL SERVICES

Special Pupil Services concerns itself with any pupil who qualifies for special educational attention administered under the rules and regulations promulgated by the State Division of Special Education. The services range from the furnishing of a visiting teacher for a pupil who is confined to his home because of illness or injury, through a range of problems involving transportation and tuition for children with emotional disturbances, orthopedic and visual handicaps and includes those children who qualify for Special Class placement because of a lack of intellectual capacity to progress through the regular school classes with their own age group.

The recent assignment of the Town of Randolph to the South Shore Mental Health Area will allow the School Department to avail itself of the facilities of the South Shore Guidance Center. It is anticipated that referrals of pupils presently in Special Education and those who might qualify for assistance under the provisions of the various laws relating to Special Education will be made to this guidance center as soon as facilities become available.

We report the appointment of Mr. George Allen to the position of Special Class Teacher at the North Junior High School, vacated by Mr. Thomas McLaughlin in June.

Within the past year, Home Teaching was performed by nineteen teachers to a total of twenty-one children; contract transportation, exclusive of school bus transportation was furnished to thirty-two handicapped Randolph children attending schools in Avon, Boston, Braintree, Milton, Quincy and Randolph; a total of seventy-one individual psychological tests was administered by the School Psychologist to Randolph pupils, and a survey of children in all grades, excluding the mentally retarded and the visually handicapped was made in conjunction with the School Nurses, revealing one hundred and fifty-nine pupils who have physical handicaps. The information gained by this survey will be used to determine the type and extent of assistance that can be obtained from the State Department of Special Education.

Randolph presently conducts four Special Education classes for a total of fifty-eight children. Two of these classes are at the Pauline Street School and two are at the North Junior High School. Five Randolph children attend a Special Class in Milton and three Milton children are transported to the Pauline Street School on a reciprocal arrangement between the two towns.

A fifth class under this department, the class for Emotionally Disturbed Children at the Stetson School, now in its second year, is attended by six children who have qualified for this special attention under the stringent regulations of the State Divisions of Special Education and Mental Health. It is noted that Randolph is one of only three towns in the South Shore area providing a class for Emotionally Disturbed Children under Chapter 750.

Our appreciation is expressed to the School Committee, Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent, School Nurses, Youth Officer, Health and Welfare Departments and all other individuals who have cooperated and assisted this department in its aim to provide handicapped children with the best education possible.

REPORT OF SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

The National School Lunch Program is designed to stimulate boys and girls to have desirable attitudes toward lunch and well-balanced and nutritious meals. We hope to establish good eating habits that will last a lifetime.

The Randolph School Lunch Program increased this year with the addition of the fifth cafeteria, located at the Margaret L. Donovan School on Reed Street.

During the past year, the entire program consisting of five cafeterias, and four schools serving milk only, served 989,820 1/2 pints of milk and 299,728 Type "A" meals. This was an increase of 56,996 meals over the previous year.

During the school year of 1962-1963, the lunch program paid out $43,345.82 for salaries and $105,322.39 for foodstuffs and other expenses.

Our cash receipts totaled $106,174.59, and our monetary reimbursement from the Federal and State governments totaled $45,612.21.

Commodities, consisting of foodstuffs, are made available for direct distribution to non-profit lunch programs in elementary and high schools. The market value of the commodities which we received amounted to $22,535.40 for which we paid $500.85. This charge is merely a handling charge. We paid 36% or $181.00 less for more commodities. We were able to take these commodities because we have the facilities to store them, and thus effect a saving to the Town of Randolph.

The Type "A" meals served in the Randolph School consist of: one-half pint of whole unflavored milk, two teaspoons of butter, one slice of enriched bread, three-fourth cup serving of raw or cooked vegetables or fruit or both, two ounces of cooked, lean meat, fish or poultry, or two ounces of cheese; or one egg; or one-half cup cooked dry beans or peas, are to be served.

Cafeteria permanent workers are appointed under Civil Service regulations. It is necessary to pass the Civil Service tests for the various positions in order to be permanently appointed from the list. Applications should be made directly to the Division of Civil Service in the State House.

We wish, at this time, to thank the Randolph Police Department for their invaluable assistance during the past three years, in transporting our cash receipts to the bank.

I wish to express my gratitude to the School Committee, Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent, Maintenance and Custodial force and our School Lunch workers for their cooperation during the past year.

MARIE C. MINNICK
Director of Cafeterias

"NO SCHOOL" ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. The general policy is not to cancel the school session except under extreme weather conditions. It is always the privilege of any parent to keep a child at home if the parent feels that it is necessary.
2. The following stations usually carry our "No School" announcements:

   Boston: W.B.Z., W.H.D.H., W.E.Z.E., W.C.O.P.
   Quincy: W.J.D.A.
   Brockton: W.B.E.T., W.O.K.W.

In most instances, it might be better to listen to the Brockton or Quincy stations, for it is not always possible to reach every Boston station, as they handle hundreds of calls on stormy mornings.

3. When the session is cancelled, a recorded message will be available on WO 3-7802: however, this is but one telephone line, and it is limited greatly in the number of calls which it can handle. You should rely on the radio stations.
4. You should not call school officials, for they are busy making calls to radio stations, the bus company, principals. Rely on the radio stations for your information.
5. Do not call the Fire, Police or Street Departments, for by so doing you hamper their work.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE STETSON SCHOOL FUND

This year has been a remarkable one in many ways, insofar as activities connected with the upkeep of your Town Hall were concerned. Your Trustees have proceeded with their modernization program for the business offices of the Hall, and have had installed additional electrical wiring and outlets. Several of the floors have been partially replaced or otherwise repaired. For the comfort of the employees who have to work in the summertime "hot spots," air conditioners were installed. The Police Department offices were redecorated, and oh, how your Trustees look forward to the Police acquiring their very own building, and allowing vitally needed space for other departments. This was done in the case of the Town Engineer's Office, and also the Veterans' Services, which are now located in the new Welfare-Veterans Building on Turner Lane, adjacent to the location of the new Turner Library. These vacated offices in the Town Hall are now occupied by the ever-expanding Water and Sewer Departments.

"Something that was long overdue," states Chairman Roger Niles, in referring to the installation of a handsome horseshoe of desks and matching chairs for the use of the Board of Selectmen. Though not a large expenditure in view of other town expenditures, this furniture has brought many words of praise from out-of-towners, and also other Boards of Selectmen, hampered with small office arrangements and meager desk space. When Mr. Citizen has to attend a meeting with the Board, he will be quick to note that he is facing a well set-up and dignified body.

Although we have described this year as remarkable, it was also a disastrous and shocking one. For, in November, Randolph, along with the nation, and the world at large, lost a noble and vigorous leader. Perhaps you observed our Town Hall during the National mourning period. Your Trustees were furnished with a handsome portrait of JFK through the efforts of Edward Clark, our Town Clerk. It was placed on the left side of the entrance, and spotlighted. Elias Gordon, a local merchant, donated a beautiful section of black broadcloth which was draped about the portrait. Firefighters climbed to the heights and draped mourning bunting about the facade. Ernest Martin and his men did a work of art in placing spotlights and illumination. All these people are to be commended for their concern and kindly efforts.

Respectfully submitted,

ROGER L. NILES, Chairman
MARJORIE E. CONLEY, Clerk
JOHN J. HURLEY

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL PLANNING & BUILDING COMMITTEE

The Margaret L. Donovan Elementary School was completed and dedicated May 12, 1963.

There was a balance of $1,545.00 from the $10,000.00 preliminary plans account for the North Junior High School that was not expended and was returned to the towns E & D Account.

As of December 15, 1963, the Committee retained a balance of $941.65 in its working fund.

At a special Town Meeting, March 4, 1963, the Town Meeting Members gave to this committee and the School Committee permission to seek federal funds (Public Law 560) to purchase preliminary and final plans for the proposed new Junior High School. The application was made and accepted by the Housing and Home Finance Agency of New York. The sum allowed was $70,431.00 for plans and specifications. The preliminary and final plans are now in process. Final plans will be completed in February 1964 and ready to let out for bids. This school if accepted by the Town Meeting Members will be ready by September 1965.

This committee, with the School Committee, interviewed twelve architects for the proposed Junior High School. After many hours of interviewing, plus visiting schools they had designed, together with discussing costs, both committees unanimously selected the Tedesco Associates of Woburn, Massachusetts as the architect for the new proposed Junior High School.

Raymond P. McGerrigle, Chairman of the School Committee, proposed the new South Junior High School, be named in honor of our great beloved President, John F. Kennedy and both the School Planning and Building Committee and the School Committee unanimously agreed.

This committee, at this time, would like to extend its thanks to the many town departments for their help and cooperation during the past year. Also our thanks go to Edward Tedesco Associates, Architect; R. C. Burns & Son, General Contractor; Harvey W. Teed, Clerk of the Works.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

We gratefully acknowledge the help and assistance rendered to us by Thomas L. Warren, Superintendent of Schools and William J. Lynch, Assistant Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

This report, exclusive of the Revenue produced by the Board of Health, is for the period January 1, 1963 through December 13, 1963.

REPORTABLE DISEASES

There were one hundred seventy-three communicable diseases and other health conditions reported to the Board of Health, as follows: Chicken pox, 29; Dog-bite, 102; German measles, 12; Hepatitis infection, 1; Measles, 5; Meningitis streptococcal, 1; Mumps, 3; Salmonella carrier, 2; Scarlet fever, etc., 16; Tuberculosis all forms, 2. Even allowing for the lack of data for the remaining days in December, there is evident a sharp decrease in the incidence of reportable disease for 1963 (173) when compared with that of 1962 (540); the marked decline was due in large part to the reduction in reported cases of measles from 345 to 5. While it may be accepted that there were fewer cases of measles in 1963 than in the previous year, certain relevant factors indicate that the real incidence of this disease was incompletely reported.

CLINICAL PROGRAMS

Influenza vaccine inocculations were offered to all Town employees on October 2 and again on November 6; a total of 101 persons responded.

Of great significance was the successful culmination of efforts directed toward securing an appropriation of funds by the Legislature, as an item in the supplementary budget, to staff a psychiatric team for the purpose of studying and providing care for emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded children in Randolph. The campaign was initiated by Dr. F. Randolf Philbrook, medical member of the Board of Health, who enlisted the wholehearted support of Senator James S. McCormack of Quincy and Representative Ralph W. Cartwright of Randolph. The effort was also supported by and had the endorsement of, local school department authorities.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING

Three Registered Public Health nurses have continued to perform their professional duties concerned with the health and well-being of Town residents; such functions included the following: Home visits - 801 (ante-and post-partum cases - 85); premature births and newborns - 83; pre-school and school - 128; adult - 40; not home or not found - 76; tuberculosis and acute communicable diseases - 376; and, mental health - 13; other visits and services - 1352; (old age and welfare cases - 507; town employees and clergy - 162; Veterans' services - 316; Social Security - 82; social services - 285); miscellaneous conferences, clinics, etc. - 595-1/2 hours.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

The Board of Health members have continued to serve as part of a committee representing the towns of Avon, Canton, Holbrook, Randolph and Stoughton in a study of plans for regional refuse disposal; Mr. Robert A. Corey, chairman of the Randolph Board of Health has acted as Chairman of the Five-Town Committee. The Canton Board of Health, for the proposed host town, has assigned a site for the disposal area intended to be a Sanitary Landfill; in a letter dated November 3, 1963, the Director of the Division of Sanitary Engineering, Massachusetts Department of Public Health congratulated "the five towns involved for the action taken to solve their refuse disposal problems co-operatively and economically." Remaining to be accomplished by each of the five towns are the appropriation and raising of funds necessary to implement the program.

The Randolph refuse disposal area at the southerly end of Johnson Drive began operations as a Sanitary Landfill as of July 1, 1963; frequent inspections by the Board have determined that the procedure is satisfactory and in accordance with accepted principles to the extent of drawing an unsolicited letter of commendation on October 9, 1963 from the Director of the Division of Sanitary Engineering, Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

Public sewerage has been available since August 1, 1962 to residents on Amelian Road, Pond Street and Webster Street.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

On November 20, 1963 information was published that sewerage lines were accessible on Vesey Road, Jones Avenue, and parts of Byron Street, Beverly Circle, and, on December 10, 1963, notice was given that sewer lines on Grove and Canessa streets were available for house connections. Residents are reminded once more that connection of a building to an accessible public sewer system is not one of choice but is mandatory under the General Laws and that there is a severe penalty for non-compliance.

Numerous complaints regarding overflowing cesspool and other alleged nuisances were investigated; in addition to verbal warnings, forty-one abatement notices were mailed. Inspections of local sewage disposal systems were made at an average of about one per day.

PLUMBING INSPECTIONS

Three hundred twenty plumbing permits were issued and included the following: Toilets, 417; sinks, 315; wash-basins, 397; bath tubs, 276; shower baths, 25; wash trays, 108; pressure boilers, 149; electric heaters, 67; refrigerator, 1; washing machines, 86; sewer connections, 18; urinals, 25; drinking fountains, 12; tankless, 36; slop sinks, 8; floor sinks, 45; roof leaders, 20; dish washer, 1; gas water heaters, 17; steam table, 1; and dryer, 1. Total items - 2025.

GAS INSPECTIONS

Two hundred forty-four gas permits were issued covering the following items: Gas ranges, 145; kitchen heater ranges, 20; kitchen range burners, 25; refrigerators, 2; dryers, 40; water heaters, 131; central heaters, 151; hot-water tanks, 44; space heater, 6; floor furnace, 1; cookers, 3; Bunson burners, 2; Friolator, 1; incinerators, 2; and kitchen oven, 1. Total items - 574.

It should be emphasized that Mr. Robert G. Gaynor serves in the dual capacity of Plumbing Inspector and Gas Inspector and, as such, his work-load has increased sharply since 1960; to illustrate, the average number of inspections for 1962-63 (through October 1963) was 599 as contrasted with 192 for 1960-61. Further increases in the work-load are to be anticipated due, in part, to connections of residences to the Randolph sewer system. Additionally, it should be noted that it is frequently necessary to make 3 or 4 inspection visits to the same building site.

INSPECTION OF ANIMALS AND SLAUGHTERING

Activities completed during 1963 included the following: Dogs quarantined - 90; cows quarantined for tuberculosis - 9; all barns in Randolph were inspected anc currently there are 37 cows and 26 horses in the town.

One dog head was sent to the Wasserman Laboratory. Brucellosis and tuberculosis tests were conducted on all cows, including the 9 that were quarantined; there were no reactors.

Three hundred thirty-two calls were investigated; the calls were received from the Board of Health, the Police Department, the Dog Officer, and the Massachusetts Division of Live Stock Disease Control.

There were no cases of encephalitis in horses in Randolph during the year.

MILK INSPECTIONS

Licenses issued during 1963 were as follows: Pasteurization - 1, $10.00; oleomargarine - 28, $14.00; Milk Store - 45, $22.50; Milk vehicle - 16, $8.00; and, Ice Cream manufacture - 2, $10.00. Totals were: Licenses - 92; revenue - $64.50.

FOOD SANITATION

It is anticipated that a new Article of The Sanitary Code, containing sanitary regulations governing food-service establishments, will be issued sometime during the first half of 1964; in view of this, more intensive inspections of such places of business in Randolph may be expected during the early months of the new year.

PERSONNEL CHANGES

The resignation of Mr. John J. Dowd, R.S., as Agent for the Board of Health became effective as of August 17, 1963. On August 16, 1963 Dr. LaVerne A. Barnes, Ph. D., was appointed Health Agent; he was sworn in and assumed office on October 1, 1963. During the interval between August 17, 1963 and October 1, 1963, Mr. Joseph W. Curran served as Health Agent under an interim appointment.

REPORT OF THE SEWER COMMISSIONERS

The Board of Sewer Commissioners are proud to report the successful completion of the 1963 Sewer Program.

The South Watershed - Knights Crescent area has been completely sewered with the installation of over two miles of sewer line. The Vesey Road area has been completely sewered, including, complete street resurfacing.

The new St. Bernadetts Church is now connected to public sewerage. Various streets have been sewered as funds permitted, such as South Harriette St., South Lillian St., Moores Ave., Grove St., Canessa St. and Gloria Road.

The 24" Norroway Trunk Line has been extended and installed to Oak Street.

Approximately 300 private homes are now connected to public sewerage plus various schools, industrial buildings and apartment units. Public facilities are available to an additional 300 homes that are currently connecting to the system.

It is the intention of the Sewer Commissioners to continue the extensions of the system to control pollution in the water shed area. At the same time, as funds are available, we hope to include various street abutting the existing trunk.

Respectfully,

BOARD OF SEWER COMMISSIONERS

REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD

I herewith submit a report of activities and happenings of the Planning Board for the year 1963.

In the annual election of 1963, Mr. George Hoeg was re-elected to serve on the Board for a five year term. Mr. Lawrence DeCelle and Mr. Louis DeCota resigned from the Board because of possible conflict of interest; and at joint meetings of the Board of Selectmen and Planning Board, Mr. F. Gordon Wales and Mr. Robert Daley were elected to fill these vacancies for the remainder of 1963.

1963 also saw the majority of the Planning Board vindicated of four charges of unethical practises brought before the Board of Selectmen by a minority member of the Planning Board.

The following is a breakdown of the activities of the Board during 1963:

Planning Board Meetings held:	34
Public Hearings held
On Proposed Subdivisions:	9
On Zoning Articles:	8
Number of Subdivisions approved:
Number of Plans signed other than Subdivision plans:	106
Number of Site Inspections made:	6
Number of Letters written:	154

Respectfully submitted,

HOWARD E. AREY, Jr.
Chairman - Agent

REPORT OF THE ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

From January to December 1963, the Engineering Department was under the direction of John E. Levreault, Town Engineer, with Charles W. Lehto acting as Assistant Town Engineer. Mr. Roger M. Cevolani and Mr. Marshall W. Perry have ably served as Assistant Field Engineer, and Administrative Assistant respectively.

Throughout the year 1963 the Engineering Department has furnished engineering services including design, layout, supervision and inspection of various projects for other Town Departments as follows:

BOARD OF SELECTMEN

Setting lines and grades for, and the inspection and policing of gravel removal operations, to insure conformance with newly formed regulations set up by the Town Engineer. Approval and stakeout of power pole locations. Approval of underground utility layouts and consulting engineering services in connection with the Randolph Industrial Park, the new industrial development off North Street, and the new shopping center under construction off Memorial Drive. Uniform house numbering under the By-Law of the Town has continued, with approximately 10% of the Town completed.

TOWN TREASURER

Engineering services involving the inspection of tax title property for Town priority before sale to private parties.

BOARD OF ASSESSORS

Consulting engineering services were rendered to representatives of the American Air Survey Company of Pittsburgh throughout their mapping program in preparation of the newly completed Assessors Tax Maps.

WATER DEPARTMENT

Investigations, preliminary surveys and stakeouts of water pipe locations and the preparation of water department plans for submission to State authorities.

PLANNING BOARD

Rendered consulting engineering services including supervision and inspection of subdivision roadway construction, including sidewalks and underground utility installation, to insure substantial conformity with existing rules and regulations of the Randolph Planning Board. Studied and gave recommendations relative to preliminary and definitive plans of proposed subdivisions.

Subdivision roadways completed during 1963 were as follows:

Regina Road, off North Street, for a distance of 450 feet.
Virginia Circle off Highland Avenue for a distance of 1250 feet.
Woodland Parkway Extension off South Main Street for a distance of 400 feet.
Denise Drive off High Street for a distance of 925 feet.
Michael Road off High Street for a distance of 600 feet.

SCHOOL PLANNING AND BUILDING COMMITTEE

Made investigations of, and gave recommendations relative to suitability of proposed school sites. Surveyed and prepared both site and topographical plans of school sites for use by architect's. Prepared land taking plans for use of Town Counsel. Prepared detailed perimeter plans of certain existing school properties for record plans.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

CHAPTER 90 ROADWAY CONSTRUCTION

Worked closely with State D.P.W. officials relative to proposed Chapter 90 roadway construction along Reed and Canton Streets.

CHAPTER 91 STREAM CLEARANCE

Consulted with State D.P.W. waterways engineers during construction of newly completed Mary Lee Brook Channel, between Mill and South Streets. The completion of this work for a distance of about 4500 feet from Mill Street has resulted in a greatly improved channel flow with culverts across roadways of adequate size to serve all expected upstream development.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Made preliminary surveys, prepared plans and specifications, and rendered engineering services including lines and grades, supervision and inspection of sidewalk construction projects as follows:

Bituminous Concrete Sidewalk Construction, including graveling, pavement widening as required, installation of bituminous curbing, and surfacing with two courses of bituminous concrete, loaming and seeding of cut and/or filled shoulders.

South Street -- Northerly side from the vicinity of House No. 200 to the southerly side of Reisner Road, a distance of 250 feet. Work included pavement widening to new curb line to provide a wider traveled way and a paved gutter.
Due to the completion of the Mary Lee Brook project in this vicinity, a separate contract was let to complete the continuity of this sidewalk.

Mill Street -- Westerly side from the vicinity of House No. 265 to the northerly side of Wilmarth Road, a distance of 150 feet. Work included pavement widening to provide a wider traveled way, and a paved gutter. A separate contract was awarded on this street to partially complete the sidewalk area across the Mary Lee Brook. This section of sidewalk will require only the surfacing course to be applied in 1964.

West Street -- Southerly side from the vicinity of House No. 160 to the easterly side of Fowler Street, a distance of 200 feet.

High Street -- Easterly side from the entrance to the North Junior High School to Canton Street, a distance of 1100 feet. This project is about 50% complete, and work will be finished in spring of 1964.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Engineering assistance given to the Highway Department included design, layout, grades and supervision of various roadway and drainage projects detailed under the report of the Highway Surveyor.

BROOK CLEARANCE

A separate contract was awarded to improve the stream channel between the culvert at the railroad tracks off Mill Street, and the existing pond at property of Dr. Runge. This work has been completed, resulting in a greatly improved channel free of debris, and a depth such that rapid runoff from the tributary area has been realized.

On behalf of the Engineering Department, I would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to the townspeople for their assistance in making it possible for the Engineering Department to occupy newly finished quarters in the recently completed Welfare and Veteran's Agent Building. The atmosphere of these new surrounding is such that it will certainly benefit the Town in increased services due to a more efficient operation.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN E. LEVREAULT, P.E.
Town Engineer

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF WATER COMMISSIONERS

The seventy-eighth annual report of the Board of Water Commissioners is hereby submitted, covering activities of the Department for the year ending December 31, 1963.

Organization of the Board:

Norman F. Ayers, Chairman
John F. Brack, Clerk
William J. Almond, Associate

During the calendar year 1963, two hundred and seven (207) applications for new services were received. These have been installed and added to the system.

DEPARTMENT MAINTENANCE

Sixty six (66) service leaks were repaired - twenty five (25) of these were in cellar walls and forty one (41) were on the public way. Sixteen (16) of these services were renewed. Four (4) services were relocated and seven (7) old services were shut off and abandoned. Sixteen (16) services were rodded out and cleaned. There were ten (10) frozen services during the winter which were thawed out electrically. Twenty six (26) services boxes and three (3) gate boxes, found broken were dug up and repaired.

In conjunction with road and sidewalk resurfacing, gate boxes on Cottage Street, Ward Street, School Street, Short Street, Moulton Street, North Street, Vesey Road, Beverly Terrace and Charlotte Lane were raised to new grades.

During the year the Department had twelve (12) hydrants broken by autos. Four (4) of these were hit and run. The rest were paid for through insurance. Five (5) additional hydrants were found to have faulty operation and were repaired. One (1) hydrant was replaced.

METER DEPARTMENT

Two hundred (200) new meters were set on new services and an additional thirty seven (37) were set as replacements. Eighty two (82) meters were removed as not registering, twelve (12) removed to be junked, ten (10) removed for test, thirteen (13) were frozen and burst, twelve (12) on noise complaints and sixteen (16) additional from vacant homes. One hundred seven (107) meters previously removed were reset into service. On January 1, 1964 the system had 5,257 metered and 130 unmetered active services.

REPORT OF BOARD OF PUBLIC WELFARE, 1963

During 1963, in the field of Public Welfare Administration, there were many significant events within and beyond Randolph that only the highlights can be related in this report.

The Great and General Court of Massachusetts passed and Governor Endicott Peabody signed bills that eliminated the "settlement provisions" in the Old Age Assistance laws (Ch. 118A) and in the General Relief laws (Ch. 117) both effective January 1, 1964. This is a progressive step in the right direction, has been long overdue, and will materially decrease voluminous paperwork between cities and towns and the State Welfare Department. In the category of Disability Assistance, Rule 10 was amended revoking the provision that Boards of Public Welfare shall place a lien on real estate owned by the recipients. Of the five categories of Public Welfare in Massachusetts, only one still requires a lien be recorded on real estate-Old Age Assistance.

Effective September 1, 1963 the majority of Public Welfare recipients received a 5.1% Cost of Living increase in their budgets as ordered by the State Department. The exception pertains to those in rest and nursing homes, and the recipients of Medical Assistance for the Aged who do not receive monthly grants. Small increases were also ordered in several budgetary items of the above named recipients. Because of these economic increases, including increased property taxes, and a rise in caseload during the year, welfare costs obviously reflect an upward trend.

As this report is made prior to December, 1963, an accurate twelve month casè load and fiscal report cannot be made. We refer you to the Town Accountant's Report for the fiscal computation for the full calendar year.

On Friday, June 21, 1963 all of our office equipment and supplies were moved from temporary quarters in Trinity Episcopal Church to our new offices in the Welfare-Veterans Services Building, One Turner Lane, Crawford Square. This beautiful, new, colonial architectural building, the only such in the Commonwealth, offers complete privacy to any person having business in these two Departments. Applicants and recipients of public aid, their relatives, and others, are treated with dignity, respect, and with dispatch. To all the Town Officials, voters, and taxpayers, we and the staff gratefully acknowledge your mature judgment in providing this your office building. Commendation must also go to the Welfare-Veterans' Services Building Committee, Messrs. Roland H. Marden, Chairman; Frank J. Leahy, Secretary; John Harold Beagan, and Harold W. Macauley, as well as to the Walter M. Gaffney Associates, Architect. The Engineering Department of Randolph will soon occupy approximately 800 sq. ft. in the basement of this building.

At the Annual Town Election, held April 22, 1963, two members of the Board of Public Welfare - George H. Foley and Henry L. Lowd - were replaced by the election of George F. Cullen and Jack O'Riley in the dual capacity of Selectment. This action is a ruling by Town Counsel, William J. Carr. He also ruled that the Chairman of the Welfare Board, Brig. General Ralph E. MacLeod, shall continue to serve until the Annual Town Election in 1964 when the third member of the Welfare Board shall be elected. We wish to acknowledge faithful and loyal service given by Mr. Foley and Mr. Lowd.

There has been no change of staff members, numbering five.

BRIG. GEN. RALPH E. MacLEOD,
Chairman
GEORGE F. CULLEN, Secretary
JACK O'RILEY, Member

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF VETERANS' SERVICES

Herewith you will find a summary of services and veteran's benefits as administered by this office under The General Laws of Massachusetts, namely Chapter 115 and 584.

The need of this type of service is growing each year. This department administers four categories of veteran's benefits, as set up by law with State Department Rules and Regulations. The State Department of Veterans' Services under the existing laws reimburses the Town of Randolph 50% of all monies expended after a rigid investigation by State Department Field Agent of all cases. All veteran's benefits cases were approved in 1963 by the State Department and the Town of Randolph will receive 50% reimbursement of all monies expended.

DUTIES: As Veterans' Agent he takes applications for Veterans Benefits, under Chapter 115 as amended for those veterans or dependents of veteran that qualify under said Laws. Upon taking an application for Veterans' Benefits the following processing is involved: The actual application interview of applicant at office obtaining vital statistics such as: Discharge papers, birth certificates, death certificates, marriage certificates, wage reports, court records, divorce records, dependency statements and bank letters. This involves writing to remote as well as local towns for this data. The next step is a home investigation by this agent to the home of the veterans and/or applicant to verify the circumstances as accurately given on the application and to better understand the family and home life of recipients. There is no actual method of determining the length of time involved in each new application, each particular case being of a separate category. Upon completion of a satisfied decision by this agent a duplicate application attached to special Form VS21 with full particulars of the case is then submitted to the State Department of Veterans' Services with recommendation to allow or disallow veteran's benefits.

Prior to receiving authorization from the State Department an additional investigation is made by their office to satisfy their 50% participation in this case. When their investigator has stamped his approval on the case the Town of Randolph is then eligible to be reimbursed 50% of benefits authorized by the State Department. The total of all benefits paid each month are entered on a Monthly Return Forms notarized by the Agent and verified by the Town Treasurer, and submitted to the State Department prior to the 10th of the month following the month benefits are paid. If the applicant is employable although temporarily unemployed and eligible for Veterans' Benefits, this office is not satisfied with merely accepting the case and filing it until the applicant notifies the agent that he has returned to work. Every effort is made through local and adjacent employers to return the applicant to gainful employment.

1. As Director of Veterans' Services, it is the duty of the director to service the veteran and his dependents in all phases of Federal and State Laws, that may pertain to his or her benefits. It would be practically impossible to estimate the time spent on each case, as there are not two cases alike, average time in developing each case would be two hours, each service case is active for two months, as it is processed through so many channels before a decision is rendered from the Veterans' Administration. Through the efforts of this office retroactive pay to the veteran and his dependents on disability and pension claims in 1961 amounted to $13,465.00, which is long range economy for the town.

2. Principal Clerk in this department duties require her to have full knowledge of all laws governing this office and to interview, process and develop all types of claims and to supervise all matters pertaining to laws that benefits veterans and his dependents.

Junior Clerk duties require her to type all applications, write for documentary proofs, prepare monthly reports to State Department Veterans Services, also monthly medical, nursing home, hospital bills for payment by town accountant and State Department for authorization.

3. Scope and Effect of Work: Each case for veterans benefits has to be rigidly investigated before requesting recommendation for authorization by the local agent to the State Department of Veterans' Service if case does not qualify according to laws as set up by the Commonwealth, the town would not receive the 50% reimbursement, which would effect the tax rate of the town. All claims under Federal Laws have to be developed thoroughly before they are submitted to the Veterans' Administration for their decision, if not, veteran would receive an infavorable decision, which would effect the economy of the town.

Supervision and Guidance Received: The local agent is responsible for all decisions made, which involve many thousands of dollars of town funds. My cases are reviewed by the State Department of Veterans' Services Field Investigator.

Mental Demands: To negotiate a transfer of mental patients from a State Institution to V.A.N.P. Hospital, and to have a veteran admitted to V.A. Hospital for medical or surgery. Contacting banks who are about to foreclose on veteran's homes, arranging for smaller payments over a period of time, so that they will not lose home through foreclosure. Arranging for employment for the handicapped veteran. Above are daily problems of this department. These problems are worked out by knowing laws pertaining to facts of each case and connections through years of this type of work. Processing and developing claims for War Service Connected Disabilities, Education, Insurance, Dental, Out Patient Treatment, Loans under G.I. Bill for real estate and business. Widow's and Dependent Parent's Pension, Part III Benefits for W.W.I., W.W.II and Korean Wars. To administer above laws and problems, agent has to be trained and qualified to perform these duties. All these duties require the Agent to learn and retain facts and details of the different laws so that they may be administered properly.

Personal Work Contacts: Employers, Probation Officers, Clerk of Courts, Admitting Officers in all V.A. Hospital and private hospitals, local doctors and dentists, heads of all departments at the Veterans' Administration and several State Department, Unemployment Compensation and Social Security Division Local Banks. All these are daily contacts pertaining to processing claims for both veterans benefits and veterans services.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM S. COLE
Director

REPORT OF COUNCIL FOR THE AGING

The Randolph Council for The Aging came into existence by vote of The Town Meeting of May, 1963, 'For the purpose of carrying out programs designed to meet the problems of The Aging, in co-ordination with the work of The Massachusetts Council for The Aging and to promote facilities for the Health, Education, Welfare, and Recreation of The Aging.'

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

On June 17, 1963, the seven appointees of The Board of Selectmen, to which body The Council is responsible, organized and elected officers, as follows: Chairman, Alan H. Taylor; Secretary, Miss Helen M. Haney; Members - Rev. Walter Lyon, Rev. Arthur W. Bowler, Brigadier General Ralph E. MacLeod, Henry L. Bailey, Joseph W. Curran.

The Council immediately started a broad plan for maximum community recognition of "The Older American," in accordance with National and State objectives in the fields of Health, Education, Welfare, and Recreation, and in co-ordination with the programs of local Boards and local organizations.

In "The Local Organizations'" group are "The Senior Citizens-" an association of progressive and civic minded men and women, in the age range of 62 years-and-over, which organization had been actively functioning for several months before the Council was created as a Town Department. "The Senior Citizens" (Association) has many of the same features as The Council, but does not have as wide a scope of work. The Council has administrative, advisory and co-ordinating powers. It services every citizen in the 65-and-over age range. There is excellent co-operation between The Council and "The Senior Citizens." This co-operation was well demonstrated on the occasion of The Council's observance of "Senior Citizens Day, September 15," when a volunteer committee from "The Senior Citizens" compiled lists and directed envelopes to 1135 persons of 65 years-and-over, and otherwise aided The Council in the promotion of this event. "The Seniors" proved, too, that they were most alert to what "Senior Citizens Day" meant in greater recognition of "The Older American" by staging an outstanding celebration during the week of September 15 in the form of a dinner and entertainment, in which the members of The Council, as well as Representatives from many of the Town's Boards participated.

The Council's initial "bow" to the public was a band concert as a feature of "Senior Citizens' Week." It was held on Sunday afternoon, September 22, in the auditorium of The Randolph High School. Here was another example of fine community co-operation. All taking part gave their services, gratis, for the entertainment of The Elderly. And not only "The Older Americans," but "The Younger" as well, enjoyed the oustanding performance of The Randolph Community Band. The Council wishes to go on record as thanking the Conductor of The Band. Robert M. Lacey and the members thereof who sacrificed their rehearsal and Sunday time; Superintendent of Schools Thomas L. Warren, his Staff and Custodians of the School; the Carpenters, who stood ready with their services, if needed, and the Police Department.

The Council has been accorded the courtesy of The Board of Health Building, 19 North Main Street, as its temporary headquarters, where it may keep its files, receive mail, and from which it may distribute Identification Cards to those who may wish to call for them. A representative from The Council will be present at least once a month on announced dates to take signatures for these cards and to explain the use of same. Card records are carefully kept, showing each card number and its owner. Since the first public distribution of these cards, on September 19, 140 citizens in the 65-or-over age range have signed for them. They understand that the cards are not transferable and entitles the holder to special privileges, available to himself, only, and as previously arranged with business houses in his community, as well as with certain recreation and entertainment establishments, both in Town and out of Town.

The Council wishes to thank Frank Brodil and Irving March for their assistance in making possible the printing of a letter to be sent in connection with the honoring of these cards. We too are most appreciative of the hearty approval given The Council's work by Mr. Brodil's letter which we have on file; also, on the many verbal "pats on the back" from others who have "lent a helping hand," prominent among whom are: The Selectmen, who "came to our rescue" with a loan of $50.00 from their expense account, to help us get the Council launched.

The Council is in immediate need of a large number of volunteer workers to serve on various committees, such as - Visiting, Transportation, and Social Centers. Those willing to help may send their names, addresses, and phone numbers, to The Secretary of The Council for The Aging, 19 North Main Street, Board of Health Building.

For its inspiration, The Council has in mind the words of our beloved Late President John F. Kennedy, who said at The White House Conference of May, 1963 - "The heart of our program for The Elderly must be opportunity for, and social service to, Our Older Citizens in their home communities."

For its further stimulus, The Council has the statement of Abraham Ribicoff, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, "The goals we set are not for the dim future, but those which older people, living today, may well expect to see."

The Council's projects in the planning are those in which ALL may happily co-operate. And it is on COMMUNITY CO-OPERATION THAT YOUR COUNCIL CONFIDENTLY ASKS FOR ITS SUCCESS.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE AGENCY

Some progress has been made during the past year in developing the more essential elements within this organization.

The Auxiliary Police working with the regular police, under instruction and direction of Chief Macauley, have performed service during the holidays, at the Fourth of July, Memorial Day, and school functions, as traffic and night patrol activities. During 1963 the Auxiliary Police participated with police of nearby towns on several occasions directing traffic at public functions requiring police protection. A weekly training program is in process for all phases of police duty, which at the moment is considered to be of prime importance.

Emergency planning is a complex all encompassing subject. It includes shelter, warning, emergency organization and training, radiological, monitering, mutual-aid, and many other activities.

Planning for effective executive succession and continuity of management is an important aspect of industrial civil defense preparedness.

With a nucleus of twenty new members an "Under Water Rescue Unit" is being developed within the Randolph Civil Defense Agency. Classes have begun and regular training is conducted at Civil Defense Headquarters.

The re-opening of Area, Section 2-D, Headquarters at Stoughton Town Hall, after a two year closing, will result in closer liaison with all higher echelons within the State, and a resumption of communication, radio activities, each week for the training of communication personnel under the direction of Deputy Director George Foley.

Shelter programs, and Medical Self Help Training classes are in progress, as well as Radiological instruction for training teams in monitoring radiological instruction and radioactive fall-out.

Our 5 KW and 10 KW generators, acquired through surplus property have been mounted on carriages, than when attached to trucks become mobile electrical power units for use in any location. During an electricity power failure in the Town of Braintree last winter our 10 KW generator was effective in restoring electric power during the black-out.

John E. McGerigle of the Randolph Fire Department representing the Town of Randolph completed a 5 weeks course of Radiological monitoring held in Holbrook, graduating with credit to the town. After completing the advanced course in January 1964 he will be eligible to give instructions to the twenty-five members of the Fire Department and qualify all fire department personnel to use the monitoring equipment in case of need during any emergency.

Credit is due the members of the Randolph Civil Defense for their faithfulness in attending classes in instruction in preparation for any emergency, natural or otherwise, for the preservation of life and property in our community.

Total number of miles covered by Police Motorcycles	19,116

*Some arrests and summonses were served for Out of town Police.

Of the 43 cases dismissed for want of Prosecution, the Police were complainants on 6.

Of the 78 cases released, 29 were juvenile and turned over to parents.

The report reveals increase of approximately 5000 more calls this year and many more arrests. This may be expected as the population of Randolph is rapidly increasing and I believe the time has come for the Townspeople to give serious thought and consideration to the articles which will be brought up at the Annual Town Meeting relative to increasing the department by an additional 3 men, plus another police cruiser.

Again I wish to bring to your attention that plans should be made relative to building a new Police Station. Our present one is entirely too small to accommodate the personnel and the business transacted by the department.

In closing I wish to thank the Board of Selectmen, Finance Committee, Town Officials, members of the department and the citizens of Randolph, for their cooperation during the past year.

Sincerely yours,

CARL L. MACAULEY
Chief of Police

REPORT OF THE SAFETY OFFICER

All Hose in Department Pressure Tested

On the 6th of March the Town of Randolph was deeply saddened to hear of the passing of Chief Paul D. Anderson, who so ably served the town and died in the line of duty.

The classroom and practical training of members, permanent and call, has covered various phases of firefighting and subjects of concern for effective operation. The training seminars of the Massachusetts Institute of Fire Department Instructors, and the monthly meetings of this organization, of which the training officer is a member, has contributed considerably to the progress of this department.

To better familiarize the members with the water system and available supplies at various points in town, particularly the business and industrial sections, flow tests have been conducted and charted. The hydrants have been stenciled according to the flow for immediate recognition in time of need. This will help us to determine the number of hose lines available from a particular main or hydrant in case of a major fire.

However, the necessity of broader training facilities should be pointed out. In order to successfully and effectively conduct hose and ladder evolution, a three story training structure is necessary. The increase of industrial and apartment buildings over two stories is responsible for increased training in ladder and hose over ladder work. This can be accomplished only with such a training tower.

At the Annual Town Meeting to be held in March 1964, I am asking for a new truck to replace the present Engine No. 2, and trust that you will give me your support at this meeting.

Also, I am asking for one (1) additional Firefighter. The reduction from fifty-two to forty-eight hours requires this additional man to maintain the operating strength of the department.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the officers and men of this department, the Board of Selectmen and other town officials for their helpful cooperation.

Respectfully submitted,

DONALD S. McNEIL
Fire Chief

REPORT OF THE SIGN INSPECTOR

A total of twenty-five (25) permits were issued for the year, January 1, 1963, through December 31, 1963. Each permit requires an average of three (3) inspections.

A tour of the town is made each week to take visual observation of signs with faulty fastenings and also signs that are erected illegally.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Commencing January 1, 1964, permit renewals for awnings and signs overhanging public property will go into effect. Bonds will be required for the above-mentioned signs in compliance with Section R, paragraphs 2, 3, and 4, and Section S of the Sign Code.

A total of $154.00 was collected for permit fees and was turned over to the Town Treasurer.

Respectfully submitted,

LEONARD L. MOREAU
Sign Inspector

REPORT OF BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

In our report to the Town for 1962 we wrote "The Commission feels that the calendar year 1963 sees Randolph in a position to move forward firmly in the competitive market of attracting new industry". We are happy to report that 1963 was a year of strong growth. Your Business and Industrial Commission's mission for the Town is progressing in dynamic fashion. This progress has been made possible by the cooperation of all the Business Executives and Departments of the Town. We wish to acknowledge with appreciation their generous contribution of time and knowledge which have been of invaluable assistance.

We welcome the completion of construction of Trim Alloys Inc., United Consumers Inc., A.A.A. Metal Products, Inc. The Shopping Plaza is under construction and is expected to be in operation in the spring of 1964. The North Randolph Industrial Park has been opened with the construction of Elliott Business Machines Plant. A. E. Ogan, Inc. is under construction at the Ogan Industrial Park.

We are happy to say that Randolph Manufacturing was able to proceed with its expansion in our town and has also acquired West Coast facilities. In keeping with their policy of close association with the Town, President Robert Cohen has written that "...we are here in Randolph to stay, ..."

We have completed the preparation of our "Fact Package" of the Town and hope to have proofs by Town Meeting time.

In keeping with the expression that "one picture is worth a thousand words", we incorporate into our report the following Report of Business and Industrial Commission

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE TREE WARDEN AND MOTH SUPERINTENDENT

I herewith submit my report as Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent for the year of 1963. The regular program of repairing storm damage trimming and removal of dead and dangerous trees was carried on during the year. As this work is spread over eighty five miles of road, it limits the amount of work to any one street.

1. Tree Planting in the year of 1963.

The restoration of the beauty of our town of Randolph by planting trees, both shade and ornamental, is an important function of our town.

2. Trees Removed for the year of 1963.

During the year 90 trees were removed.

3. Tree Trimming

During 1963 extensive tree trimming was carried out on many streets throughout the town.

4. Safety of town is very important.

The economy of our country and our National Defense is entirely dependent upon the proper functioning of electric and telephone service without interruption. If large limbs or branches are in the way of the wires, or trees are in the way of wires, they should be removed for the safety of both electric and the telephone Company.

5. Education.

The educational side of our work is an important field as the public knows so little about trees and related problems. In the course of a year many hundreds of requests for information relative to trees and tree care, Conservation, insect problems, etc., are answered or advice given where assistance may be had to guide them.

6. Moth Department.

The Moth Dept. liability for gypsy moth control for the coming year is $3,500.

At this time I wish to thank the Board of Selectmen and citizens for their splendid co-operation during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH J. HART
Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent

REPORT OF THE DOG OFFICER

1963 has been a satisfactory year insofar as licensing of dogs has been concerned. An upward trend was shown, but in accordance with the increase in population, it is shown that many more dogs should be licensed.

In 1964 an unprecedented effort will be extended to license all dogs and within a proper time limit. All dogs three months of age and over must be licensed. I am after a complete 100% registration of all dogs.

A decided lack of cooperation has been noted by some parents of school-age children, who persist in allowing dogs to accompany children to school. This practice is a dangerous one as it is feared that some children will eventually be bitten. Please cooperate and keep your dogs away from schools. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

In 1964 delinquent dog owners will be notified once and once only, after which I shall exercise the authority given to me under provisions of the General Laws and assess its penalties. I wish to thank the Town Officials and the Citizens in general for their cooperation during the year 1963.

ROGER L. NILES

REPORT OF THE PERSONNEL BOARD

In the 1962 Town Meeting when the members adopted a revised Personnel By-Law, job classification and compensation plans, the Town Meeting Members have accepted all articles recommended by the Personnel Board in 1962 and 1963.

The Board has set up working relationships with various departments and department heads, requesting reports required on attendance, sick leave, personal history and fringe benefits. We can boast of almost 100% cooperation from the various departments and a good word can be said for the newly appointed Clerk of the Personnel Board who weekly keeps all records up-to-date.

The Board sought and received information from comparable cities and towns on wages, hours, fringe benefits and working conditions during the year. The Board also received information from State and Federal agencies on cost of living increases, wage settlements in private industries and local government. As a result of all the information compiled from various sources, the Board will make its recommendations to the Annual Town Meeting relating to wage schedules and working hours.

The Board held regular meetings on the third Thursday of each month, and conducted special meetings at other times at the request of town employees and departments who could not conveniently attend the regular scheduled meetings, on such matters as job classification, job descriptions, working hours, sick leave, and wage rates.

The Board wishes to thank those citizens who verbally or wrote expressing their approval, and to all who cooperated with us during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

RANDOLPH PERSONNEL BOARD

MARJORIE CONLEY, Secretary

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REGISTRARS

The Board of Registrars submits its annual report for the year 1963. During the past year 300 new voters were registered, the total number of registered voters now being 9757, which includes the following:

Precinct # 1	2206
Precinct # 2	2610
Precinct # 3	2440
Precinct # 4	2501

The Registrars have street listed 12,885 people and have on file, cards with names, addresses and occupations of the same. Alphabetical list of these people are also on file. Persons listed books were also printed with this information. Also listed were 1755 dogs, these being turned over to the dog officer.

Since the last street listing, the Town has many new streets with 158 single new homes added, 37 duplex dwellings, Reed Street apartments with 88 units completed, and Christopher Park with 60 units completed for 1963.

The street listing which has been done in the past by the three Registrars, will be changed as of 1964, and the system reconstructed because of the tremendous increase of population over the past few years. It is no longer possible for three people to street list and complete it, within a reasonable length of time.

Respectfully submitted,

ETHEL McDONALD, Chairman
KATHERINE M. SMITH
